Milwaukee Flour Millers Insist They Can't Prosper Without Protection.

Elected by Marriage to Bryan, Berger Denounces the Commoner's Policy.

Underwood, Opening Debate in House, Promises Great Business Boom.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MILWAUKEE, April 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Uncertainty of the milling business under the revised tariff of the Democratic administration has caused the Berger-Herman Milling Company, headed by Alexander Berger, whose daughter married William Jennings Bryan, to retire from business.

Henry Berger, treasurer of the company, said that the uncertainty of the milling business under the revised tariff contemplated by the Democrats of the national capital had caused the firm to halt plans for the construction of a mill to replace one which was destroyed by fire.

Mr. Berger said the milling industry of the country would be seriously ruined by the contemplated reduction of the tariff on flour and the retention of the tariff on wheat, which would bar United States millers from selling flour out of imported wheat on which to compete with the flour mills free of duty.

HEAT WAVE IN CHICAGO.

Snowstorm in Oklahoma and the Panhandle of Texas.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With one exception today was the hottest April 23 in the history of Chicago Government Weather Bureau. Back in 1886 the records show April 23 equalled today's high mark, 79 deg. The forecast is for decidedly cooler tomorrow. A dispatch from Oklahoma City tonight stated that one of the worst snowstorms of the season is prevailing in Amarillo and throughout the Panhandle of Texas and Oklahoma. Following a rain averaging approximately two inches, the snow began to fall early in the afternoon and flakes were larger and thicker than any during the past winter, driven by a heavy wind from the north.

TITANIC COOK SUBDUED.

But a Small Army of San Francisco's Finest Was Required to Handle the Heavyweight.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The titanic proportions of one, Rudolph Mayer, a cook, brought a small army of policemen to the verge of exhaustion early this morning, when they arrested the cook on the water front.

Mayer, who weighs 450 pounds, was picked up in a helpless condition by Patrolman T. F. Slattery in Washington street this morning. It required the combined efforts of six policemen and the driver to get the bulky captive into the patrol wagon.

After an arduous trip to the Central Station, Mayer was pushed, shoved, pulled and carried to the elevator, where fresh difficulties arose when it was discovered that his massive form was too large for the elevator door. By skillful maneuvering the exhausted officers finally wedged him in sidewise and got him to the top floor, where the cells are located.

Mayer was released when, much to the relief of all concerned, he was sober enough to attend to his own locomotion.

Alien Bill Is Wrong, They Agree.

Overwhelming Sentiment Against Measures Pending in Sacramento.

Convention of the Publishers in New York Is Sounded on the Issue.

"If Passed, California Must Take the Consequences," Is Their Formula.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] More than 100 representative newspaper editors and publishers, who are in New York to attend the meetings of the American Newspaper Publishers Association and of the Associated Press, were today asked to give some expression of opinion in the California situation.

Many declined to discuss the matter at all for publication, declaring that it was too grave a question at this juncture. A few were vigorous in their support of California, declaring that State entirely within its right in its determination to check what they termed "the Japanese invasion." The general sentiment of the editors and publishers, however, is overwhelmingly against California in the present crisis.

OVERDOING STATE'S RIGHTS.

Some of the most eloquent adherents of the doctrine of "State's rights" declared that it was overdoing the matter when the exercise of such rights involved national complications or threatened invasions of the country's treaty obligations. Others were for the State first, last and all the time.

Following are the views expressed:

TAKE THE CONSEQUENCES.

Edgar B. Piper, Portland Oregonian:

"If California wants to make such a law as she now proposes she should be forced to take the consequences. We are continually hearing from California that this is her business and that the government has no right to interfere. Well, let it remain her business and when the results begin to come in, let her face them alone. That is all I have to say."

CALLS IT UNWISE.

Harry Chandler, Los Angeles Times:

"This anti-alien land bill which California proposes to put through is an unwise and uncalled for measure. I cannot believe it will pass. Surely there are enough sane people left in the State to prevent it. There are not enough Japanese in the entire State at the present time to seriously menace the interests of Californians. There are not enough Japanese land owners there to make any difference. The best people of the State are averse to the proposed bill because it is distinctly class legislation, always repulsive to fair-minded Americans. Japan is known to be ready for war and is suspected of being anxious for it with us. No excuse should be given to precipitate a conflict."

CALIFORNIA IS WRONG.

Scott C. Bone, Seattle Post Intelligencer:

"I think California is wrong in that her legislation against alien ownership is aimed against the Japanese alone. We had the same bill in Washington recently and the Secretary of State, Mr. Knox, requested us to modify it so that there would be no discrimination against the Japanese. This we did. Japanese interests along the Pacific Coast and especially in California are very large but I fail to see wherein they are a menace to any of our institutions. The Japanese are a very sensitive people and they are liable to get excited but I do not believe that there is any real danger of war. If we suffer at all from the action of California, I believe it will be in a trade way."

VIOLATES THE TREATY.

C. W. Knapp, the St. Louis Republic:

"I think the kind of a law which Gov. Johnson and the Senate proposes to adopt which would prohibit the ownership of land by an alien not admissible to citizenship is an obvious evasion of the real point, that California is trying to discriminate against Japanese, and probably one that will be found to violate the treaty this country has with Japan. The only law which public sentiment outside of California is likely to approve is one which would affect all aliens alike."

CONFIDENCE IN WILSON.

Henry M. Pindell, the Peoria (Ill.) Evening Journal:

"I have great confidence in the ability of President Wilson, not only to handle the situation with justice, but with the courage necessary to deal with the entire questions for the interests both of California and the Japanese. War is not to be thought of, and I cannot see how it would be possible. The California Legislature ought not to enact a law which would destroy the letter or the spirit of any treaty into which the United States has entered with a foreign country."

TREATY IS AHEAD.

William F. Wiley, the Cincinnati Enquirer:

"It seems obvious to me that the rights of Federal treaty go in advance of any State legislation, no matter what the subject of it may be. If California has the right to legislate

PORTOLANS OFFER PRIZE FOR POSTER GIRL MODEL.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Southern California has achieved new honors. It has produced a crop of beauties to make any other section of the country turn as green with envy as Southern California's hills.

Southern California, of course, knew it had all these girls, but not in a long time have they been collected—or their photographs, to be proper and correct. They are still being tabulated for purposes of comparison, and the most beautiful of them all, the most beautiful girl in the whole State, will be given a prize of $100.

This prize is offered by the Portola Festival Committee of San Francisco, which wants the prettiest girl in all California to be the poster-girl model for the big fete to be given October 22 to 25 in commemoration of the 400th anniversary of the discovery of the Pacific Ocean by Vasco Nunez de Balboa. The contest closes April 30. It is being conducted at the Portola headquarters, No. 153 Kearny stret, San Francisco.

All parts of the State are competing, but Southern California, in number and quality of beauty, to say nothing of diversity of type, has taken a leading place. One of the most attractive photographs entered in the contest is that of Miss Hazel Thorne of No. 3901 Ingraham street, Los Angeles.

Col. Watrous Praises Wilson for His Efforts to Defeat Anti-Alien Legislation Even Though It Means Abandonment of Lifelong Adherence to Doctrine of State's Rights.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MILWAUKEE, April 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In an address before the South Side Men's Club, Col. J. A. Watrous, U.S.A., retired, after speaking of Perry's victory and other achievements of the War of 1812, and urging the propriety of celebrating the anniversary, expressed the hope that there would be no more wars for our country.

"But," said he, "if the California Legislature does not heed the appeal made by President Wilson to abstain from the enactment of a law which would arouse the anger and make a bitter enemy of Japan, we may be forced into a war which it would take years to settle; one that would cost billions of treasure, many thousands of lives, and maim for life tens of thousands.

"In persuading California to abandon her determination to enact the dangerous law, President Wilson turns his back upon one of his life-long principles—'State's rights'—but if he succeeds in sidetracking the hazardous legislation and thus saves the nation from a war with that ambitious and powerful people, he will deserve the thanks of all classes in the republic and their prayers as well."

Col. Watrous, as paymaster after the Philippine rebellion, was stationed at the Presidio and Portland, Or.

April 23.—As a sequel to the seizure of cattle from the ranches of Mascarenas, Briangas and Morales by the Constitutionalists of Sonora in default of taking up their apportionment of the State bond issue, the great Veldosola ranch, near Cumpas, was seized today and 500 head of cattle were taken to the market. The order for the seizure came from Gov. Pesquiera at Hermosillo.

Congressman Declares if Tariff on Dynamite Is Cut United States Will Have to Go to Foreign Nations for War Material—McArthur Is Offered Job.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 23.—[Special Dispatch. Secretary Redfield has offered the post of Commissioner of Shipping at San Francisco to Walter McArthur and a reply is expected from him soon as to whether he will accept or not.

Representative Curry made his maiden speech in the House today, on protection. It was an unusual compliment to a new member to permit him to speak on the first day of the tariff debate.

Curry devoted his attention largely to the labor phases of the question, beet sugar and olive oil. He declared that without adequate measure of protection the beet sugar industry could not continue. He analyzed the olive oil business and showed that reduction of the tariff on olive products, as proposed in the pending bill, will prevent further planting and make the present orchards unprofitable. Curry also referred to the manufacture of dynamite blasting caps at Stege Station.

The reduction of the tariff from $2.25 per thousand to 70 cents per thousand will put this company out of business, he said. There are only three of these factories in the United States, and if they are put out of business, the United States will have to depend on foreign nations for this war material.

Lawmakers to Cover Their Confusion Make Defiant Reply to Request of Nation's Executive for Delay, but Tacitly Sidetrack Measure for Purpose of Amendment—Democratic Leaders Denounce Progressives.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, April 23.—Definite word from Secretary of State Bryan that he would arrive in Sacramento next Monday afternoon reached here tonight, and it was announced immediately that all further action on the proposed alien land legislation would be deferred until he should have opportunity to present the views of the Federal administration on the subject.

It was stated by leaders of the legislative majority that there was no disposition to act hastily in the matter and that all were agreed it would be the part of courtesy to President Wilson and his Cabinet to await Secretary Bryan's coming before bringing the land bills out on the floor of the Senate.

Meanwhile new amendments to the Thompson-Birdsall bill, representing the views of the State administration, are being prepared by Senator Thompson, but they will not be made public until Secretary Bryan has viewed them. This course had the approval of the majority of the Senate, according to official announcement.

Gov. Johnson telegraphed Secretary Bryan early this evening asking him to be a guest at the executive mansion during his stay in Sacramento. The following reply was received at 9:30 o'clock tonight:

"Hon. Hiram W. Johnson,
"Sacramento, Cal.

"Your kind invitation received and appreciated. It will give me pleasure to be your guest. Please convey to the Legislature my thanks for the resolutions adopted. Will leave Washington via Pennsylvania, 6:40 o'clock Thursday evening. Leave Chicago via Northwestern Railroad, 8:30 o'clock Friday evening, and arrive at Sacramento, 4:45 o'clock Monday afternoon.

THROW DOWN GAUNTLET TO WILSON AND BRYAN.

Saucy Reply by Progressive Majority of Legislature to President's Courteous Request for Delay in Anti-Alien Legislation Until Secretary of State Bryan Can Reach Sacramento—Democrats Turn Somersault.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, April 23.—Until news came from Washington tonight that Secretary Bryan of the State Department would start for Sacramento tomorrow as the personal representative of President Wilson to discuss the alien land bills pending before the California Legislature, considerable doubt was felt here that the President's plan to send Mr. Bryan would be carried out. Several legislators so expressed themselves, saying they believed the President might change his attitude when messages to Washington from the Legislature regarding Mr. Bryan's visit were received there. These messages, they pointed out, contained two reservations which might influence action in Washington.

The first of these is the frank declaration in the resolutions adopted by the Senate and Assembly that California "respectfully maintains the right of the Legislature of the State to legislate on the subject of land ownership within the State." In other words, the Progressive Republican leaders here have decided to stand squarely on President Wilson's previously guarantee of their right to act.

The second reservation is negative and lies in the fact that no assurance is given in the telegrams from the Legislature, nor in the personal message sent by Gov. Johnson, that action will be deferred until Mr. Bryan's arrival, as requested by President Wilson.

Administration leaders here evaded the point on direct questioning.

"Postponement until Mr. Bryan comes might depend upon when he expects to arrive," said one Senator. "Our telegram certainly did not imply any promise to defer action, and I do not know what will be done."

The Thompson-Birdsall bill, which it is proposed to amend to conform to the ideas of the majority party, cannot possibly be ready for a final vote until next Monday, which would give Secretary Bryan ample time to reach Sacramento. The bill may come up for amendment tomorrow, and if the present plans of the majority leaders are carried out, a new measure drawn substantially along the lines suggested in Gov. Johnson's telegram of last night to the President, restricting only aliens who are ineligibel to citizenship, will be offered and adopted.

It is admitted, however, that this programme may be changed upon receipt of word from Washington that Secretary Bryan is coming immediately.

PROGRESSIVES STUBBORN.

All statements, interviews and public utterances made today by members of the majority party hold alike to the same policy, namely, that the California Legislature has full authority under the constitutions of the State and nation to enact any alien land law that it deems to be not in violation of the existing treaties or the constitutional guarantees that protect certain rights of all foreigners, regardless of race or nationality.

Under this interpretation of powers, Gov. Johnson and his lieutenants in the Legislature previously agreed upon a bill that would draw the line upon aliens who are "ineligible to citizenship," and the declaration is made that this purpose remains unchanged.

Such wording has been protested by the Japanese as particularly offensive, according to dispatches from Tokio, and is not favored by President Wilson, as shown by his telegrams and those of Secretary Bryan.

The refusal of the majority to recede from its position called forth a sharp partisan debate in both houses today, which ended in the defeat of the Democrats, when the resolutions

EXPLOSION KILLS HUNDRED IN PENNSYLVANIA MINE.

Ignition of Gas Snuffs Out Lives of Employees and Business of Town of Finleyville Is Practically Suspended—Rescuers Are Working Frantically to Open Up Chamber Where Others May Be Imprisoned.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PITTSBURGH, April 23.—The lives of 100 miners, possibly 120, were snuffed out shortly after noon today when a disastrous gas explosion occurred in the Cincinnati mine of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company at Finleyville, about twenty-seven miles southeast of this city. Over three score workmen in the mine escaped to the surface, crawling most of the way on their hands and knees through deadly gas fumes and over debris. A number sustained burns.

Up to 11 o'clock tonight seventy bodies of victims had been recovered. The bodies were located by rescuing squads of the United States Bureau of Mines, the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company, and of the Pittsburgh Coal Company.

ACTIVE RESCUE WORK.

As the rescuers found a body it was carried to the entries. None of the bodies, however, were brought to the open.

It is stated the victims will be taken from the mine at daylight tomorrow and shipped at once to Monongahela City, where they are to be prepared for burial.

Rescue work is being hampered by afterdamp. Fire which followed the explosion has been completely subdued, it is said.

The coal company maintains a rescue corps. Aid from the Federal mining experts, it is said, was declined by the coal company.

FOREIGNERS ESCAPE.

Several hours after the explosion, seven foreign miners crawled from one of the entrances of the mine. All were seriously burned. They could give no connected account of the conditions in the mine or their individual experiences.

They all said that the "mine was full of dead people."

Business in Finleyville is suspended and practicaly the entire community has rushed to the ill-fated mine.

A guard has been placed at the pit's mouth and all persons except rescuers and mine officials were held at a distance.

WILSON PLAYS TRUMP CARD.

Bryan to Invade California to Halt Alien Bill.

Premier to Go to Sacramento to Counsel Lawmakers.

Ambassador Chinda Denies Published Interviews.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 23.—President Wilson today telegraphed Gov. Johnson of California asking him whether the anti-alien legislation could be held up until Secretary of State Bryan could go to California personally to explain the position of the Federal government and urge an adjustment of the controversy.

The President's telegram was in response to Gov. Johnson's message of yesterday that California desired to co-operate with the Federal government to avoid international difficulties. It was as follows:

"Gov. Hiram Johnson,

"Sacramento, Cal.

"Thank you for your patriotic telegram. We find it so difficult from this distance to understand fully the situation with regard to the sentiments and circumstances lying back of the pending proposition concerning the ownership of land in the State, that I venture to inquire whether it would be agreeable to you and the Legislature to have the Secretary of State visit Sacramento for the purpose of counselling with you and the members of the Legislature and co-operating with you and them in the framing of a law which would meet the views of the people of the State, and yet leave untouched the international obligations of the United States.

"WOODROW WILSON."

The same telegram was duplicated to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the Assembly.

At the White House, it was felt that conflicting advices over the situation, made it practically necessary for a representative of the administration to explain the government's exact position in person. There was no feeling, officials said, that the suggestion would not be welcomed, because Gov. Johnson's telegram of yesterday was regarded as expressing a desire for the fullest co-operation between the State and the Federal government.

Representative Kettner, Democrat, of California, brought the President some telegrams indicating that while there was a strong sentiment to drop the legislation entirely on account of the approaching exposition and the opening of the Panama Canal, there was nevertheless also a formidable movement to put through so-called discriminating legislation at this session.

News of the President's suggestion to send Secretary Bryan soon spread throughout diplomatic circles. The opinion was freely expressed that the President's course would be satisfactory. It is understood that the Japanese Ambassador has made no final report since a week ago when he entered protest against the legislation and the attitude of the Washington administration is regarded with satisfaction.

At the Japanese Embassy today it was stated on behalf of Ambassador Chinda that nothing could be said until the final form of the proposed California legislation had been developed, and all reports quoting the Ambassador or Embassy officials to any other effect were denounced as untrue.

Later, and in view of various published reports, this formal statement was issued at the Japanese Embassy:

"No visit has been made by the Ambassador to the White House this week, nor has he ever hinted to anybody at such an alarming outcome of the situation as a possible war between the two countries. In fact, such a contingency has not been discussed in any phase, so that it is equally erroneous to say that the Japanese Ambassador has declared that no war will follow. In fact, he, as well as his government, confidently relies upon the sympathetic attitude of the American administration and the high sense of justice and fairness of the American people to prevent legislation adverse to the Japanese.

"In view of the gravity of these reports and of their possible mischief, the Embassy authorizes the strongest possible contradiction of such statements."

CANADA'S ARRANGEMENT.

Approves British Treaty With Japan But Reserves Right to Restrict Immigration as It Sees Fit.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OTTAWA (Ont.) April 22.—Under the commercial treaty between Great Britain and Japan, negotiated in 1904 and approved by Canada in 1905, Japanese subjects resident in Canada had the same rights as British subjects. In view of the protests from British Columbia, followed by riots against the Japanese, the Canadian government sent Rodolphe Lemieux, the Postmaster-General, to Japan to negotiate an agreement to limit Japanese immigration into Canada. The Japanese government agreed to restrict the number of its subjects coming to Canada to certain classes and fixed the number at a few hundred yearly.

A new trade treaty between Great Britain and Japan was negotiated in 1911. The Japanese were given the same treaty rights in the various British dominions as in the previous treaty, subject to the approval of the dominions. The Canadian Parliament a few weeks ago approved the treaty, but specially reserved Canada's right to enact such legislation on immigration as would seem necessary in the interests of Canada. Premier Borden announced, however, that the intention of the government was to abide by the arrangement already in force whereby Japan restricted its immigration to Canada, as the Japanese government had observed this agreement faithfully.

JOHNSON'S DECISION UNPOPULAR IN TOKIO.

Delegates of forty-five Chambers of Commerce have decided to send a cablegram to Gov. Johnson directly on this subject.

GRANT'S GRANDDAUGHTER TO WED NAVAL OFFICER.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Miss Nell Grant, granddaughter of President Ulysses S. Grant, and daughter of Mrs. Jesse Root Grant of this city, has announced her engagement to Lieutenant-Commander William Piggott Cronan, U.S.N., at present stationed at Norfolk, Va., where he is in command of the torpedo destroyer Jewett.

Thus in the third generation the name of Grant, with all its tradition and its allegiance to Mars, will transfer its glory to Neptune. The wedding will take place about the middle of next month in this city. Mrs. Grant and her daughter have made their home at No. 3701 Washington street for the last year. They came here from San Diego, where the father of the bride-elect formerly had extensive business interests.

Miss Grant is the daughter of Jesse Root Grant, a son of Gen. Ulysses S. Grant, and is a niece of U. S. Grant, Jr. Her mother's family, the Chapmans, were closely identified with the early history of California, having been pioneer landholders of the San Joaquin Valley.

Jesse Root Grant, father of the bride-elect, is a mining man whose business takes him out of California more than half the time. He is now traveling in the East, but will arrive here about the middle of May with Lieutenant-Commander Cronan.

Lieutenant Cronan announced his engagement to Miss Grant in New York Tuesday at a luncheon given at his club.

relating to Secretary Bryan's projected visit were under discussion.

Democratic leaders, who have been declaring each session for the past six years that the State had full power to enact the kind of alien land law it desired, objected to the phrase in the telegrams to President Wilson in which the Legislature laid specific claim to its right. They charged that it was unnecessary, and in bitter language denounced the Progressives for "playing politics" at a critical time.

Senator Boynton, who defended the resolution in the upper house, denied that the phrase was included for any reason other than to notify President Wilson of the policy of the majority. In reply to Senator Campbell, who asked why the Democrats had not been called into the conference where the telegram was drafted, Boynton said that not the minority, but the majority party, would be held responsible for a courteous reply to President Wilson's message.

Eight Democratic Senators finally voted for the resolution in its original form, after trying in vain to amend it.

It was asserted by Senator Boynton on the floor of the Senate that the Governor had no part in drafting the telegrams sent by the two houses of the Legislature.

Senator Caminetti gave out a formal statement this afternoon, charging the State administration leaders with being insincere in their attitude towards the alien land law and accusing them of using the opportunity to make political capital.

The statement declares that many of the Progressive majority in the Legislature "are really opposed to any law of this kind, and that at one time, with very few exceptions, all of them were opposed to any action on this question."

Continuing, the statement says, this situation obtained until President Wilson sent his first telegram.

"Then," it continues, "these leaders at once changed front so as to produce a condition politically in this State that would seem to put the President in the same category that the people of California had heretofore placed Roosevelt and Taft with their big sticks, forgetting all the time that the two former Presidents did not concede to us the right to legislate as a State, but practically denied it, and one of them threatened even to send the army and navy to coerce us."

Attorney-General Will Wait Until July the First for Union Pacific to Let Go of Espee.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 23.—The Supreme Court will be petitioned by attorneys for the Union Pacific Railroad Company tomorrow to extend the time limit for dissolving the Union Pacific-Southern Pacific merger until July 1, or such time as is necessary, to evolve a satisfactory plan of disintegration. Atty.-Gen. McReynolds will agree to an extension until July 1, but will oppose the request for an indefinite extension.

To grant the motion, the Supreme Court must recall and amend its mandate now in the hands of the lower court, ordering the dissolution by May 10.

WILSON SENDS BRYAN TO HEAD OFF BILLS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 23.—After an hour's conference at the White House tonight President Wilson directed Secretary of State Bryan to proceed at once to Sacramento to co-operate with Gov. Johnson and the members of the California Legislature in framing a law regarding the ownership of land by aliens that would not conflict with the treaty obligations of the United States, particularly with Japan. Mr. Bryan will leave here at 6:45 p.m. tomorrow, and arrive in Sacramento at 4:45 p.m. next Monday.

WHAT BRYAN HOPES TO DO.

"I am going in the hope that we may be able to find the best solution of the difficulty," said Secretary Bryan tonight. "I feel sure that they in California will enter upon the work with the same spirit of co-operation as the President and I do."

Earlier in the day the President telegraphed Gov. Johnson and the presiding officers of the two branches of the California Legislature that it was difficult to handle the situation by telegraph, and asked if it would be agreeable to have the Secretary of State confer in person with the California authorities. Both houses and the Governor promptly replied that the proposal was agreeable to them.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION.

The resolutions adopted by the Senate and House were identical and that of the latter as received at the White House read:

"While this Assembly respectfully maintains the right of the Legislature of California to legislate on the subject of land ownership, it will be entirely agreeable to this Assembly to have the Secretary of State of the United States visit Sacramento for the purpose indicated in the President's telegram."

JOHNSON'S MESSAGE.

Gov. Johnson's message to the President was as follows:

"I shall be pleased at all times to consult with the Secretary of State, and it will be entirely agreeable to me to have the Secretary visit Sacramento as suggested in your telegram."

Mr. Bryan also received a personal message inviting him to be the guest of the Governor and Mrs. Johnson, which he accepted tonight. He will be accompanied only by Robert Rose, for many years his confidential secretary. In his absence, John Barrett Moore, counsellor for the department, will be acting Secretary of State.

Mr. Moore, who assumed his new duties today, was present in a conference between Mr. Bryan and Viscount Chinda, the Japanese Ambassador. The latter learned officially of the efforts of the President and the national administration to prevent any discriminations against the Japanese through the alien land legislation and expressed himself pleased with the attitude of the United States government.

House Instructs Committee to Draft Amendment.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) April 23.—The discovery that Arizona has had for a year an anti-alien land ownership statute, which prohibits all who are not citizens from owning land has brought forth a vigorous protest from wealthy Mexicans who have their residences on the American side of the border, but have never declared their intention to become citizens. The matter was brought up in the State Legislature today, and those who favored the rigid enforcement of the law were outnumbered by members who want the statute amended so as to exempt foreigners who already have established property rights.

The Judiciary Committee of the House was instructed to draft amendments to the present law. When these amendments are presented, the same difficulty that now confronts California will face the lawmakers of Arizona, as the consensus of opinion among the legislators is that aliens who are not eligible to citizenship—the Japanese and Chinese—should not be permitted to own land.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A pretty kettle of fish has been stirred up by Secretary of State Bryan's action in putting into practice his prohibition principles.

American diplomats are concerned over what the attitude of the Secretary will be in approving their expense accounts for dinners on extraordinary occasions. For instance, it will be necessary for the United States to send a special envoy to the coronation of the Emperor of Japan. This representative will be treated with the striking hospitality of which the Japanese are famous. He must give at least one official dinner in return. Probably he will feel it incumbent to serve wine. Will the Secretary of State approve the voucher for the liquor?

The embarrassment which such an act might cause the Secretary can be avoided by concealing the wine bill in the food bill. Or, again, the envoy may decide to pay for the liquors out of his own pockets. But if Mr. Bryan were forced to pass on the matter his decision would be of direct personal interest to every member of the diplomatic corps.

There is reason to believe Mr. Bryan does not intend to compel others to adopt his attitude. He not only does not drink himself, but he preaches against the use of liquor in any form and he does not propose to place himself in a hypocritical position by serving intoxicants at his own table.

Bell believes that the legislation should be put through, but he would deprecate anything that would unnecessarily reflect on the Japanese or tend to cause friction.

WIDE DIVERGENCE OF OPINION ON HIS PEACE PROPOSALS.

Submission of National Honor to International Court of Inquiry Arouses Opposition, but Foreign Relations Committee Favors Limitations of Armaments.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 23.—Secretary Bryan's preliminary outline of his proposed international agreement for peace, which he laid today before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, developed wide differences of opinion.

Nevertheless, it was understood that with the indorsement of President Wilson, the Secretary of State soon would undertake to open negotiations with leading powers, for such treaties as his proposal contemplates.

Briefly, Secretary Bryan's plan, as he outlined it, is that the United States should make treaties under which disputes, even those involving the "national honor or vital interests," would be submitted to an international board of inquiry and that the disputing countries should agree to take no steps whatever toward preparation for war within a specified time, of six months or a year.

One argument advanced against Secretary Bryan's plan in the committee meeting today was that the United States, if it had such a treaty, as he proposed with one power, would be prevented from making preparations to meet the attack of another with which it might have no treaty.

Some Senators insisted the United States could not afford to submit any questions of national honor or vital interest to a joint commission of investigation or to refrain for any stated time from making preparations to defend itself. The majority of the committee expressed general approval, however, of the idea of making some form of agreements with other countries for the greater development of peaceful relations.

INTERNATIONAL ARBITRATION.

The basic idea of a proposed system of treaties as Secretary Bryan outlined it to the committee today is that all international disputes be submitted first to a commission of inquiry, and that the report of the commission be made public before the countries would be at liberty to proceed to war.

The result of today's conference, it was said, assures a favorable reception to any international treaties that may be negotiated by the President and Secretary looking toward the limitation of armaments and investigation of all disputes by international commissions of inquiry.

Secretary Bryan, acting directly at the instance of President Wilson, also indorsed the plan before the committee for the purchase of embassy buildings abroad for American diplomats, and to rent accommodations until permanent homes could be acquired.

Accept Proposed Visit of Bryan With Bad Grace.

BY LOU GUERNSEY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, April 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Anti-alien land legislation took a new turn today. Both Senate and Assembly received duplicate telegrams of the one sent the Governor from President Wilson, asking whether the good offices of Secretary Bryan in framing an anti-alien land bill would be acceptable to California.

After a consultation of "Progressive leaders," it was decided to accept Secretary Bryan's assistance in the form of a resolution to be adopted by each House acting independent of the other. Such resolution was introduced in each House and adopted after considerable discussion.

After repeating the telegram from the President, the resolution, which with the exception of designating each house was identically worded, reads as follows:

"Resolved, by the Senate of the State of California, that while this Senate respectfully maintains the right of the Legislature of the State of California to legislate on the subject of land ownership within the State, it will be entirely agreeable to the Senate to have the Secretary of State of the United States visit Sacramento for the purpose indicated in the President's telegram, and be it further

"Resolved, that in view of the probable early adjournment of the Legislature, the secretary of the Senate be and he is hereby instructed to transmit forthwith these resolutions by telegraph to the President."

FIGHT OVER STATE RIGHTS.

In both houses, opposition was offered to the resolution on the ground that the question of State rights had been unnecessarily incorporated in it. The Democrats insisted that the issue of State rights should not be raised. The Republicans in the main were as insistent that no offense could be given either President Wilson or Secretary Bryan by reference to State rights.

In the Assembly, the issue was met and promptly decided. Amendments to eliminate references to State rights were defeated. The resolution was then adopted, only eleven members, all Democrats, voting against it.

SENATE FOLLOWS SUIT.

The Senate followed the action of the Assembly. Amendments to eliminate reference to State rights from the resolution were defeated, and the resolution as originally introduced adopted. Senator Wright, Republican, leading the fight for the Democrats. When the resolution came up for action, he stated his disapproval of the wording of the resolution. He insisted that the State has the right to pass anti-alien land laws, but held that the State can take no action in violation of treaty obligations. He accordingly regarded the reference to the State's rights as unnecessary. He moved to strike from the resolution all references to State rights.

Senator Campbell seconded Wright's motion. Wright, in speaking to his amendment, held that it was unjust to inject into the resolution the issue of State rights.

Senator Caminetti opposed the adoption of Wright's amendments. He held that the resolution as introduced by Boynton was properly worded. He would have the proceeding conducted, so far as the State is concerned, "under the constitutional rights thereof," and suggested such amendment to the Boynton resolution. He wanted it distinctly understood that in receiving Bryan's assistance, the State forfeited no rights.

Senator Shannahan urged the adoption of Wright's amendment. He pointed out that no reference is made in the President's telegram to the right of the State to legislate on this question.

Senator Gates stated that a matter of the gravest moment confronts the government. The State's right to legislate as it sees fit, on the matter pending, Gates insisted, is the corner-stone of democracy. The Senate, he said, is endeavoring to answer respectfully, accepting the suggestion that has been extended to have Secretary Bryan come to California. The Senate wants Secretary Bryan to come and no disrespect is intended in the answer. It is merely a statement of what the people of California stand for.

Senator Thompson of Alhambra took the position that it befits the Legislature to pay respectful attention to President Wilson's request, notwithstanding California clings to the right to pass an anti-alien land bill in an hour. He submitted that the reply to the President's message is couched in deferential and respectful language. He opposed the Wright motion.

Senator Juilliard of Santa Rosa advised meeting the diplomacy featured in the President's telegram with intelligent diplomacy. He favored the motion of Senator Wright on the ground that the Senate, in its reply, should be as diplomatic as "he who sent it." He agreed that President Wilson is trying to reach a good result on a very delicate subject.

Senator Campbell favored amending the resolution. He held that to submit the reply framed by "recognized Republicans" at a conference which took the greater part of the forenoon, and from which the Democrats and unrecognized Republicans were barred, would be an insult to President Wilson and Secretary of State Bryan, who are statesmen expecting the Legislature of California to be statesmen. He held that the words which Senator Wright's motion would strike from the reply are intended to "put one over" on the Democratic members and on Secretary Bryan.

Senator Curtin saw nothing in the reply that will place California in an awkward position. He favored accepting the President's proposition outlined in the majority resolution, although he was not permitted to "on the ground floor."

Senator Larkins opposed the Wright motion on the ground that California should accept every opportunity to make her stand on the alien land legislation plain.

Senator Hewitt held that the reply in its original form treats the federal government in a manner befitting the people of a great State.

Senator Boynton denied that there is anything in the reply smacking of politics. In reply to Senator Campbell, who wanted to know why the minority was not called into the morning conference, he explained that the majority would be held responsible for a courteous reply to the President's message. He informed Senator Campbell that Gov. Johnson wished to participate in the drawing of the Senate's reply. The Governor will reply to the message he received personally in his own way, he said, but held that the reply is fair, liberal, broad, drawn for the purpose of framing in a dignified way a message from the head of the nation. "The man of the minority had either the message of President Wilson or I hope there will be none," he said. He compared the present crisis with the days of Roosevelt and Taft, when the Democrats took other telegrams sent from Washington under the very same conditions.

Senator Wright, in closing the debate, reverted to the time of Theodore Roosevelt to use the office of military authorities in thwarting plans of the people of California in this same line in 1909.

The motion of Wright to strike out was defeated by a vote of 29 noes.

THE FINAL LINE-UP.

Against Wright's amendments—Anderson, Beban, Benson, Boynton, Breed, Brown, Bryan, Caminetti, Carr, Cogswell, Finn, Flint, Gates, Gerdes, Hans, Hewitt, Jones, Kehoe, Lyons, Regan, Rush, Thompson—25.

Late today the reply to the President's message was adopted in the Senate by a vote of 25 to 5, the latter being as follows:

Ayes—Anderson, Avey, Beban, Benson, Birdsall, Boynton, Breed, Brown, Bryan, Butler, Caminetti, Campbell, Carr, Cogswell, Cuba, Curtin, Flint, Gates, Gerdes, Gray, Hewitt, Jones, Juilliard, Kehoe, Larkins, Mott, Regan, Rush, Shanahan, Strobridge, Thompson, Tyrrell—25.

Because the Assembly refused to eliminate from the resolution asking Bryan to come to California the anti-alien land laws, the clause "while this Assembly respectfully maintains the right of the Legislature of the State of California to legislate on the subject of land ownership in this State," many of the Democrats in the House voted against the resolution, which, after more than an hour's debate, was adopted by a vote of 41 ayes to 11 noes.

When the resolution was introduced in the Assembly by Belshaw, leader for the majority, Assemblyman Dower objected to its form, especially the words quoted, and that they were in the form of a message to the Secretary of State, and suggested that the following be substituted:

"We will be glad to see Secretary Bryan, but we will do as we please, notwithstanding your coming."

Assemblyman Brown would not let the matter over until Wednesday, and said he favored putting up to the Democrats what the Republicans have had to face in the past. This statement threw the Democrats into a panic, and they resorted to filibustering. Shannon urged a point of order, which others clamored.

The Dower amendment was voted down with a bang and the resolution went through on the run.

Gov. Johnson received a telegram tonight from Secretary Bryan stating that Bryan will arrive in Sacramento Monday morning.

The motion of Wright to strike out was defeated by a vote of 7 ayes and 29 noes.

THE FINAL LINE-UP.

Against Wright's amendment—Anderson, Beban, Benson, Birdsall, Boynton, Breed, Brown, Bryant, Butler, Caminetti, Carr, Cogswell, Cohn, Finn, Flint, Gates, Gerdes, Hans, Hewitt, Jones, Kehoe, Lyons, Regan, Russ, Strobridge, Thompson—23.

Late today the reply to the President's message was affirmed in the Senate by a vote of 35 to 3, the affirmative being as follows:

Ayes—Anderson, Avey, Beban, Benson, Birdsall, Boynton, Breed, Brown, Bryan, Butler, Caminetti, Carpenter, Carr, Cogswell, Cohn, Curtin, Finn, Flint, Gates, Gerdes, Grant, Hans, Hewitt, Jones, Juilliard, Kehoe, Lukens, Mott, Regan, Rush, Saylor, Shanahan, Strobridge, Thompson, Tyrrell—35.

Because the Assembly refused to eliminate from the resolution lauding Bryan to come to California the anti-alien land laws, the words "while this Assembly respectfully maintains the right of the State of California to legislate on the subject of land ownership in this State," many of the Democrats in the House voted against the resolution, which after more than an hour's debate, was adopted by 51 to 11 votes.

When the resolution was introduced in the Assembly by Bohnett, floor leader for the majority, Assemblyman Dower objected to its form, and especially the words quoted, saying that they were in the form of an insult to the Secretary of State, and moved to amend.

Assemblyman Brown wanted to have the matter over until tomorrow, but said he favored putting up to the Democrats what the Republicans have been trying to face in the past. [BY TELEGRAPH WIRELESS LINE TO THE TIMES.]

...VER, Colo., April 23.—[Special Dispatch.] Thomas D. Richards, ... of "The Chocolate Soldier," dismissed his divorce suit against Mrs. Martha Minor Richards, ... opera singer, this morning. ... charged that his wife had ... his eyes with her fists. ... Richards declared his motive ... to lessen her chances of obtaining judgment in an action for $100,000 damages which she instituted in Pittsburgh, Pa., against Miss Lulu Glaser, Richard's stage partner, who, ... has alienated Richards's affections.

Mrs. Richards is in St. Luke Hospital. ... "I do not know that he had discharged me," said Mrs. Richards, "and I am glad of it. There is no chance for a reconciliation."

TRUSTEE OF BLIND RESIGNS.

J. Arthur Elston Quits as Member of Board of the California Institute for the Deaf, Dumb and Blind.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BERKELEY, April 23.—J. Arthur Elston, a trustee of the California Institute for the Deaf, Dumb and Blind, located in this city, has sent his resignation as trustee to Gov. Johnson. Elston, who is a graduate of the University of California, and a local attorney gave press of outside duties as his reason for resigning. He has served as trustee for two years. No word has been heard from Johnson regarding the acceptance of the resignation.

Wealthy San Jose Rancher Charges His Wife With Wanting to Marry Farmhand and Produces Love Letters to Substantiate His Plea for a Separation.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN JOSE, April 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Love letters signed "your loving Mollie," alleged to indicate a desire of Mrs. Ralph T. Zuck of Gilroy to be the wife of Eugene Wyckoff, a young farmhand, were introduced in evidence in the Superior Court today by the husband, who is suing for a divorce. Mrs. Zuck and Wyckoff also ran up large long-distance telephone bills, according to Zuck, who said that on some occasions the tolls between Wyckoff and his wife cost as much as $4.65, or at the rate of $5 a minute.

Zuck is a wealthy young rancher and his family has been prominent for years in the southern end of this valley, while the wife is a member of the pioneer Schoeneman family of San Francisco, powerful socially and financially there in the early days.

Since the filing of the suit, Mrs. Zuck has been declared mentally incompetent in San Francisco, and her brother, F. J. Schoeneman, appointed her guardian. The defense indicated today that it would make an effort to show that Zuck knew and said she was insane before separating from her. Gilroy witnesses testified to buggy rides and other excursions when Mrs. Zuck and Wyckoff were together.

SHEA GANG PLEADS GUILTY.

Burglars Who Looted Many San Francisco Residences Will Be Sentenced This Week.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23.—Patrick Shea, his wife Maude, and Henry Silverling, all pleaded guilty to burglary today and will be sentenced Saturday. Their case gained wide interest through the arrest in their apartment of Jessie Clifton, of a respectable Stockton family, who said she was an art student and showed many sketches to evidence her interest in drawing and sculpture.

Two girls from the Barbary Coast turned State's evidence and were freed. Jessie Clifton is now in a hospital and will plead later.

Five thousand dollars worth of loot were found in the apartment occupied by the gang, overlooking Golden Gate Park. From their windows they kept close watch through spy glasses on the park police station and timed their movements accordingly.

SHERIDANS ON HONEYMOON.

Son of Famous General Arrives at San Francisco After Wedding at Honolulu.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 23.—[Special Dispatch.] The Sheridans are on their honeymoon, having married at Honolulu on April 9, while Lieut. Pine of the navy is bringing Mrs. Pine on her first visit to the main land with their three-months-old daughter, Barbara. Both Mrs. Pine and Mrs. Sheridan were honored socially during the cruise to this port.

Lieut. Sheridan is attached to the Fifth Cavalry, and will proceed East after a few days' stay in this city. His marriage to the beautiful Miss Isabelle MacGunnigle, the daughter of Col. MacGunnigle of the Fifth Infantry, stationed at Honolulu, was one of the events of the island social season.

The son of the famous general was formerly attached to the staff of ex-President Roosevelt.

The Pipes were also married in Honolulu last year, but their trip to the Coast was deferred when orders were received assigning Lieut. Pine to duty on the Thetis.

LANDS, WRAPPED IN SILK.

Engineer of Pacific Mail Liner Charged With Attempting to Smuggle in Pongee.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 23.—[Special Dispatch.] L. Constentine, junior engineer on the Pacific Mail liner Mongolia, showed signs of being warm when he stepped off the gangplank of the steamer this morning. Customs Lieutenant Joseph Head, also observed that the young engineer's body seemed rotund to a degree far out of normal proportion. A search of Constantine's person revealed that he had twenty-five yards of pongee silk wrapped tightly about his body. It is charged he was endeavoring to smuggle the silk ashore. He was arrested.

Figures Show Over Million Dollars Has Been Spent by State on Rivers. Part for Flood Control.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, April 23.—Figures indicating that California has spent $1,637,760 to aid the navigability of streams in the State, have been prepared by Maj. P. N. Narboe, Assistant State Engineer for State Engineer W. F. McClure.

Maj. Narboe says he was surprised to learn California had spent so much to aid navigation. The figures were prepared at the request of Maj. S. A. Cheney of the regular army, with jurisdiction over California navigable streams.

The figures also show that $722,281 has been spent to aid navigation on the Sacramento River by the State. Of this amount, $570,060 has been entirely for navigation and the remaining amount partly for flood control.

NATIVE SON DIES IN MEXICO.

George Harvey Fairchild, Noted California Engineer, Passes Away at Mazatlan.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] George Harvey Fairchild, one of California's foremost engineers and a founder of the Native Sons of the Golden West, died on the steamer City of Para at Mazatlan. Fairchild left this city for Guatemala last November to salvage the German steamer Sesostris, which was wrecked on that coast six years ago. While supervising the work, he was taken ill with fever, and was being rushed to this city when he died.

Fairchild had been connected with the Pacific Mail and Occidental and Oriental steamship companies. He was general manager of the North Shore Railroad, constructing the first third rail system operated in this State. He also constructed the first road ever operated by long distance transmission in the West. Of recent years, he had confined himself to the management of the George H. Fairchild Company, of which he was president. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Alice Bidwell Fairchild, and two sons, George H. Jr. and Hollis B., living at No. 400 Duboce avenue.

SENATE SESSIONS.

COMPENSATION ACT IS UP.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, April 23.—Workmen's compensation and the liability of employers in case of death or accident during the course of employment, reached the stage of debate in the Senate tonight. The bill has been designated by administration leaders as one of the most important before the Legislature and while a number of amendments have been made to the original administration bill as reported by the committee and adopted by the Senate, notice was given by several Senators this evening that they had more amendments to offer before they would be satisfied with the measure. There is also a minority submitted report by Senator Wright. A. E. Boynton, into whose hands the fate of the administration's bill was given, opened the fight on the floor with an explanation of the principal features and some amendments that had been made at the suggestion of numerous commercial and other bodies since the original draft had been submitted. Chief among these were the exemption from the provisions of the bill of farmers, employers of domestics, horticulturists and viticulturists, and the increase of the salaries of the three industrial accident commissioners charged with enforcing the act from $3600 to $5000 a year. Senator Boynton also explained the section providing for the creation of a State compensation fund to insure employers against liability; requiring safety appliances in all places of employment and requiring reports of industrial accidents.

San Joaquin Association Renews Fight for Right to Enter the National Park.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STOCKTON, April 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Members of the San Joaquin Automobile Association are preparing to renew their fight for permission to enter Yosemite National Park in their machines. Word has been received by the local organization that it can expect assistance from other automobile associations throughout Central California from Modesto northward. San Francisco, Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley auto people will join in with the local people in carrying on the fight.

OREGON SHERIFF DIES.

WOUNDS IN DUEL FATAL.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MEDFORD (Or.) April 23.—August Singler, Sheriff of Jackson county, who was shot yesterday in a duel with Lester Jones, an 18-year-old youth, died of his injuries today. Singler had gone to Jones's cabin, one mile west of Jacksonville, to serve a warrant on Jones, when the latter opened fire on him. An exchange of shots followed in which the officer received fatal wounds and Jones fell before the deadly fire of the Sheriff. Singler leaves a widow and eight children.

ACCUSE CONVICT OF MURDER.

SEATTLE (Wash.) April 23.—Peter Miller, who last week was sentenced in Tacoma to twenty to forty years imprisonment as a habitual criminal, was arraigned in the Superior Court today charged with murdering Hugh McMahon, a saloonkeeper on Thanksgiving night, 1908, by garroting him. The principal witness against Miller is George Rose, formerly Miller's companion, who was found in Chicago by the police of that city recently.

Overruled by Editors.

against the Japanese, why shouldn't New York be justified in barring out the Italians, or Ohio taking action against the Poles? And if these States did take such action, where would the Federal government be? The fact is that in this controversy President Wilson and his advisers are right and the California folk dead wrong."

CALLS LAW UNCONSTITUTIONAL.

E. H. Callister, the Herald-Republican, Salt Lake City:

"I am decidedly opposed to legislation that is directed against the Japanese as a race. Discrimination of that kind is always harmful to all concerned. Alien laws not based on prejudice against any one nation are justified, of course, but that is what California appears to be driving at. In my opinion, furthermore, it is wholly unconstitutional for a State to do what California is trying to do, that is shutting out the emigrant of one race and practically putting them under the law."

CALIFORNIA NOT JUSTIFIED.

E. P. Adler, Davenport, Iowa, Times:

"I do not believe that California is justified in making such a law as is being proposed. I do not see how it is possible for the State to adopt a law which would jeopardize an existing treaty between this country and another; at least I do not see how that law can go into effect until the treaty expires. California is justified in wishing to protect the interests of her people, but no State has the right to make laws discriminating against any one nation."

SHOULD NOT DISCRIMINATE.

A. M. Snook, the Aurora, Ill., Beacon-Times:

"I do not believe that California is in the right in trying to discriminate against the Japanese in the face of a treaty which we have with that country, nor do I think that the legislation could be upheld if it came to a test. It is my opinion that if California wishes to restrict Japanese ownership of its lands, it should make that restriction equally enforcible against all aliens alike."

MAY PROTECT INTERESTS.

H. E. Baldwin, the Joliet Daily News:

"California should not discriminate in her action against invasion of her territory, but if she wishes to shut out the Japanese, she should make laws prohibiting all alien ownership. The State, of course, is justified in protecting its interests."

SEES EVIL IN ALIENS.

C. S. Jackson, the Journal, Portland, Or.:

"I firmly believe that all States should have the right to deny the ownership of land to aliens of all nationalities. Proprietorship of land by aliens is improper under the Republican form of government, which we enjoy. The evils of alien ownership are very much the same as the evils of non-resident ownership. That California is entirely within its rights in the matter there can be no doubt."

ENCOURAGE I.W.W.

Representative Albert Johnson, the Washingtonian, Gray's Harbor, Wash.:

"I am in thorough sympathy with the people of California in the present difficulty. The immigrant invasion becomes a greater menace to this country every day. Every year it is less desirable, because we have less here to offer foreigners. And when we offer them nothing they proceed to take what they want. They become entangled with such people as the Industrial Workers of the World and begin to hate our institutions before they have a chance to know them. The influx of Japanese and Hindoos is quite as serious a matter to us on the Pacific Coast as the overloading of the Eastern States with the riff-raff of Europe is to the country."

DANGER IN ALIENS.

V. S. McClatchy, Sacramento Bee:

"The California Legislature represents very thoroughly the sentiment of the people of the State on this matter. It is made up of thoroughly representative men. There is grave danger to California of being overrun by an alien people such as the Japanese. They have already absorbed whole communities by their methods. Once they are in control they drive out all Americans. It is impossible for the Japanese and the Americans to remain close neighbors."

CAUSE OF THE CLASH.

G. M. Thompson, New Orleans Item:

"In California the Japanese have reached a point where they consider themselves the equal of Americans. Where Americans and aliens are in contact, especially on American soil, the American will assert his superiority. The clash comes right there. Nobody wants war over his matter, and it is hoped that some arrangement can be made to avoid it. But Gov. Johnson has the sympathy and support of all who understand conditions."

LOS ANGELES PIONEER DIES.

Mrs. Harriett A. Leavitt, Whose Family Aided in Upbuilding of City Passes Away in Carpinteria.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CARPINTERIA (Cal.) April 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Harriet A. Leavitt, a resident of California for thirty years, and for twenty-six years of that time living in Carpinteria, died Sunday morning and was buried here yesterday.

She was born in Ohio eighty years ago. Her grandmother, who was a daughter of Lord and Lady Erskine of England, came to American while young, and settled in South Carolina. Afterwards she married Mr. Johnson and moved to the Ohio Valley, where her parents lost trace of her, and believing her to have been killed by the Indians then warring throughout that country, they founded the Erskine College in South Caroline in her memory, endowing it with her inheritance. This college is still at work at Duewest.

The Johnsons' daughters, Mary, and Horace R. Peck were married and a family of three boys and eleven girls resulted, of whom all but three sisters came to California many years ago, settling in Los Angeles city and county, where they and their descendants have been active upbuilders. There were seven of these brothers and sisters that lived to be over 80. Miss C. A. Peck, a sister, survives her.

Mrs. Leavitt was married to Frank M. Leavitt in Ohio, going on her wedding journey to Minnesota, where they lived seven years, then moving to Iowa, where Mr. Leavitt died, forty years ago, leaving her with four small children. These she raised through all the hardships attendant to that time and clime, and three survive her, Mrs. Frances N. Phinney of Blakesburg, Iowa, Mrs. L. B. Cadwell of Carpinteria, and L. A. Leavitt of El Monte, Cal. The other daughter, Mrs. Lucia L. Upp, died a few years ago.

Mrs. Leavitt left twenty grandchildren and four great grandchildren. She was a woman of high character, a devoted mother and sincere Christian, and a member of the Christian Church since her girlhood.

For the past twenty years she has looked forward each year with great pleasure to the reunion of the Peck family which is held annually in Compton or Los Angeles.

Chickering---the Piano for the American Home

Where in the history of music is there a parallel to the greatness of this remarkable Piano. For ninety years it has been the embodiment of all that is true and great in Piano building.

TONE The one factor that spells the success or failure of a Piano is, in the Chickering, exemplified in its fullest meaning. There is not today, there has never been, a question as to its purity, its power, and its trueness. It is held in deeper regard today, after ninety years standing the criticisms of musical people than any other American Piano.

THE NAME "CHICKERING" commands the respect, the confidence, the plaudits of the greatest of the Master Musicians. YOU, who will now or later purchase a Piano, give it careful thought—it deserves your consideration—you deserve the best Piano.

A Chickering may be bought on a liberal plan of payment and your present instrument will be taken in exchange if desired.

WIFE ACCUSES MINISTER.

Oakland Woman, Seeking Divorce, Testifies Against the Rev. A. J. MacMurtry in Church Trial.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OMAHA, April 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. A. J. MacMurtry of Oakland, Cal., who has filed suit for divorce in that city from the Rev. Andrew J. MacMurtry of Manilla, Iowa, appeared before the Omaha Presbytery today as a witness in the trial of the Rev. Mr. MacMurtry, who is charged with having broken the Seventh Commandment and other conduct unbecoming a minister.

The taking of testimony was behind closed doors, and at the close of the evening session all information was refused. It is known, however, that Mrs. MacMurtry was on the witness stand and that she will be recalled tomorrow for further testimony. Her son Alton, from Oakland, accompanies her.

MacMurtry asserts the charges against him are false and that certain members of his former flock are trying to "get even" with him by making the charges which will force him from the ministry if sustained.

Forced to Quit.

resentative Oscar W. Underwood of Alabama, the majority leader, predicted today great relief for the nation through the passage of the pending bill; Representative Augustus P. Gardner of Massachusetts, voiced Republican skepticism for the country's future under such a tariff system, and Representative Clyde Kelly of Pennsylvania expressed the opposition of the new Progressive party to all tariff bills framed under the present system.

Representative Hayes of California declared that free sugar means destruction of the beet sugar industry without any substantial benefit to the consumers of sugar. He said the cutting of tariff on lemons would injure that industry, and that the proposed revision would ruin olive oil, beans and dry fruit industries in California, turning the market for these products over to foreigners. Representative Curry of California spoke along the same line.

Tariffist.

USE JACK-SCREW TO CUT TARIFF.

Underwood Opens Debate With Specious Hyperbole.

Says Democrats Have Tried to Benefit Consumers.

Gardner Hopes He Is Not a Political Dr. Cook.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 23.—The tariff debate was begun today in the House.

Representative Garrett of Tennessee, to whom Senator Clark has referred as one of the best parliamentarians in the House, will preside throughout the debate, while the bill is technically before the House as a committee of the whole.

Mr. Underwood reiterated his view that five days of general debate and a week more for the reading of the bill with the privilege of five-minutes speech to each member would be sufficient in the House. Representatives Payne, Moore and Fordyce will make the principal speeches for the minority of the Ways and Means Committee, the former favoring Republican substitutes for the woolen and cotton schedules, and the other two making the fight against the bill as a whole. Party conferences over the tariff were resumed at the Senate end of the Capitol. Democratic members of the Finance Committee met with a number of Democratic Senators from Western States, who object to the abolition of all tariff from wool and sugar. Republican members of the committee spent the day at work over the bill.

FIFTY-HOUR DISCUSSION.

When the House convened Mr. Underwood asked unanimous consent that the general debate close when the House adjourned Monday evening. The Republican leaders and Representative Murdock, the Progressive leader, argued for some time over the division of the minority time between the Republicans and the Progressives. It was finally agreed to give the Progressives five hours of the minority time. Altogether about fifty hours of general discussion in the House will be allowed.

UNDERWOOD REMARKS.

"The enactment of this bill into law will mark the end of an era in the fiscal administration of this country and the beginning of a new one," Mr Underwood began. He discussed the origin of the present "high tariff system," declaring that it was instituted as an emergency measure during the Civil war.

"These unjust war taxes," he said, "have been maintained ever since, and those who have amassed fortunes under them have controlled the government except for one brief interval."

In his discussion he followed closely the arguments outlined in the report of the Democratic majority of the Ways and Means Committee.

"Our great responsibility," declared Mr. Underwood, "is the interests and rights of the great mass of consumers among the American people. From our viewpoint industry must be considered as secondary to the rights of the consumer."

COST OF LIVING.

Referring to the increase in the cost of living, Mr. Underwood said:

"A great proportion of this increase was caused by the abnormally high protection given to the great manufacturing interests of this country under the Republican tariff."

Mr. Underwood said, however, that the passage of the Democratic bill would not immediately be followed by reductions in the cost of living, "but I believe," he added, "that within a reasonable time, after the merchants have disposed of their goods bought under high protective tariff, the people of this country will find the cost of living decreased."

Mr. Underwood vigorously attacked the theory of founding a protective tariff and the cost of production at home and abroad.

"A duty which will equalize the average difference in cost of production between two countries," he said, "protects no one, since it is more than is needed by the most efficient producer and less than is needed by the less efficient producer. You Republicans cannot write a successful tariff bill on that basis, and the truth of it is you never have.

PLAY NO FAVORITES.

"I don't contend," Mr. Underwood continued, "that in this bill we have been able to wipe out at one fell swoop all the iniquities and injustice and rank favoritism that you Republicans have engrafted on the body politic for the last decade. But we have played favorites with no one. We have had no favored manufacturers dictating our rates.

"But we have not gone at this tariff with an ax."

"There are many industries that have been built entirely on the basis of your protective tariff and we are lowering this tariff wall with a jacksawed and not with an ax. Germany(through its Ambassador here has protested against two administrative features of the pending tariff bill. One concerns the proposed examination of books of German export houses for the purpose of ascertaining domestic wool sales prices to guard against undervaluation of exports. The other protest is against the provision that German goods imported in American bottoms shall enjoy a differential of 5 per cent. in due. It is declared to be in violation of treaties with Germany which guarantee the vessels of that country equality and treatment with American vessels in the matter of duties and charges.

MAKE NO PROTEST.

"Most of the embassies and legations in Washington so far have refrained from making representations on the same point until the tariff bill was formally before the House. The Austrian government is about to follow the lead of the German government and others are preparing to do so, all pointing out that the proposed legislation will destroy existing trade and commerce treaties with the United States.

"Secretary Bryan by direction of the President has refrained from answering any of these arguments, but has promised to transmit the protest to Congress so that it may alter the pending legislation if it desires to do so before the law is finally enacted."

Mr. Underwood did not take up the income tax feature of the bill in detail, declaring Representative Hull of Tennessee was responsible for framing that provision and would explain it later.

"I believe this is an honest revision of the tariff downward," Mr. Underwood said in conclusion. "I believe that it will not in any way jeopardize legitimate industry—and by legitimate industry, I do not mean the mills that have gorged themselves on dividends and allowed floors and machinery to rot. Legitimate American industry, brought to the firing line by open competition, will carry American energy and American genius to the markets of the world."

GARDNER FOR REPUBLICANS.

Representative Gardner of Massachusetts took the floor to open the Republican side of the debate. He gave two reasons for dismissal of the Republican party from power, one that "it obstinately resisted reasonable reforms," and another "the fact that the country desires a revision of the tariff, much more far reaching than the Payne law." He paid a tribute to Representative Payne of New York with the statement that cotton and wool schedules had been written into the law over his protest.

"Mr. Payne," said he, "schedules I and K never met your approval. Over your protest and against your will they were voted into the law which bears your name. Yet through the four years that have passed, you have uttered no word to defend yourself at the expense of your coworkers. You have had a heavy burden of reproach to bear, and righteously have you borne it."

SCORES MACHINE.

Mr. Gardner asserted that the Republican party had fallen under the guide of one of those "too powerful things which men call 'machines' and it is through this that this machine was not representative of the rank and file who voted the ticket. The head and front of his party's offending," he said, "was that we failed to move with the age." Republican generals, he declared, could not adjust their views to modern schools of thought.

"They persisted in governing the country their own way and not the country's way," he said, "and so we all came to grief.

"The nation will not have the Payne law. If necessary, the nation would rather elect a Congress of numskulls who would administer a new elixir rather than retain a Congress of asculpaians who insist on compounding the old formulas which the nation refuses any longer to swallow. Perhaps the old political physician may in the end prove right. Perhaps the new political physician may turn out to be only another Dr. Cook. Radical legislation, he said, was expected from the new Congress and he saw no reason to believe the Democrats were a gathering of rogues. Such they would be accounted, he asserted, if they did not satisfy the country.

He predicted that some overdue reforms would be enacted and that it woud be necessary for the Democrats to keep absolutely their promises to the people if they wished to be retained in power.

WILSON HEADS OFF SENATORS.

Goes to Capitol to Discuss Appointments Rather Than Have Them Defile the White House.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 23.—President Wilson will go again to the Capitol tomorrow to consult with any Senators concerning nominations he has prepared. With the Senate in session the President decided there would be less inconvenience to the Senators if he himself went to the President's room and consulted them about prospective appointments, than if the Senators came to the White House.

CABINET WOMEN CAN'T CUT CALLS

Mrs. Marshall's Plan Turns Out a Flat Failure.

Reception at the Shoreham Causes Mad Scramble.

Will Abandon Attempt to Change Social Code.

BY CONSTANCE CARRUTHERS.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 23.—[Special Dispatch.] The first scheme for relieving Cabinet women and them to social life from their enormous official duties has been thoroughly tried by Mrs. Thomas R. Marshall, wife of the Vice-President, whether willingly or not and it is a failure. It is pretty sure that except at the White House all the Cabinet women will never again be seen on the line in Washington.

Washington official society has sought for years to solve the problem of lessening the calling list of people in official life and lightening the burden of the wives of cabinet officers.

The result of a great combination every week or several times a season has been one of the most much discussed and whether intentionally or not, Mrs. Marshall, wife of the Vice-President, was the first to try it. She held her reception at the Shoreham this afternoon.

COMBINE PLAN FAILS.

The result was that unless the inexperienced aides and ushers at the White House can be called in to manage them, the great combine will not again be attempted. Mrs. Marshall's friends, official and otherwise, say the women who must, according to the social code call upon her number thousands. Mrs. Bryan's list is scarcely smaller, as in addition to officials in general she must call upon the diplomatic corps. Mrs. Taft must be at home to the army contingent as well as official society in general and Mrs. Daniels the equally long navy list who must call upon her. Mrs. Burleson, Mrs. Houston, Mrs. Redfield and Mrs. Wilson have not great bodies like the army and navy and their calling lists are accordingly much smaller, but even they number their visitors by hundreds.

Combine these numbers mathematically, as well as socially one has a list that would tax that of the largest White House reception and it would require the tunda of the Capitol to accommodate the callers.

A MAD SCRAMBLE.

As the combination worked this afternoon, what should have been an imposing and unique event was simply a crush. Callers pressed eight deep scrambling to meet the multiplicity of hosts, with nothing like the White House system to keep them in single line.

After greeting the hostesses the various other hostesses and making their way to the best of the room, there was a breathing spell during most of the receiving hours, but the crush about the hostesses was almost intolerable.

Many women became confused at the card system, and having called upon Mrs. Marshall before, or Mrs. Bryan or some other of the Cabinet women, wished only to leave cards for those upon whom they had not previously called, thus relieving Cabinet women of twice necessary visit. Great delay at the door was occasioned by some women not familiar with the official announcement as to which Cabinet women their particular card was intended for.

NAMES MIXED UP.

As at the White House, and it was announced, but before it was Mrs. Houston, or Mrs. Redfield was utterly lost, or so mixed up even its owner could not tell it and the line was again filled with women introducing themselves to women in line.

While the crowd pushed and jostled Mrs. Marshall smiled and Mrs. Bryan smiled too, but the women of the Cabinet looked bewildered but confused.

The next scheme talked of by the Cabinet women to relieve them except upon women their official rank, but it is said that hospitable women will not such a proposition. The system as it now exists and has existed 100 years has perhaps its faults, but any change must be radical and mathematically thought out.

TO OBSERVE DAYS AT HOME.

Mrs. Bryan said to several friends as they were in the line that she would be at home at the White House next Wednesday and other Cabinet women will observe their own days at home, just as though the plan had not been misled into believing Mrs. Marshall's reception was for all women to assist, as a substitute for all their calling obligations.

Pittsburgh Police Suppress Disorderly Processions of School Children Now on Strike.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PITTSBURGH, April 23.—Only 10 per cent. of Pittsburgh's public school children are in attendance at the sessions today. The disorganization of children through the strike have been suppressed by the police and by parents, but numbers of children congregate about the schools from time to time.

The children arrested by the police while carrying banners demanding the removal of Superintendent Brooks Mayhew, were reprimanded and released over to their parents. Hundreds of more pupils of the Fifth School refused to attend school this morning, but moved about in the vicinity of the school house as ordered.

No announcement has been made whether the citizens will ask the Board of Education to investigate the reasons for the character of the suspensions or accept the duty imposed on it.

Mrs. Marshall's friends, official and otherwise, and the women who must, according to the social code call upon her, number thousands. Mrs. Bryan's list is scarcely smaller, as in addition to officials in general she must also have the diplomatic corps. Mrs. Garrison must be at home to the army contingent as well as official society in general and Mrs. Daniels has an equally long navy list who must call upon her. Mrs. Burleson, Mrs. Lane, Mrs. Houston, Mrs. Redfield and Mrs. Wilson have not great bodies like the army and navy and their calling lists are accordingly much smaller, but even they number their visitors by hundreds.

Combine these numbers mathematically, as well as socially and one has a list that would twice double that of the largest White House reception and it would require the rotunda of the Capitol to accommodate the callers.

A MAD SCRAMBLE.

As the combination worked out this afternoon, what should have been an imposing and unique event was simply a crush. Callers stood six and eight deep scrambling to meet the multiplicity of hosts, with nothing like the White House system to keep them in single line.

After greeting the hostesses and the various other hostesses and making their way to the back of the parlor room, there was a breathing space during most of the receiving hours, but the crush about the hostesses was almost intolerable.

Many women became confused over the card system, and having called upon Mrs. Marshall before, or Mrs. Bryan or some other of the Cabinet women, wished only to leave cards for those upon whom they had not previously called, thus relieving the Cabinet women of twice returning the visit. The social code as it now exists and has existed for 100 years has perhaps outgrown itself, but any change must be slow, careful and mathematically thought out.

TO OBSERVE DAYS AT HOME.

Analyst.

SAYS FILIPINOS NEED AMERICA.

Bishop Thinks They Cannot Stand by Themselves.

Density of Population Is the Biggest Problem.

Fears Other Nations Might Annex the Islands.

BY THE RT. REV. C. H. BRENT,

[National Episcopal Bishop of the Philippines.

BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 23.—[Special Dispatch.] In this brief survey of Philippine affairs it will be my endeavor to separate facts from fancies and to strip the problem of secondary consideration.

The first fact to face is one which admits of no dispute. It is that America is in control of the Philippines, and upon her wisdom or unwisdom hangs the fate of 9,000,000 Filipinos. Whether we erred in assuming such a responsibility is aside from the question. If America had not accepted it from unselfish motives another nation would have done it from motives of self-interest, and at this date liberty would sit moaning within the gates of the Philippines instead of reigning throughout her borders.

ENJOY SELF-GOVERNMENT.

The Filipinos today enjoy a measure of self-government hitherto unknown to dependencies save in the self-governing over-seas dominions of Great Britain, and the responsibility of America is to further the progress of self-government to the utmost of stability and the Filipinos' capacity. Thus are we brought to a second undeniable fact. We are pledged to maintain our responsibility of control in trust to be administered with no other than for the Filipino. That is to say, we are to train him by consistent methods in the principles of self-government until he has attained, if then, if he so elects, surrender the rights which belong to a sovereign nation. It is here that we come to the parting of the ways. The issue, however, is not one of imperialism and anti-imperialism. It is for the house to employ such terms. The question resolves itself into one of good judgment. The opposing views differ only in the matter of time. There are those who say now, and those who say tomorrow, still others the day after tomorrow.

FAVORS COMMISSION.

With implied ability, the clamor for independence on the part of the Filipinos, which just now is more frequent than any time in their history would be the signal for withdrawal, but only their achievements will determine their ability. A semi-non-political commission should be appointed to advantage by the President to undertake a painstaking and thorough investigation of conditions. A careful study should be made of the Malolos government and of the character of provincial and municipal government up to date, in so far as the franchise, the extent of the peonage and kindred evils exist, the records of the assembly in its constructive work, religious, charitable, educational and industrial; work accomplished under the present regime.

To say the least, dangerous to act on the theory that any autonomy, no matter how slovenly, is preferable to alien rule with "higher political efficiency" as its motto. There are elements, at any rate, as in Santo Domingo, Nicaragua and elsewhere, when alien interference or rule for awhile is not counted on by our most fanatical individualists.

MIXED POPULATION.

A third fact is that the Philippine problem has a puzzling complexity, both in its island character and dissimilar population, of which one-half is composed of primitive folk of the hills and fanatical sons of Islam. The recognized leaders in the United States today, so far as racial considerations are concerned, would at least equal right to claim citizenship in Spain, China or England. But it is the men of mixed blood who are the politicians. The degree of capacity in the Filipino will not be revealed until the schoolboys of today are in active public life. Even among the Christianized peoples, because of their many tongues and limited but increasing inter-communication, there are sectional jealousies, while the wild peoples have a natural antipathy for their Christian neighbors because of a past history of harsh and unfair treatment at their hands.

INTERNATIONAL BEARING.

Finally it must be recognized that the Philippine problem cannot be considered without reference to its international bearing. Neutralization has been proposed, but can American or other diplomacy secure the neutrality of the powers? Would it be anything if promises of neutrality were made? Is it not so, that, in addition to existing military power, Japan would fight America in order to secure possession of the Philippines, there are at least two powers which would seize the first opportunity for interference if American sovereignty ceased?

Can America afford to protect a continent half-way around the world which she does not actually and effectively control? She has a problem difficult enough with one hand.

MUST STAND ALONE.

It seems to me that it would be a piece of quixotry beyond the public administration to stand for the order of an experimental government of more than 10,000 miles from stability 10,000 miles from home.

When the Philippines gain independence they must swallow the bitter with the sweet and meet the perils as well as the joys of going alone. There are national ideals, even in a limited protectorate to which I trust America will never expose herself.

My own conviction of our present duty, based upon eleven years of observation and experience, is summed up in words written in relation to a similar dependency, but which I apply with a few verbal alterations to the Philippines of today. We are not in the Philippines for our pleasure or profit. We believe it would be the most unfortunate thing in the world to say that the Philippines is not worth the candle which we have lighted. We have undertaken an intense difficulties and responsibilities, and leave the Philippines to go to perdition in their own way.

We cannot do that. We are in the Philippines because we are responsible. If our rule were withdrawn at this juncture, at any rate, there would at once be a struggle for supremacy between the strongest of the contending populations and they in turn would ultimately be devoured by intruders from outside the borders of the Philippines. . . . We do not know how to leave the Philippines, and, therefore, let us see if we know how to govern them.

Report Filed in Old Will Case Develops the Curious Hallucination of Wealthy Dorchester Man Decorated by the Mikado of Japan for His Charitable Works.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON, April 23.—Joseph M. Wade, a wealthy resident of Dorchester, who had been decorated by the Mikado in recognition of his charities to widows and orphans of Japan, died in the belief that he was the spiritual husband of Mme. Blavatsky, the theosophical leader, according to a story revealed in a masters' report filed in the Superior Court yesterday. The report was upon the suit of Herbert W. Burke, executor of Mr. Wade's estate, against Yamanaka & Company, dealers in Japanese curios, to compel them to restore to the estate a bill of sale of a collection of Japanese and oriental articles valued at between $15,000 and $20,000. Mr. Burke alleged that Mr. Wade was induced to affix his "mark" to the bill when he was too feeble to understand his acts. His contention was sustained by the courts.

Wade, according to the masters' report, had an "occult room" filled with Japanese art objects where he went to commune with spirits. From the occult world he gained the belief that he would begin to get better or grow rapidly worse, December 15, 1904. When that day passed without noticeable improvement in health, the report states, Mr. Wade shut himself up in his room and died several weeks later.

It was when Mr. Wade was shut up his this room, the report alleged, that the bill was signed.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) April 23.—Three United States Senators, a former Vice-President of the United States, the Governor of Illinois and three former Governors, nearly the entire membership of the Illinois Legislature, and many leading citizens of the State, joined here today in paying tribute to the memory of Stephen A. Douglas, on the one hundredth anniversary of his birth.

Among the speakers were Senators James Hamilton Lewis and Lawrence Y. Sherman of Illinois, Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, former Vice-President Stevenson of Bloomington, William L. Davidson and Everett Jennings.

Douglas was lauded as the highest type of statesman and patriot and as a friend of home rule and self-government by the speakers of various political faiths.

PRESIDENT PREFERS NEWARK.

Chief Executive Decides to Invade the Enemy's Country in Talking for Jury Reform.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 23.—President Wilson, at the suggestion of Acting Gov. Fielder of New Jersey, will not speak in Paterson on May 1, but in Newark.

This change was agreed upon today when Mr. Fielder wrote the President pointing out that the Assemblymen who most vigorously opposed jury reform were from Newark and vicinity.

Denver Police Identify Young Man With Mental Aberration as Son of Michigan Banker.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DENVER (Colo.) April 23.—Frederick A. Gorham, Jr., of Payette, Idaho, the authorities are convinced today, is the man who appealed to the police late last night for aid in finding out who he was. Chief of Police Felix O'Neill received a telegram this morning from Harvey O. Carr, Superintendent of Police at Grand Rapids, Mich., to extend every courtesy to Gorham, and stating that relatives were on the way to take him in charge.

Gorham is being cared for at the City and County Hospital. He talks rationally and seems in a normal state, except that his recollection extends only as far back as last Sunday, when he arrived in Denver.

HAS RELATIVES IN MICHIGAN.

FATHER A RICH BANKER.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

GRAND RAPIDS (Mich.) April 23.—Frederick A. Gorham, Jr., is the son of Frederick A. Gorham, third vice-president of the Michigan Trust Company of this city. The latter is convinced that the man who lost his identity in Denver is his son.

Until he heard of the Denver situation today, Mr. Gorham was unaware where his son was and he has been conducting a quiet search for him for two years since Young Gorham left Chicago, going West. The young man was taken sick on the train and left it at Omaha. Since then the father lost all trace of him until today.

The son's home is in Payette, Idaho. He had been in Grand Rapids recently on a visit and he was returning home when he was taken sick.

Praise This Remedy For Lung Trouble

If the voluntarily written words of grateful people, living in all parts of the country, praising Eckman's Alterative, a remedy for the treatment of coughs, colds, throat and lung troubles, are to be believed, this medicine is certainly doing a vast amount of good for such sufferers. This is a sample taken from many:

St. Mary's Academy, O'Neill, Nebraska.

"Gentlemen: About seven years ago I was attacked with Tuberculosis. I coughed unceasingly, could not sleep nor eat, even could not speak out loud and could do no work. I had three hemorrhages, raised blood most of the time and suffered with night sweats, fever and chills. A specialist of Columbus, Ohio, pronounced my case hopeless.

"Nearly five years ago I heard of your Alterative and procured some at once, with the result that I soon found myself restored to health. I consider your medicine, if faithfully taken, a most excellent remedy. Mother Superior permits this testimonial."

(Signed) SISTER MARIE.
Sisters of St. Francis.

Eckman's Alterative has been proven by many years' test to be most efficacious in cases of severe Throat and Lung Affections, Bronchitis, Bronchial Asthma, Stubborn Colds and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain narcotics, poisons or habit-forming drugs. For sale by Whe Owl Drug Co., and other leading druggists. REPEATS POLICE CHARGES.

San Francisco Bunco Man Insists He Can Prove Officers Received Money.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23.—Maurice de Martini sent word today from the County Jail, where he is awaiting sentence, that he can and will supply corroborative evidence supporting the charges made by him and his fellows in a gang of bunco men against detectives and policemen. Capt. Mooney, chief detective, answered: "Put it in writing."

De Martini and his gang, some of whom have fled, are estimated to have cleaned up $30,000 in a little more than a year, 15 per cent. of which went regularly to the police, according to recent allegations. The Police Commission and the District Attorney have been deeply impressed with their testimony, but they admit that uncorroborated it would be of little worth as legal evidence.

De Martini's offer, therefore, if he can make it good, is felt to be of the greatest importance. No suspensions have been made from the police force.

The circumstantial stories told by De Martini, Corrigan and Du Bois have deeply stirred the police department, which at first took the attitude that the whole affair was spite talk by convicted men.

Dr. John C. Phillips and Dr. Glover M. Allen of the Boston Society of Natural History, have just returned from a four-months' hunting expedition through Egypt and the Soudan.

Railroad Record.

FREIGHT RATES CUT ONE HALF.

Los Angeles Thereby Gains Owens River Trade.

Railroad Commission Orders Sweeping Reductions.

Old Tariff Favored Nevada and San Francisco.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In its decision rendered today in the so-called Owens River freight rate case the Railroad Commission readjusted all of the class rates and many of the important commodity rates on traffic moving between Los Angeles and points on the Owens River line north of Mojave to Benton, Cal., near the Nevada-California line. The whole schedule of rates was cut practically in half by the commission. It is one of the most sweeping reductions the commission has made.

Rates in that section have long been recognized, the commission says, as among the highest in the country and have been bitterly complained of by the residents of the Owens River Valley for many years. It was charged that the rates were so exorbitant that intending settlers refused to locate in the section and those now residing there have been compelled to curtail development and forego improving their property.

It was stated at the hearing that substantial reductions in the freight rates would open up for settlement many thousands of acres of rich agricultural land tributary to Los Angeles.

The commission scores the Southern Pacific for failing to adjust voluntarily rates which were so palpably unreasonable. It declares that the practice of making up a through rate by adding three or four local rates together is unwarranted and violates all of the well established theories of rate making. Upon this point, the commission declares that a "more iniquitous system of rate making would be hard to imagine."

SWEEPING REDUCTIONS.

The Commission orders heavy reductions in class rates between Los Angeles and various points in the Owens Valley, a sample of which are the class rates from Los Angeles to Laws. The present class rates per 100 pounds are:

1, $2.24½; 2, $1.97; 3, $1.80; 4, $1.47; 5, $1.35; A, $1.35; B, 71c; C, 64½c; D, 50c; E, 47c.

Rates ordered by the commission:

1, $1.25; 2, $1.06; 3, 91c; 4, 81c; 5, 68c; A, 68c; B, 47c; C, 42c; D, 32c; E, 29c.

Reduction:

1, 99c; 2, 91c; 3, 89c; 4, 66c; 5, 67c; A, 67c; B, 34c; C, 22½c; D, 18c; E, 18c.

To Owenyo:

1, $1.75; 2, $1.53; 3, $1.39; 4, $1.15; 5, $1.06; A, $1.06; B, 53c; C, 47½c; D, 39c; E, 37½c.

Rates ordered by the commission:

1, $1.15; 2, 98c; 3, 87c; 4, 73c; 5, 68c; A, 62c; B, 43c; C, 39c; D, 29c; E, 26c.

Reduction:

1, 60c; 2, 55c; 3, 52c; 4, 37c; 5, 38c; A, 44c; B, 10c; C, 8½c; D, 11c; E, 11c.

The commission found during its investigations that the rates charged by the Southern Pacific from points in Nevada to the Owens Valley were on a very much lower basis than those from Los Angeles. It found—for example, that the Southern Pacific made a rate from points in Nevada and to Laws of $1.56 per hundred, whereas for the same distance from Los Angeles to Laws $2.24½ per hundred is charged.

FREIGHT ON FLOUR.

The Southern Pacific charged a rate of $14 per ton on flour to all points in the Owens River Valley from Los Angeles. This rate was published before the line was built from Mojave to Owenyo and was consequently figured on the long, roundabout route through Sacramento and Reno. When the line was constructed from Mojave to Owenyo the Southern Pacific still continued to charge the $14 rate, which the commission has reduced to $8 per ton at Owenyo and $9.10 per ton at Laws.

Livestock shippers protested against having to drive stock thirty or forty miles in order to avoid excessive freight charges and the commission orders rates published which will be the same to Los Angeles from the Owens Valley as to Reno.

CUT ALMOST IN TWO.

Shippers of crude salt have been paying from the mines in the Owens Valley to San Francisco $5 per ton for over 500 miles, while to Los Angeles, for approximately half the distance, the rate was between $9 and $10 per ton. This commission reduces the rate to $5 per ton.

CRUDE OIL REDUCTION.

On crude oil it was found that the Southern Pacific had been charging from the Coalinga district to points in Arizona approximately 1000 miles distant, a rate of $6 per ton, while to points on the Owens River line from 150 to 250 miles they charged $8.20 per ton. This the commission reduced to points north of Owenyo to between $4 and $5 per ton, making an additional allowance for the transfer from broad to narrow gauge cars.

CUT IN LUMBER RATE.

Perhaps the most important reductions ordered are in the rates on lumber. The Southern Pacific has long maintained a rate of $10 per ton to all points in the Owens River country from San Francisco to the Oregon line at distances from 500 to 800 miles, while from Los Angeles for 300 miles the rate was $13.50 per ton. The rate to Laws is reduced to $7.10 per ton.

Southern Pacific Will Purchase Ten Millions in Rolling Stock for California.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 23.—[Special Dispatch.] The Southern Pacific with the $10,100,000 equipment trust certificates recently authorized by the California State Railroad Commission will purchase equipment to cost $11,423,-010, as follows:

Three thousand one hundred and eighty-one box cars, $3,719,601; 961 gondolas, $1,026,163; 700 work cars, $814,078; 850 stock cars, $850,350; 400 automobile cars, $573,600; 340 flat cars, $220,800; 200 tank cars, $273,500; forty-five caboose cars, $60,660; five gasoline motor cars, $106,885; eighty-four electric passenger cars, $1,160,369; 114 locomotives, $2,548,174; twenty-five tenders, $75,-080.

This equipment will be used over the entire Southern Pacific system. An initial sale of about $5,000,000 of the trust certificates will be made at an early date.

Striking Employees of International Harvester Twine Mills Reject Proposals Three to One.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

AUBURN (N. Y.) April 23.—By a vote of three to one, the striking employees of the International Harvester Company's twine mills rejected late today proposals of the company to settle the disputes that were laid before them in mass meeting by the State Board of Arbitration.

Details of the offer were not disclosed tonight, as the mediators believe there still are hopes for a settlement, and the reopening of the mills that the International company has threatened to remove to Germany because of troubles here.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CLEVELAND (O.) April 23.—Telegraph operators on the entire Erie Railroad system voted today on the question of a strike for a 12 per cent. increase in wages. W. S. Lowrie, president of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers, said the demand affects operators, station agents, telegraph men and linemen who work in interlocking switch towers, and that 1500 will walk out if a strike is decided upon.

Better Than Medicine

Breathe Hyomei and Be Rid of Catarrh—Clears Stopped-up Head.

Nature has a remedy for catarrh and troubles of the breathing organs, a treatment that is far better than dosing the stomach with medicine.

It is the healing oils and balsams of Hyomei which medicates the air you breathe, reaching the most remote air cells in the nose, throat and lungs, killing the catarrhal germs, and restoring health to the mucous membrane.

In using Hyomei you are treating your catarrhal troubles with the natural remedy, for it gives a curative bath to the air passages. It has a powerful healing and antiseptic effect similar to the air in the mountains where the forests give off the fragrant and healing balsams.

Hyomei has benefited so many sufferers of the worst cases of catarrh, with offensive breath, raising of mucus, frequent sneezing, droppings in the throat and spasmodic coughing that it is sold under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it does not do all that is claimed for it. If the treatment does not help you, there will not be a penny's expense, while if it cures the cost is nominal. A complete Hyomei Outfit sells for only $1.00. Extra bottles of liquid if later needed 50 cents.

Union Agitator Predicts a Lengthy Struggle.

Declares They Are Ready to Meet Difficulties.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23.—Only one boat was delayed in sailing today as a result of the strike of the wireless operators on the Pacific Coast. The coasting steamer F. A. Kilburn, bound for Eureka, left more than an hour late with one non-union operator and a union man who is returning to his home port to fulfill the terms of his contract with the North Pacific Steamship Company.

Efforts are being made by S. J. Konenkamp, president of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America, to induce the two operators on the steamer Centralia, which is due to sail at 3 o'clock, to leave their posts. The steamer Harvard, bound for San Pedro, will carry the regular operators, who are instructed to quit the vessel when she reaches the southern port. The steamer Buckman, leaving here at 3 o'clock, will have the two operators in her crew, both of whom have been ordered to remain ashore when the coaster reaches Seattle, their home port.

"No ships will be tied up this week," said Konenkamp today, "but this will be a long, drawn out fight and we are prepared to meet the difficulties that will arise."

ORDER I.W.W. FROM EL PASO.

AGITATORS FROM LOS ANGELES HOIST THE RED FLAG.

Mexican Employees of Guggenheim Smelter Refuse Wage Concession and Will Be Replaced by Negroes—Strikers Riot and One of Them Is Shot Down.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

EL PASO (Tex.) April 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The red flag of the I.W.W. has been flung to the breeze by the strike agitators at the Guggenheim smelter here and I.W.W. tactics are being employed to force the company to grant the demands of the striking Mexican laborers, who were urged to go out after the company had practically granted all of their demands.

Fernando Palomares, a Mexican agitator, who was in trouble in Los Angeles in connection with the I.W.W. and Mexican revolutionary propaganda, is the leader of the disturbers. At a meeting of the strikers held Tuesday night, the Mexicans voted against the I.W.W. men and their methods, and affiliated with the American Federation of Miners against the protests of Palomares and Rosendo Dorame, another California Mexican Indian, who has been active in the strike difficulties.

A Mrs. Hubler, also of Los Angeles, is on the ground as the representative of the I.W.W. organization. These agitators have been ordered to leave town. The Mexican strikers were receiving $1.35 per day and struck for $1.75. The company offered them a premium of 25 cents a day if they would work 90 per cent. of the time. This they refused and insisted upon striking.

Negroes from Louisiana will take the places. A riot occurred Tuesday morning, during which the Texas Rangers shot one striker.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS, April 23.—The plant of the American Steel Foundries Company, at Granite City, Ill., was shut down today when the superintendent learned that labor union representatives were trying to induce the workmen to strike. The plant employs 2800 men. After the mill closed the laborers and rammers marched to a hall where it was announced the two classes of workmen would be organized.

San Francisco Court Turns Loose Man Accused of Forgery When Another Confessed.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23.—First held to answer a charge of forgery, James E. Hunt was released today on his own recognizance by Police Judge Shortall.

"In this way," said the judge, "I have done all I can to right the wrong committed when Hunt was arrested. I believe the paying teller who positively identified him was mistaken."

Benjamin Brumby, alias Anderson, a long-sought forger, confessed on his arrest here two days ago that he was guilty of the forgery with which Hunt had been charged. Hunt is a real estate broker. There remains against him a felony charge on another count.

JOSLYN COMES TO HOLLYWOOD.

Omaha Millionaire, Whose Orchid Collection Was Destroyed by Cyclone Will Build in Hollywood.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OMAHA (Neb.) April 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] George A. Joslyn, president of the Western Newspaper Union, who makes his home in Omaha, today announced the building of a splendid winter home in Hollywood, Cal., where he will hereafter spend three or four months each year.

One of the main features of the place will be the conservatories upon which he will spend much money, and time.

Mr. Joslyn's collection of orchids, one of the finest in the United States, was wrecked by the recent cyclone, as were the splendid conservatories and grounds surrounding his million-dollar home in this city. The Omaha conservatories will not be rebuilt, but Mr. Joslyn will center his activities along these lines to building up the grounds at Hollywood. Plans for his California home are now being made.

FINDS BURGLAR UNDER BED.

Maid of Countess Anne Leary of New York Frightens Intruder Away By Screaming.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 23.—[Special Dispatch.] Detectives are hunting high and low tonight for a burglar who was found early this morning concealed under a bed in the palatial home of Countess Anne Leary, No. 1032 Fifth avenue, and was frightened away by the screams of Miss Leary's maid.

The Countess has been taking a great interest in the Catholic fair at the Twelfth Regiment Armory. Monday evening when they returned home she discovered the jewel case in her room had been opened and a rope of pearls, worth many thousands of dollars, was missing.

The countess told the servants of her loss, but when she found how the idea of thieves in the house frightened them, she tried to reassure them by saying that she probably had mislaid the jewelry. Nevertheless the household have been nervously on edge ever since.

Last night the maid heard a sneeze from under her bed. One glimpse showed her a young man sprawled on the floor. He was smooth-shaven, thin and had a dark complexion. She had no time to see more, because when she began screaming he scrambled out and climbed through the window.

FALL OF SCUTARI CHEERS ALLIES.

MONTENEGRO IS CONGRATULATED ON ALL SIDES.

First Effect of Surrender of the Fortress Is to Extend International Blockade to Durazzo—No Hitch in Peace Negotiations Is Expected.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, April 23.—The news of the fall of Scutari to the Montenegrins' arms has been received with extraordinary demonstrations of joy in all the capitals of the allies, especially in Belgrade. The Bulgarian Premier has sent effusive congratulations to the Montenegrin Premier.

The first effect of the fall of the fortress has been the extension of the international naval blockade to Durazzo.

It is understood that Russian diplomats prefer to leave the initiative to France and Great Britain and it is believed that neither will countenance any form of coercion with respect to Montenegro. Russia herself cannot countenance coercion without straining to the breaking point the patience of her Slavophile ruling class.

No serious hitch in the peace negotiations is expected.

BELGRADE GOES WILD.

REJOICE AT SCUTARI'S FALL.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

BELGRADE, April 23.—Not even the Servian victories during the war caused anything like the scenes of enthusiasm which were witnessed here today over the taking of Scutari by Montenegrins. Business was at a standstill while the whole population gave themselves over to rejoicing. Lawyers, merchants, soldiers and workmen danced in the streets to the strains of music. Wine may almost be said to have been flowing in the gutters, for everywhere barrels were broached and all were free to drink to the victory of the Montenegrins and the glory of "Greater Servia."

The city is brilliantly illuminated tonight. King Peter addressed a vast crowd from the balcony of the palace and declared that the Servian nation's joy was unbounded.

LEWIS LAYS WAR SCARES TO SPECULATORS' MEDDLING

Declares Trouble With Japan, Hostility of South American States, Peevishness of England and Possibility of Russia Toward the United States Are All the Fault of the Republicans' Government.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) April 23.—The United States is in "prospect of war with Japan;" it has a "disturbance" with England over the Panama Canal treaty, and Mexico and Central America are enemies of this country, according to the views of United States Senator James Hamilton Lewis, as expressed by him tonight in an address before the Illinois Legislature on the occasion of the one-hundredth anniversary of the birth of Stephen A. Douglas.

Senator Lewis declared that Mexico, Central and South America were making "combinations and alliances against the United States out of revenge," and, he added, "all of these are biding their time to aid Japan or any Oriental or European enemy in an assault upon us and in the destruction of the Panama Canal."

He said it was the result of "our late course of unnecessarily meddling at the direction of stock speculators into the private and financial affairs of foreign lands."

LAUDS SENATOR DOUGLAS.

Referring to Senator Douglas, Mr. Lewis said:

"Senator Douglas had as his political life theme the establishment of home rule or self-government in each State when not conflicting with the Constitution of the United States.

"We need more of home rule—State regulation of State institutions and business organizations conducted within the State which profit from the citizens—and less of government at a distance and by Presidential discretion. Congressional intrusion and Federal court invasion. This will do much to bring democracy to Republican government and re-establish the Federal courts in the confidence of the citizens and the respect of the nation.

DOUGLAS'S POLICY.

"Senator Douglas saw the future as it is now pictured in the present, in his demand for an American foreign policy; one that kept America's hands off of foreign countries, and kept the hands of foreign countries off of America.

"See the prospect of war with Japan. Note the disturbance [illegible] land over the Panama Canal. Mark the enmity [illegible] with France from time to time, and finding expression in objection to the construction of the Panama Canal. NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 23.—[Special Dispatch.] The labor troubles at Auburn which threatened to drive an important industry from the country caused much comment. Very pertinent is this from the Wall Street Journal:

"Auburn is furnishing another object lesson on strikes. Because of a senseless strike without any previous demand for redress of grievances, real or imaginary, a community is threatened with the loss of one of its principal industries. Some of the workers themselves are said to be already leaving the place. But as they are merely birds of passage, they are not the real sufferers.

CARNEGIE HOOTS AT WAR SCARE.

Lord of Skibo Sanguine Over Peace Outlook.

Senate Will Adopt Arbitration Treaty.

Lobby Reports of German Armament Scandal.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 23.—[Special Dispatch.] Andrew Carnegie, iron master and manufacturer of battleship armor "in a small way," now advocate of world peace, has no occasion for the furor in Germany over the alleged scandals involving the Krupps and the Grusonwerke Munitions und Waffen-Fabrik with attempts to induce the newspapers of France to foment war sentiment and indirectly incline public opinion in Germany towards large expenditures for army and navy. He has recounted on them as obstacles in the way of peace movement, he declared, Carnegie does not believe for a moment that the conditions depicted in cabled reports really exist as for this country, he is certain that it had no Essen in his mind when rumors of war were made to your Congress to increased naval appropriations or which created a lobby for that purpose. He does not believe that there is any interest represented in the politics today.

CARNEGIE OPTIMISTIC.

He does the time when he hoped to see that the Taft arbitration treaty would pass the Senate was the occasion of international peace was hopeful of the fate of his peace dreams as he did today library reading over the Washington dispatches describing Secretary Bryan's new treaty plans, which he heartily approves.

No comment was made upon the smile which radiated from him, followed with a Carnegie chuckle.

"That is a good sign, after having been disappointed. But in my time the conditions were so favorable in the Senate for the passage of the Taft treaty that I believe Senate will surprise the country by passing perhaps even a better treaty than the one they rejected.

"Mr. Bryan, having his predecessor's work before him, may be expected to proceed with wary steps and I am glad of what he thought of President Taft's attitude in the matter, he is not trying to find a reply he thinks strong enough. Then, he leaned forward and said with a smile, which in his tone was none the less forcible, "I should like to insure Mr. Taft right on the question of peace at the smallest premium ever named."

TO ATTEND CONVENTION.

Mr. Carnegie, who will himself attend the next American congress at St. Louis, which convenes May 1, said Secretary of State Bryan would be pleased and he is jubilant over the success of what will be accomplished by the meeting to which the International Peace Forum of this city and the New York Peace Society, of which he is president, with some eighty other peace societies, will send delegates. President Wilson, who has accepted honorary presidency of the American Peace Society, has signified his intention of being on hand for the opening exercises, if possible.

Inquiry was made of Carnegie whether he had formed an opinion as to the state of affairs which existed recently as a result of the appointment of a parliamentary committee to investigate the armament scandal, he made answer reply: "Yes, and I would express the opinion decidedly that investigation will prove there is no foundation for the charges made, for two reasons. First, I don't believe that anyone works like the Krupps are parties to the iniquities of which they are charged and second, even if they were, to the supreme folly involved in placing themselves in the hands of disreputable people for what would be if they could be bribed. Bribery, as in other lines, honesty is only the best policy, it is the only way that succeeds. Dishonesty spells failure and ruin."

SUCH METHODS HERE.

Regarding the possibility of American manufacturers resorting to the methods attributed to the Germans, Mr. Carnegie scouted the idea.

"I do not believe that we have anything of that kind in this country. I do not know that there is a particle of influence exerted. You do the manufacturers too much credit, sense," he added. "They are busy with the details of their business and would never think of getting propaganda sufficient to affect legislation to the extent necessary to influence our Congressmen or government officials. Amid all the clamor and unjust suspicions of which I believe them to be a body of highly honorable gentlemen, who manage the affairs of their respective districts honestly. It is very true that we have heard or suspected cases of bribery in regard to certain official purchases. That is where the trouble lies."

Where the difficulty does come in he points to naval and army officials," said Mr. Carnegie, "every other class of producers and working people. They are a profession. Nothing like the shoemaker; nothing like the soldier; nothing like warship, naval officer. 'Tis my voice, 'tis no sin for a man to lay down his vocation.'"

MRS. SAMUED SCHENCK .TIRES OF THE BONDS.

Former Society Matron and Leading Suffrage Advocate Names Mrs. Abbie L. Morgan of Buffalo in a Bill Filed With Justice Geigerich of New York.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 23.—[Special Dispatch.] Mrs. Eva L. Schenck, a former society matron of Los Angeles, and well known as a suffrage advocate, asked Justice Geigerich in the New York Supreme Court today to dissolve the bonds which have united her in marriage with Samuel Schenck, a Californian, since December 8, 1909. A half-million land deal, Mrs. Abbie Lee Loud Morgan, wife of William Morgan, a wealthy real estate man of Buffalo, N. Y., and protracted conferences lasting two days and two nights in the exclusive apartments of Mrs. Jessie Rankin at the Hotel Sherman here in January, last, were among the incidents and people mentioned. It is understood that a second divorce suit will follow the present action.

SCHENCK IN THE WEST.

Mrs. Morgan, who is prominent in Buffalo society, put in a denial to Mrs. Schenck's charges, but failed to appear today. Neither did Schenck attend the trial. He is said to be in the West.

Mrs. Rankin, a tall prepossessing young woman, told Justice Geigerich Mrs. Morgan was her guest early this year, when Mr. Schenck called on her regarding the business deal. She said she left them in the parlor when she retired.

"What were they doing when you left them?" she was asked.

"Discussing the business deal in timberlands," she said.

She next saw them the following morning at the breakfast table. Mrs. Rankin was absent from her apartment during much of the following day and hence was unable to inform the court of the programme of the negotiations. Early the following morning Schenck left the Rankin apartments

Mrs. Ruby Rush of Columbus, O., a niece of Mrs. Schenck, testified she met her uncle in the Columbus Hotel shortly after the incident and that Schenck confessed to her that weighty business matters were not the sole topic of conversation in Mrs. Rankin's apartments.

Gets Rheumatism Where He Wants It

Any One Can Now Cure the Worst Form of Rheumatism, Even Articular, Sciatic, and The Dreaded Neuritis.

This Plainly Shows How You Feel After Using S. S. S. It Surely Gets Rheumatism Where You Want It.

No more journeys to hot springs. No more salicylic acid. No more makeshifts, narcotics, opium, morphine, mercury, nor any other vile poisonous drug or pain deadener. The great discovery, Swift's Sure Specific, for aching bones and joints, nerve splitting pains in the muscles, backache, and every form of rheumatism, is the most remarkable remedy known to science.

It is naturally absorbed into your thoracic duct. In just about five minutes after it reaches your stomach, the heart begins pumping it all over your body.

Away Go the Crutches.

Its action is marvelous. Bed-ridden rheumatics get on their feet as if by magic. That cold, clammy sensation that made you hug a red hot stove is gone in a twinkling. That excruciating pain that made a feather lay as heavy as a ton of coal on the skin is gone. You get up and dance with glee. You metaphorically toss the rheumatic goblin into the invisible where. Your rheumatism is gone—absolutely! It is an actual logical fact that Swift's Sure Specific gives your entire blood circulation a fine, thorough bath. It just naturally and in a twinkling irrigates every atom in your body. It rushes into every cell, causes every bone, muscle, ligament, tendon, mucous surface and every nerve to thrill with freedom, with health, with new-found springiness.

And best of all, Swift's Sure Specific, though a powerful, searching, overwhelming enemy to pain and the causes of rheumatism is as pure as the dew on a peach blossom, as powerful as the heroic works of nature in searching as the peremptory demand of the most successful science.

Is Truly a Wonder.

Swift's Sure Specific puts the bright of red color to the cheeks; gives your nerves a new-found flush of joy; puts a glow of excitement into your muscles. No more Sciatica; no more rheumatic sore throat; no more danger of Locomotor Ataxia; no more Iritis, Neuritis, or any other inflammatory condition that has laid so many low. Swift's Sure Specific is an extract, made and distributed from one of the world's greatest laboratories, and is one of the greatest remedies ever produced for any purpose.

Works Five Ways.

Swift's Sure Specific is such a thorough blood cleanser that it stimulates the lungs to burn up the poisons; causes the skin to evaporate great quantities of acids; flushes the kidneys and bladder to excrete the deadly toxins that cause uraemic poisoning; assists the liver to convert bad blood into good, rich, red blood, and enables the bowels to move out of the system the waste that has been a daily menace to life. Don't wait another day before beginning this remarkable remedy.

You will find it on sale at any drug store at $1.00 per bottle. Ask for S. S. S., the world's cure for rheumatism. For private, personal advice on stubborn chronic rheumatism, write at once to The Swift Specific Company, 133 Swift Building, Atlanta, Georgia. Their medical department is famous on all blood diseases, and is equipped to make personal blood tests, approved by the highest medical authorities. Get a bottle of S. S. S. to-day. Then—away goes rheumatism for all time.

ALLEGED HUERTA EMISSARY LOCKED UP BY CARRANZA.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

EAGLE PASS (Tex.) April 23.—Louis F. Saladana, said to be a peace emissary from President Huerta, was imprisoned at Piedras Negras yesterday when he presented his mission to Gov. Carranza, according to reports reaching here. Lack of satisfactory credentials was given as the cause for imprisonment. Today a decree was issued that hereafter all emissaries claiming to come from Huerta or his associates would be arrested if they appeared in territory dominated by Carranza.

Gov. Carranza has asked the United States government for permission to continue receiving arms and ammunition, which he said had been accorded him for two years past as "Constitutionalist Governor of Coahuila." He said Huerta was allowed to import war munitions at Laredo.

TENOR SINGS TO PRISONERS IN ATLANTA.

Julian Hawthorne Mingles His Tears With Those of "Ty" Cobb in an Affecting Scene—Son of the Novelist Composes an Ode of Welcome to the Visitors.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ATLANTA (Ga.) April 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Julian Hawthorne, convict No. 4435, welcomed Enrico Caruso to the Federal Penitentiary with a poem when the tenor visited the institution this afternoon to sing to the hundreds of prisoners. With Caruso was Ty Cobb, who made a brief and sympathetic talk to the prisoners after Caruso had sung.

The selections which Caruso rendered were: "O, Paradise," l'Africaine-Meyerbeer; "Idealle," a ballad by Tosti; "Ridi Pagliacci" (sob song,) I. Pagliacci-Leoncavallo.

The auditorium was deathly quiet when the accompanist struck the keys and Caruso stepped to the little platform. Behind him was the garish scenery of the prison theater, rudely painted by a convict. Before him sat the members of the prison orchestra, musicians drawn from the ranks of the convicts.

Caruso faltered for a moment, touched by the unusual occasion, but soon found himself and sent his notes through the reaches of the prison auditorium. When he concluded nearly every prisoner was sobbing, and Caruso himself had broken down.

"I cannot help it," said Caruso. "The thought of those 900 men shut away from the world overcomes me, and I would rather give them a moment's joy than to sing before kings."

Near the little stage sat Julian Hawthorne, and he was profoundly moved. Near Hawthorne were Lupo, the Wolf, once king of the Black-Handers, and a little band of his brother Italians captured with him. Caruso was no novelty to them, though they had never expected to hear the golden tenor in such surroundings.

HAWTHORNE'S POEM.

Hawthorne's welcoming poem was entitled "Enrico Caruso." One stanza follows:

"Then, in the hush of the great blank hall,
God wrought a wondrous miracle,
For a voice, like a glorious trumpet call,
Arose as a soul from the deeps of hell,
And our souls rose with it on wondrous wings,
Rose from their prison of iron and clay,
Forgot the grime and shame of things,
We were men once again in a sunlit day,
Sin and grief and punishment—all
Were lost in that human trumpet call."

Caruso thanked Hawthorne and expressed the hope that he would soon be free.

Recipes for Wrinkles and Bad Complexions

(From Art and Nature.)

Of all the beauty recipes in my scrap book, here are two that have always given complete satisfaction:

Wrinkle Remover—One ounce powdered saxolite, dissolved in ½ pint witch hazel. Use as a wash lotion. It brings instantaneous results.

Face Peeler—Pure mercolized wax, applied at night like cold cream, only not rubbed in; wash off in the morning. It causes the worn-off scarf skin to come off in tiny, almost invisible flakes, a little each day, until the fresh young under-skin is wholly in evidence. The beautiful rose-tinted complexion thus obtained is not to be compared with one made over with cosmetics. If the old skin is marred with freckles, pimples or other blemishes, these defects are of course discarded with the skin itself. An ounce of the wax is sufficient in any case.

The ingredients named are inexpensive and can be found in any drug store.—Louise Leblanc.—[Advertisement.]

Democratic Scheme to G Thirty Thousand Jobs.

Burleson Has Plan to G Republican Postmaster

California Congressmen for Unique Proposition.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 23.—[Exclusive dispatch.] If President Wilson agrees to a plan of Postmaster-General Burleson about 10,000 Republican fourth-class postmasters eventually will lose their jobs, despite the fact that President Taft put them under civil service protection before he left office. Several hundred California postmasters would be affected.

The plan to oust the Republicans is simple and has the enthusiastic indorsement of the California Democratic Congressmen. Examinations would be held for all postmasters' offices as fast as commissions expire. The three candidates who stand at the head of the list would be certified for appointment. The Congressmen and the Postmaster-General would select one of three, provided a Democrat, and there would always be at least one Democrat among the three. In Republican districts the Postmaster-General would select the appointee without asking the Congressman's advice. The procedure would be strictly according to civil service rules selecting applicants for other government services.

In this way the Democrats hope to displace every Republican fourth-class postmaster in the country as fast as their commissions expire.

MINIMUM WAGE BILL PASSES.

Assembly Votes for An Appropriating Twenty-five Thousand Dollars Annually for an Investigation.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, April 23.—The minimum wage bill, introduced by Assemblyman Roberts, one of the pledges of the Progressive platform, was passed by a vote of 61 to 11, opposition being grounded on the claim that such a system would open up the disadvantage of organized labor. The measure appropriates $25,000 annually to provide for a commission to "ascertain the wages paid, the hours and conditions of labor and employment in the various occupations in which women and minors are employed in California and to make investigations into the conditions of health, safety and welfare of such women and minors."

The Industrial Welfare Commission, as it is to be known, is to be a permanent board, insofar as its duties specified, and is to consist of five appointive members, one of whom is to be a woman. The State Labor Commissioner is ex officio a sixth member.

When the commission has sufficiently completed its investigations it is to advertise and hold a public hearing. No order prescribing as to wages or hours is to become effective before April 1, 1915.

Those voting against the bill were Bradford, Ford, Griffin, Gwin, Hornbrook, Johnston, Killingsworth, Lisle, Murray, Palmer, Schmitt, Tyrrell and Wall.

Assemblyman Scott's bill creating a State Humane Commission was passed unanimously.

LEGISLATIVE REFORM

Senator Cartwright Would Put One House and Limit Number of Lawmakers to Forty.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, April 23.—A unique plan for the reorganization of the whole legislative branch of the State government is proposed in a Constitutional amendment offered for introduction simultaneously with both houses of the Legislature.

The bill, which was framed by Senator George W. Cartwright of Kern and H. C. Bagby of Stanislaus, proposes to submit to the voters of the State an amendment providing for a single house of the Legislature to consist of forty members who would draw a biennial salary of $1200.

They would remain in session for nine months at a time, every other year, beginning 1917, and would have all the powers that now are divided between the Senate and Assembly. The official title of members would be "legislators," and they would be elected from the present Senate districts.

Senator Cartwright believes the proposed system would result in a great saving to the State. He estimates that the cost of members' salaries now $500 per day for each House, $1000 a day for the two, would be cut to $240 a day.

As a means of making the Legislature non-partisan measure, Cartwright secured the names of Senators Flint, Gates, Boynton and Thompson, Republicans, and Campbell, Finn and Cohn, Democrats, in the move to join him in signing the bill.

CHICAGO, April 23.—Jack Johnson, negro pugilist, was fined $1000 by Judge Carpenter in the United States District Court today on charges of smuggling a $30,000 necklace had been dropped when the case was declared formally closed by agreement.

Johnson is still to come to trial on an indictment charging violation of the Mann law.

The necklace was brought into this country when the pugilist's first white wife, who recently committed suicide, returned from a European tour.

The bill, which was framed by Senator George W. Cartwright of Fresno and H. C. Bagby of Santa Barbara, proposes to submit to the voters of the State an amendment providing for a single house of the Legislature, to consist of forty members who would draw a biennial salary of $1800.

They would remain in session for nine months at a time, every second year, beginning 1917, and would have all the powers that now are divided between the Senate and Assembly. The official title of members would be "legislators," and they would be elected from the present Senate districts.

TEACHER TO MARRY PUPIL.

Los Angeles Professor Goes East to Put Climax to Schoolroom Romance in Ohio.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CINCINNATI, April 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Milton S. Cox, at present a resident of Los Angeles, Cal., and formerly a member of the Ohio State Legislature, from Dundas, O., will be married Thursday at the Central Church in this city to Miss Ida B. Timms, prominent in the younger social circles of this city.

Behind this nuptial event is a pretty love romance of the schoolroom. Mr. Cox some years ago was a teacher in the public schools of the town of Dundas, this State, and Miss Timms was his pupil. The acquaintance formed at that time ripened into love and later engagement, which will end in a pretty wedding Thursday. Prof. and Mrs. Cox, after an eastern trip to visit their many friends.

PIONEER EDUCATOR DIES.

Thomas Milton Gatch, Well Known in California, Passes Away in Seattle.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE, April 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Thomas Milton Gatch, 80 years old, one of the best-known pioneer educators of the Pacific Coast, died last night at his home, No. 1232 Fourth avenue, of valvular heart disease.

Mr. Gatch had been ill for several months and a few weeks ago appeared to be at a very low ebb and the end was expected every minute. Suddenly he rallied, stubbornly fighting death until yesterday, when he succumbed. Dr. Gatch is survived by two grown daughters and one son, Mrs. Clara Gatch Wheeler, Miss Grace Gatch and Claud Gatch. Funeral arrangements are withheld pending arrival tomorrow of the decedent's son, Claud Gatch, from California.

Dr. Gatch was born in Ohio in 1833, and after graduating with several degrees from Depauw, proceeded via Panama to California in 1856, where he became president of the University of the Pacific, at Santa Clara. In 1857 he became principal of the schools of Santa Cruz, but returned to Santa Clara the following year.

In 1859 he removed to Olympia and in 1860 became professor of ancient and modern languages and later president of Willamette University at Salem. In 1866 he returned to the presidency of the University of the Pacific at Santa Clara, but returned to Oregon the following year and taught in various schools of Oregon and Washington until 1903, when he retired. He was known as one of the deepest scholars on the Pacific Coast.

"The Exclusive Specialty House for Feminine Apparel"

From the looks of some of the suits we see on the streets, we believe that a good many of our competitors are cubists or futurists, or something that has no relation whatsoever to the trend of present day styles. A man can be dressed up-to the-minute and a little bit ahead of time without looking like a fright. We have proven it, and are proving it to dozens of live wires every day. We can prove it to you, and we will not charge you any more for one of our made-to-measure suits that will be made to your measure than you would pay for a ready-made suit, that was cut and fit to a dummy three thousand miles away.

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF.

Elevator Crushes Leg.

Nye Williams, a salesman employed by the Bass Hueter Paint Company, in trying to get on an elevator in the Van Nuys building yesterday, sustained injuries which may necessitate amputation of his right leg below the knee. His foot was caught between the floor and the top of the cage and crushed. He lives at No. 101 South Bunker Hill avenue.

Not Commercial National.

James Henry Mann, formerly a messenger for the National Bank of Commerce which is now merged with the Home Savings Bank, was held to answer to the Superior Court on a charge of embezzlement by Justice Summerfield Tuesday. Through an inadvertence it was stated yesterday that the colored man had been in the employ of the Commercial National Bank. The amount of the alleged peculation is placed at about $900.

Falls Through Floor.

G. W. Clark, No. 1021 West Eleventh street, was seriously injured about the back and head yesterday when he fell from the second story to the basement of the Los Angeles Creamery Company plant. Workmen are engaged in repairs at the plant. Clark fell through a hole in the floor. He was taken to the Receiving Hospital, where attending physicians say he will recover.

Meat Pie Dinner.

The women of the Union-avenue Methodist Church will serve a meat-pie dinner tomorrow night, the proceeds to be used toward defraying the running expenses of the community social work, the reading-room and moving picture entertainments have been so successfully introduced there by the pastor, Rev. R. J. Coyne and which is winning the attention of all the young people in that section.

Fire in Seed Store.

The stock of the Germain Seed and Plant Store, No. 336 South Main street, was partly ruined yesterday by fire and water following a blaze which is said to have originated in the heating plant of the Belmont Hotel. The cellar of the seed store was flooded and guests of the hotel prepared to leave when the flames appeared in the adjoining building. The damage to the building is estimated at $300, fully insured.

Sixty Per Cent. Teach.

Occidental College has issued a statement showing that 60 per cent. of the graduates of the institution become teachers in the public schools. Many of the others become identified with christian work, either as ministers, missionaries or as secretaries. The college has a student volunteer band of thirty members who are pledged to take up missionary work either in America or in a foreign country. Attention is called to a number of prominent athletes who have graduated there.

Safe With the Police.

Following an all-night search for 2-year-old Russell Chadwell, of No. 2566 Marengo street, the distracted parents finally appealed to the police yesterday morning and found the little wanderer safe in the matron's room at Central Station. A policeman found him early Tuesday morning curled up in a doorway fast asleep. During the long search of friends and relatives it had not once occurred to them to call the police for possible information of the lost child.

Penniless Actor, at One Time Noted, But Lately Forgotten, Commits Suicide in New York.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Louden McCormick, in his time, a noted actor, but unheard of in this city for many years, committed suicide today in the Hotel Empire by swallowing laudunum. His body was found in his room this afternoon by a maid. Dr. Lipziger, the hotel physician, said he had been dead several hours.

McCormick registered at the hotel yesterday. He was not seen alive after that. In his room was found a note asking hotel people to notify the actors' fund. There was not a cent in the pockets of his worn, but neatly pressed, clothing.

New York Court Rules They Cannot Be Allowed to Pollute Supply of Municipality.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ALBANY (N. Y.) April 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] To protect their water supply municipalities can restrain, it was ruled today, an owner of domestic fowl from permitting fowl to pollute waters which drain into a public water supply. This was held by a Court of Appeals in an action brought by New York City against Benjamin Blum, Rockville Centre, Nassau county. His 200 ducks, it was charged, polluted part of the water supply of the city when there was an overflow.

Autopsy Shows St. Louis Women Buried in Basement Died of Natural Causes.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS, April 23.—Autopsies today on the bodies of Mrs. Ernestine Kommichau and of her daughter, Selma, which were found immured in cement in the basement of their home Tuesday, convinced the post mortem physicians that both women died of natural causes.

This agrees with the story told by Miss Marie Kommichau, a surviving daughter, who said her mother and sister died of natural causes, but that she buried them in the basement because they had a fear of interment in cemeteries.

Exodus of Maderos.

GALVESTON (Tex.) April 23.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Alfonso, Emilio and Gabriel Madero, brothers of former President Madero of Mexico, arrived here from San Antonio last night with their families and will sail this afternoon for New York.

Hospital Cohorts Will Call for the Surplus.

First Day Closes With Good Showing for Fund.

Optimism Rules at Bustling Headquarters.

Simultaneously with the blowing of The Times siren at 9 o'clock yesterday morning, leading a chorus of all the steam whistles in the city, augmented by the clanging of church bells and street car gongs, the army of canvassers in the campaign to raise $250,000 for the Social Service Hospital marched out from headquarters at No. 319 West Sixth street.

Some of the teams went in automobiles to distant parts of the city and the others scattered in the several directions, according to a plan previously arranged. The result of the day's work, taken in connection with the subscriptions announced at the banquet on Tuesday evening, was considered a satisfactory beginning of the campaign, as the totals footed considerably more than 10 per cent. of the amount to be raised in the ten days. The figures show $28,660 contributed, or $2660 more than the amount necessary to complete the fund in the allotted time. It is anticipated that the result today, with the teams well adjusted to the task before them, will show encouragingly large subscriptions.

At the headquarters an extensive bureau is being maintained, with a number of stenographers, clerks and directors of the campaign. It resembled an extremely bustling business house yesterday and left no doubt as to the earnestness with which the work has been undertaken, and no one could look on and have any other idea than that success will crown the determined efforts of those enlisted in the service.

Following is the organization under which the canvass is being prosecuted:

WANTS TWENTY HONEST POLICE.

Judge Declares He Could Vacuum Clean Chicago's West Side With Them Despite Unparalleled Vice.

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 23.—[Special Dispatch.] Municipal Judge Mahoney today declared conditions on the West Side district of Chicago are unparalleled in the world.

"But," he added, "with twenty brave and honest policemen I could vacuum-clean the district in a few days.

"If the decent people of Chicago knew the facts they would want the whole district burned down. So great and rich have we grown yet we wallow in filth, drunkenness, blackguardism and crime. These conditions exist because some powerful person or persons want them to exist. Murders continually happen on the West Side without Chicago being any the wiser. Banks and business men have laughed at me for suggesting that the evils could be removed. When I went to the Desplaines Court—the heart of the West Side, I found the police appearing as champions of the lawless. 'They will pick you off some day,' said a policeman to me. 'They have picked off other men.'

"Jack rollers, go right into the new Northwestern Station and pull out victims waiting for trains. 'Get him right and get him quick, or some one else will get you,' is the motto of Chicago's West Side.

SHOOTS HIS BROTHER AND A BYSTANDER.

Crazed Dentist Then Fires on Police From Barricaded Home.

John Doak, Harboring Weird Ideas, Uses Revolver With Terrible Effect in Hollenbeck Hotel Lobby and Commandeers Auto to Get Away—His Bullet Lifts Officer's Hat Before Capture.

JOHN L. DOAK, a crazed dentist, shot and fatally injured Samuel L. Doak, his brother, and dangerously wounded a bystander, Frank Mertz, a well-to-do real estate man, in the lobby of the Hollenbeck Hotel, Second and Spring streets, at 11 o'clock last night.

Then the maniac ran out on Spring street, commandeered a passing automobile, and with his revolver against the back of the driver, H. W. Sanborn, No. 138 North Hobart boulevard, ordered the car driven at furious speed to his home, No. 1025 Florida street. Sanborn's cousin, Miss Mabel Barber, hid herself under the robes at the murderer's feet.

Immediately the maniac sprang into the safety of his home, barricaded the doors, stationed himself at an upper window, and fired a fusillade of shots when the police from the Central Station arrived to arrest him. He was captured after an hour's battle.

The shooting was the expression of an insane passion John L. Doak conceived against his brother Samuel. He believed that Samuel was seeking to steal from him his little daughter, Claudia, 2 year old, living with her mother, in Oregon City, Or.

The insanity was of long standing. With his wife and daughter, Doak had gone to Oregon City more than a year ago to practice his profession of dentistry. He had been a hard drinker for the last five years, according to his father, Thomas Doak, a well-to-do mining man with large undeveloped properties in Mexico. About six months ago the man displayed erratic tendencies which rapidly developed into mental aberrations that became dangerous.

VISIONARY ENEMIES.

He conceived weird ideas of persons hunting him down, and went fully armed to resist the attacks of visionary enemies. One night he returned to his home and threatened his wife, it is asserted. As a result he was sentenced by a lunacy commission to the hospital for the insane at Salem, Or. In the second week of his detention there, he escaped by eluding the guards one afternoon.

A few days later he appeared at the home of his father in San Diego, where the mining man and his son, Samuel, were temporarily staying. They received him, believed that his insanity was not of a dangerous nature, and did everything in their power to relieve his delusions.

Two weeks ago they came to Los Angeles, residing at No. 1025 Florida street. A few days ago, John Doak began accusing his brother, Samuel, of attempting to steal his daughter and also his wife. Samuel had never seen the wife or daughter. John continued to rave at his brother, and the father, who had recently passed through his thirteenth surgical operation within as many months, and who is 73 years old, tried to pacify the younger boy. John Doak is 37 years old, and his wounded brother, who is dying, is 38.

SHOOTS IN LOBBY.

Samuel Doak had left his traveling bag at the Hollenbeck Hotel yesterday afternoon preparatory to leaving for San Diego on the 11:45 o'clock train last night. He returned to his home, and dined with his father and brother. John Doak was particularly excited last night. As Samuel Doak bade all farewell and left John Doak went to his room and secretly armed himself. He returned and told his father he was going to follow Samuel. The father insisted on accompanying him and the three went to the Hollenbeck Hotel on the same street car. As they got off and went into the lobby of the hotel the father was stopped by Frank Mertz, and the two old acquaintances stood chatting while the brothers advanced to the desk.

Without warning John Doak turned, drew his revolver, and cursing him for attempting to steal his daughter, fired on his brother. The bullet, a soft-nosed 45-caliber missile, passed through Samuel Doak's stomach, clipping his backbone and fatally injuring him. He dropped to the floor. John Doak, firing twice more, ran out to Spring street screaming as he ran, "I'll kill 'em all, I'll kill 'em all."

MERTZ DROPS.

A panic-stricken crowd of hotel guests in the lobby sat paralyzed through the tragedy that transpired with such fleeting horror that none could move. Samuel Doak lay writhing on the floor, his lower members paralyzed.

Nearer the street, Frank Mertz dropped to the floor, shouting that he had been shot. One of the stray bullets had entered the instep of his right foot and ranged upward. Mertz was already lamed in that foot and the surgeons in the Receiving Hospital fear that blood poisoning will result because of the inadequate circulation.

TERRIBLE DRIVE.

While the people in the lobby were wildly rushing to the assistance of the wounded men, the lunatic had rushed to the middle of the street while pedestrians, seeing the drawn revolver in his hand, scampered wildly to safety. He stopped an automobile, driven by young Sanborn, who was accompanied by his 20-year-old cousin, Miss Mabel Barber, sitting in the rear seat. Doak jumped to the running board, aimed his revolver at Sanborn, pushed it between the autoist's shoulders and ordered him to drive as fast as he could. While standing there he fired three shots without wounding fleeing spectators, who sought cover in every cranny that a street affords.

Miss Barber saw the man as he

ODD AND IMPORTANT CASE.

Jury in Judge Wellborn's Court to Settle Question of Railroads' Responsibilities.

Are railroads responsible for the acts of their passengers?

A jury in Judge Wellborn's court will retire today to decide the question, brought out in a $50,000 damage suit against the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad by A. H. and Carrie Nelson of Redlands.

Mrs. Nelson was injured, according to the testimony, by falling over a valise placed in the aisle of a passenger train at San Bernardino by J. J. Ryan of Hanford, June 15, 1912. Reception of evidence in the case was completed yesterday.

The issue evolves from the question whether it was the duty of the trainmen to see that the traveling-bag had not been permitted to remain in the aisle, or to have been placed there.

CHASES LADIES UP TALL TREES.

FEMALE LONGHORN RUNS AMUCK AND SCATTERS SEX.

Untamed Bovine of the Plains Scorns Restraint of Herd-riders and Has a Circus of Her Own Until a Cop With Coyboy Antecedents Ropes and Hogties Her.

An untamed longhorn of feminine gender but unladylike disposition had the residents of Brooklyn avenue literally up a tree yesterday afternoon when she broke away from the inadequate restraint of her youthful herders and ran amuck over lawns and through back yards. For nearly an hour she was monarch of all she surveyed. She was subdued only when Mounted Policeman Hall of the Boyle Heights station entered the arena with his trustly lariat.

Under the direction of Police Sergeant Stelfride and stimulated by the cheers of admiring hundreds, Hall rounded up the unruly animal, roped and hogtied her in finished cowboy style and the reign of terror was ended.

The cow was one of a herd shipped in to the city yesterday morning. The animals were being driven through the streets when they became restless and some of them broke away from the young men who were riding herd. After an exciting chase all were rounded up except one. She sped down Brooklyn avenue apparently made with rage.

Several hundred school children fled in terror in every direction while their anxious mothers ran out of their houses. It was a lively game of tag and the belligerent cow was it, self-appointed. Fences proved to be no effective barrier and several of the shrieking women and children scrambled in a panic to the lower branches of trees. In one instance the frightened women climbed up in the nick of time, the infuriated bovine just missing her quarry by inches. Later, subdued and humbled, she was given over to the pound-keeper.

MULE-FOOT MASCOT LUCKY FOR YANCEY.

Promoter Who Started With Nerve Only Comes Out With Hundreds of Thousands of Dollars After Settlement of Series of Remarkable Legal Actions—Says Queer Hogs Are Doing Nicely.

THE MULE-FOOT hog has proved to be a lucky mascot for James C. Yancey, famous promoter of oil companies, lawsuits and swine ranches. "Mule-foot" Jim and his fighting partner, Theodore N. Barnsdale of Philadelphia, had a settlement yesterday, dissolved partnership, and agreed to a dismissal of the thirty or more suits pending against each other in the various courts in California and other States.

Victory was perched upon Yancey's brow when he came out of the final conference. He gets $25,000 cash and timber lands in Washington and other States in the Northwest, valued at about $400,000. Considering the fact that Yancey's only asset in the beginning was nerve, he and his friends believe that he came out of it all in fairly good condition. Anyhow, the promoter showed his satisfaction by buying himself another large diamond yesterday afternoon and spending the evening with the boys.

The Yancey-Barnsdale partnership was productive of more kinds of lawsuits, it seems, than any other partnership in the history of our country. They sued each other repeatedly upon various pretexts. Yancey was made a defendant in civil and criminal actions, bankruptcy suits, contempt proceedings, suffered "kidnaption," was bantered and bullied. Every time that Barnsdale brought a new suit Yancey came right back with a counter legal action.

To go back to the beginning: Yancey had an idea that he could locate valuable oil lands in California if only he had money to buy food, tobacco and other necessities while he was doing the locating. He went to Pittsburgh and had an interview with Barnsdale. Now a word about Barnsdale. He is one of the very largest of the eastern oil operators. A few years back he caused a little comment by borrowing $8,000,000 from the Standard Oil Company.

Yancey and Barnsdale formed a copartnership. The latter put in $155,000. Yancey didn't have any money, but he borrowed $120,000 from J. I. Lambreth, one of Barnsdale's friends. It was agreed that Barnsdale should own two-thirds, and Yancey one-third of the stock of their company.

Yancey came back to California and proceeded to obtain leases on oil lands. He gained control of valuable properties in Kern county, including the now-famous "Hopkins lease," valued at about $1,000,000. Then Yancey organized the Petroleum Development Company, incorporated for $1,000,000, under the laws of Nevada.

Pretty soon Barnsdale made the charge that when Yancey organized the concern he forgot to send any of the stock back to Pittsburgh. Yancey denied this and brought a suit against Barnsdale. That was the beginning of their famous endurance litigation contest.

LINKING THIS CITY TO GREAT SAN JUAN BASIN.

PRIVATE CAPITAL and enterprise are to do what all the king's horses and all the king's men have so far failed to persuade the railroads to do—tap the fabulously-rich San Juan basin of Southwestern Colorado, and adjacent portions of Utah, Arizona, and New Mexico with a standard-gauge road that will put this region into direct communication with Los Angeles.

Emil Stein of Durango, Colo., the largest city in the basin, and W. A. Venter of New York, are behind the new railroad, which will shortly be incorporated under the name of the Montezuma-San Juan Southern. Ray F. Goodman, formerly a district engineer for the Pennsylvania, has been engaged as chief engineer, according to information furnished the Santa Fe, with which the new line will connect on the south.

The projected line will branch off from the Durango branch of the Denver and Rio Grande at Dolores, Montezuma couty, Colo., near the center of the basin, and run from there to Cortez, the county seat, and then to Mancos, whence it will follow the La Plata River through the South Ute and Navajo Indian reservation to Fruitland, N. M., and on to connection with the Santa Fe at Grant, sixty miles east of where the proposed Southern Pacific line was to cross the Santa Fe.

The length of the line is estimated at 200 miles, traversing a flat country for all but twenty miles of its length, this last being over the Continental Divide.

As large as the State of West Virginia, rich in coal and metalliferous deposits, with billions of feet of standing timber, unlimited water resources, and great agriculture possibilities, the San Juan basin has attracted much interest ever since the local Chamber of Commerce took up the work of securing a railroad from the basin south to connection with either the Santa Fe or the Southern Pacific.

At present there is a branch line of the Denver and Rio Grande into the basin, but it is narrow-gauge for the greater part of its length, with exceedingly steep grades, and is nearly as bad as no road. With a road entering the basin from the south, the products of the entire section will come to this city for distribution.

Faithful Stewardship.

BALDWIN MILLIONS TO BE DISTRIBUTED TODAY.

FOUR years from the date of his appointment as administrator, H. A. Unruh will appear in Judge Rives court today to perform the last duties of his stewardship by making final distribution under direction of the court to the heirs of E. J. "(Lucky") Baldwin.

Mrs. Clara Baldwin Stocker and Mrs. Anita Baldwin McClaughry, sole heirs, will share equally in the $25,000,000 which the estate is believed to represent. Mrs. Stocker and Mrs. Baldwin have received at various times sums aggregating nearly $3,500,000. Nothing now remains to be paid from the remainder of the estate except the fees for administration and legal work, this amount to be determined by the court.

The Baldwin estate, through the increase in value of the real estate and under the careful management of Administrator Unruh has more than doubled in value since Lucky Baldwin's death. Of the $21,000,000, which is the approximate value of the residue to be distributed, about two-thirds is in real estate and the balance in cash and securities. The latter are of the highest class, some of them paying 7 per cent. interest.

The entire estate is bequeathed without restriction except the Santa Anita ranch. The ranch is given to Mrs. Stocker and Mrs. Claughry to use during their lifetime after which it descends to their children.

Mrs. Stocker has two married children, Albert E. Snyder and Mrs. Rosebud Mullender. Mrs. McClaughry's children, Baldwin and Dextra, are 7 and 9 years of age.

LAD NONE THE WORSE.

Aside from having been considerably frightened at seeing his mamma's house burning up around him, 3-year-old Albert Richards, reported as having been the object of a thrilling rescue from the burning home at No. 1057 Fedora street, is none the worse for his experience. According to the father, W. H. Richards, the door of the closet in which the small boy was doing penance when the fire broke out was not locked but merely pushed to and he escaped from durance without assistance and some time before the blaze started. His mother was hanging out clothing in the yard within easy reach and carried the baby to the street on his giving the alarm. The roof of the house was burned off and one bedroom damaged, the total loss approximating $1200.

After Nocturnal Fight.

TO SUE VERNON COUNTRY CLUB FOR BIG DAMAGES.

Mrs. G. A. Stokum

Of this city, who was badly used up in a fracas which she says took place at the Vernon Country Club in the small hours of yesterday morning. She plans legal action in the matter.

A PIQUANT feature of the nightly carousal at the Vernon Country Club was a violent altercation during the small hours yesterday morning between some of the attendants of the place and a party of eight persons who were about to leave in a big touring car. One of the men in the party was beaten, and a woman, Mrs. G. A. Stokum, badly battered, according to some of the members of the party.

Mrs. Stokum, who resides at No. 607 Westlake avenue, was so severely injured that she was sick in bed yesterday, and required the services of a physician. Yesterday she declared that she will bring a suit for $50,000 damages against the management of the club, and retained Frank Dominguez as her attorney. Dominguez said last night that he will represent the woman legally, but had not decided when or how an action will be brought.

According to statements made by Mrs. Stokum, her eighteen-year-old sister, Stella Bruin, and Robert Whitham, the party went to Vernon about 11:30 o'clock p.m. The Bruin girl says she has been at the club several times since she was 17 years old, and has had liquor served to her there, and at times has had it forced upon her. It was over her that the altercation started. Mrs. Stokum says she objected to the attitude of one of the attendants toward her sister, and remonstrated.

Her loud protests on the club veranda so angered the club employees, she says, that one of them seized her by the arm and threw her down the steps to the pavement. One of the male members of the party who undertook to defend her was quelled with neatness and dispatch. Mrs. Stokum says her most serious injury is a fractured knee, although she is bruised about the arms and legs. Another grievance is that she lost a small purse containing $75, which she says fell from her shopping bag during the scuffle.

The identity of some of the members of the party is being closely guarded, although all the names will be given to the authorities when required. The car in which they made the trip is a powerful six-cylinder roadster of one of the latest expensive models. The owner is understood to be the grandson of a wealthy resident of Whittier. His relatives were searching the city for him yesterday.

One of the young women, said to be a member of a prominent Middle West family, spending the winter in Southern California, was in strict seclusion yesterday, and will endeavor to avoid any notoriety in connection with the case unless she is summoned into court as a witness. Mrs. Stokum and her sister assert that noneof the party was intoxicated.

Which Will You Have?

SANITY, CHAOS OR EDDIE-ISM?

Clean-cut Issues Face the Voters at Primaries.

Shenk or Socialism or Earl the Three Choices.

Financial Aid Now May Save Final Election's Cost.

Shenk for Mayor; Stephens for City Attorney; Betkouski, Whitten, Wheeler, Conwell, Vollmer, Hayes, Kelley, Moultrie, Mackeigan, Osborne, Snowden—any nine of them—for City Council. Efficiency in public affairs is the issue, election at the primary the task.

Los Angeles has heard a good deal about a "business administration." Harper promised it, and failed; Alexander guaranteed it, and all Southern California knows the result. Shenk and Stephens are a different type of men. They are not in the race because they need the jobs; politics is not their business, and they have the best interests of the city at heart. Give these men a business Council and there is every reason to believe they will get results. It's certain that Job Harriman and an "our crowd" Council can involve the city in nothing but chaos.

The eleven men suggested by The Times as having all of the qualifications for a real business administration in the legislative branch of municipal affairs has found instant favor throughout the city. The more the names are studied the better they appear to be liked. "We can't go far astray with any nine of the eleven candidates named in the revolving chairs at the City Hall," is the popular verdict.

WHEELER VERSUS REED.

The summary discharge of Frederick Freeman Wheeler from the Board of Public Utilities, after Wheeler had given eight months of his time to the duties of the office without pay, because Alexander needs the job for some one else, has made thousands of votes for Wheeler. They will be cast by persons who bitterly resent the arbitrary assumption of kingly prerogative assumed by the Mayor in getting rid of an appointee without a chance to prepare an adequate defense, or indeed without any charges which amount to more than a pint of peanuts against him. It is felt that Wheeler has been made the "goat" of Alexander, Reed and a few other members of the Council, who wanted to get rid of him "just because." Councilman Andrews is thought to have had a perfectly good "hunch" when he predicted that the deposed chairman of the Utilities Board would return to the City Hall to occupy the seat in the Council to be made vacant by the involuntary retirement of Haines W. Reed as a direct result of the impending election.

The other men in the list of eleven are all representative, able, clear-headed and free from all mental quirks which manifest themselves in passing ordinances regulating the length of hatpins or the number of buttons on milady's new spring suit. They realize the need of constructive legislation in Los Angeles and will apply themselves to the tasks, financial and otherwise, which their administration will bring them.

Shenk is in Mono county this week, guarding the city's interests in a lawsuit. He left the campaign two weeks before election because he deemed his duty to lie in the fulfilling of the duties of the office he now holds, that of City Attorney. Stephens, against whom the discredited Earl papers are centering their batteries of misrepresentation, is making a clean, virile campaign; his friends are rallying splendidly to his support and he should be elected at the primary.

In fact, there is no apparent reason why both Shenk and Stephens should not be elected on May 6. They will be if the electorate favorable to them will vote. Overconfidence is the only thing that can prevent the election of Shenk and Stephens, Mallard and Myers at the primary. It is this overconfidence that the splendid organization of the Municipal Conference Campaign Committee is trying to curb.

FUNDS MUCH NEEDED.

There are half a million persons in Los Angeles, and an electorate of nearly 200,000. To reach this army effectively, thoroughly and systematically costs money. The Municipal Conference is organized for just this purpose and its Financial Committee headed by Charles G. Andrews is appealing for the necessary funds. The danger is plain and it must be met.

A staff of 125 workers are at present employed upon the executive and literature end of the campaign alone, and several hundred others under competent captains will be in the "field" before election day. The headquarters in the Garland building is a busy place. Twenty typewriters thrill into life beneath expert figures, and thousands of words are clicked into existence for the information of the voter.

Yesterday fifty young women were put to work addressing 172,000 postal cards to the registered voters. These cards contain the precinct number of the addresses, the location of his polling place, his own voting number and the candidates indorsed by the conference. There are 455 precincts and the type changes and reference work involved in this one particular alone is almost staggering.

WHAT IT COSTS.

It costs between $5000 and $7000 to circularize the complete registration once, and there are a thousand and one costly details necessary if campaign work is to be effective. If but 10 cents were spent upon each voter the cost would exceed $17,000, and 10 cents in printing, organization, help, postage and meetings is too little for a great city to spend in effectually laying the grim ghost about, whose form the red flag of Socialism, anarchy and confiscation is draped.

Fifty friends of Albert Lee Stephens have organized the Stephens' Home Guards and are devoting their time, talent and energy to the furtherance of his campaign for City Attorney. Stephens has the indorsement of the Municipal Conference, the People's Campaign Committee and about 100,000 friends who have watched his career and know that he will make an ideal official. His opponent, George E. Cryer, has the unanimous indorsement and support of E. T. Earl, who was unable to get Stephens to "come in and be good."

Tomorrow afternoon there will be a meeting of women at the Municipal Conference headquarters for the purpose of uniting in an organized effort for the Shenk and Stephens ticket. The Council is arranged at the suggestion of woman relatives and friends of the candidates, and Mrs. John S. Myers, in charge of the women's department, believes that it will result effectively in interesting the women voters and bringing home to them the necessity of united action at the polls a week from next Tuesday.

The first big demonstration of the campaign will be held next Tuesday evening at the Auditorium when Shenk, Stephens, Jess, Mrs. Lobingier, E. A. Meserve and others will be heard upon the issues of the campaign. There will be some good music and a meeting "worth while."

DEMOCRATS' INNINGS.

On Saturday afternoon the mind of the patient is to be taken from his local troubles for an hour or two by a meeting of the Democratic County Central Committee, which will play a matinee engagement in Symphony Hall. The pass word for the outer door is "patronage," and the Grand Keeper of the Inner Key Hole will admit anyone who can prove he wants Federal appointment.

This meeting of the Committee is the outcome of the perfervid nocturnal session last Saturday of the Democratic Campaign Committee of 100, which "fit," bled and almost died for its beloved country. At that time Chairman Cotton was requested to call the Central Committee together to discuss the pie allotment, and this is the "pieces de resistance" on the Saturday menu.

There appears to be a difference of opinion in the ranks of the "revision downwardists," as to who shall operate on the pie. There are the Nortonites, and the Cottonites, and the Rushites, and the Carterites, and the Parkerites, and, if the muss goes far enough, there may be the Hittites.

Is Senator Works to dictate Southern California appointments? ask the clans in a loud, clannish voice. Back in clarion tones rolls the answer, "we should worry a lot and build a garage on it if he does." Another question, "who is this here Ham Cotton person?" and to this there is a divided reply. One is to the general effect that he is distinctly "all right," a "peerless leader," and his "party's hope." The bifurcated part of the answer indicates that Cotton is he whom the foregoing is not.

It does not seem to have occurred to the Democrats that President Wilson and his department heads may have a voice in the nominations, but the local leaders take the stand that in the absence of Democratic Senators and Congressmen from this neck o' the woods the appointive powers will accept the indorsement of the "organization." An attempt will be made to formulate such indorsements at the Saturday meeting, and this is why the forthcoming session wears a halo of promise.

"Why am I a Dimmycrat, Hinnissy? 'Tis a fighting man I am," once said Mr. Dooley.

The testimony of one witness, Bur- H. Sherman, of Belton, Tex., was en in order to allow him to get . He told of visiting Mrs. Rosen- g resort and narrated incidents ght to show the character of place.

TWO SENT TO JAIL.

During the day, Elizabeth B. Espey and W. H. Wood were committed to County Jail by Judge Wilbur, on charge of contributing to the de- ency of Irene Marie Levy, who is the star woman witness in the ial jury investigation.

It is ascertain whether wealthy men have been made the subject of blackmail on the part of a number of girls who are said to have roomed from time to time at the Jonquil, 1545 S. Hill street.

In addition to this phase of the work the grand jury will look into the charges preferred by Chief Sebastian that millionaires employed the young woman to procure young girls for their amusement. While a number of girls under legal age have been the victims of this sort, the de- fense alleges, it is not known wheth- er will mention any names when before the grand jury.

Elaborate precautions were taken to prevent outsiders from conversing with the witnesses or making possi- ble attempts to influence their forth- coming testimony. As the young wom- en arrived at the Courthouse they were taken in charge by officers work- ing under the direction of Detectives Lee, King and McLaren, and hur- ried into the room formerly occupied by the Juvenile Committee. The door was kept locked and the witnesses were admitted to the grand jury-room through a side door.

MEN WARNED AWAY.

In the corridor were a number of men, some of whom may be used as witnesses. Others were either friends of the girls or mere spectators. The latter were repeatedly warned to leave the corridor. Finally Asst. Dist.-Atty. Evans came outside to forbid taking of flashlight photographs and to tell officers to enforce the rule for- bidding outsiders loitering close to the grand jury-room.

Many young women who appeared at the door of the grand jury-room at 2 o'clock were expensively gowned and as they flattered past the group of newspaper men and photographers there was mingled with the odor of cigarette smoke and the swish of silk and the tread of many feet.

Miss Scott, Agnes Lee and Myrtle Ware were called before the grand jury. Detective Boden has a list of many more names, many of whom girls who are supposed to be closely associated with the Rosenberg case. It is understood that Ladene Bixby, who has figured in two other divorce cases, will be a witness. Among others thus far subpoenaed are Attorney E. J. Fleming, Nick Harris, a private detective; F. W. Braun, former special officer under Chief Sebastian; Carl Miller, W. L. Jeannette Kohler, E. J. Davis, Mrs. Coplin, Elizabeth Lacy, Cleo Parker, Bertha Goodman, Ethel Wilcox, Pauline Adams, Mabel Hamilton and Minnie McVeagh.

"The investigation will undoubtedly last several days," said Detective Boden, who, with his associate, De- tective King, has been engaged in running up the details during the past week. "We believe we can pro- secute Kittie Phillips when it be- comes necessary. Our object is to lay the evidence before the grand jury. Then will then be in a position to ignore true bills or take such ac- tion as members consider proper."

LLOYD DENIES IT.

Lloyd denied yesterday that he was responsible for the disappearance of Kittie Phillips. He said he is engaged as "a certain lawyer," whose name he refused to give out. "When I am called before the grand jury I will tell all information I have ob- tained," said he.

Detective Harris declared that he was retained by Mrs. Rosen- berg some time ago to do "investi- gating." One of his operatives con- fessed to the statement. Harris denied that he has ever visited the Jonquil Club in his capacity as a de- tective, or in connection with Mrs. Rosen- berg's case.

The jury closed for the day at 4 o'clock. It will be resumed at 10 o'clock this morning.

Deputy given Chief Sebastian blank subpoenas with instructions to fill them with the names of persons with any of the circumstances," said Dist.-Atty. Ford last even- ing. "For the present time at least we will make no promises of im- munity. Later, if it becomes neces- sary, immunity for witnesses before the Court trials that may follow will be a different mat- ter."

District Attorney Graham, who instituted the investigation, will assist Ford.

Owing to the large number of wit- nesses and the necessary slowness with which testimony can be taken in a grand-jury proceeding, the inves- tigation may last for nearly two weeks, Asst. Dist.-Atty. Ford has announced his intention to give the police every opportunity of placing all the information in their possession before the grand jury.

Before the inquiry is closed there may be a general digging into vice conditions prevailing in this city. Many of the girl witnesses are said to have been habitues of other resorts besides the Jonquil.

MANY MEN NAMED.
IN A JUVENILE CASE.

Protesting that he was innocent of the charge of contributing to the de- pendency of Miss Christine Neal, aged 17, J. F. Manny, who conducts Manny's Park Theater, was held by Judge Wilbur yesterday in $1500 bonds, and his arraignment set down for tomorrow. Manny was arrested at his home by Deputy Sheriff Woods yesterday morning and taken into the Juvenile Court.

Mrs. Manny and Aleck White went on his bonds. He stated that he had seen Miss Neal at his theater several times, but denied having been in her company on the dates she mentions. On that evening he says he was ex- tremely busy with a vaudeville per- formance.

The act which it is alleged started the girl on the downward path is stated to have been committed at the theater. The names of more than a score of men are in the hands of Deputy District Attorney McCartney and they will be summoned to show the part they are alleged to have had in contributing to the dependency of the girl.

She was committed to Juvenile Hall and also in detention is Mrs. Ferel Nesbeth, who is charged with having introduced her to men and encour- aged her waywardness.

A GOOD Benzoin Soap—
And Almond Soap Put Up in Glass Jars!

A SOAP from vegetable oils—daintily perfumed, and the Benzoin in it whitens the skin—makes it firm and clear.

This Benzoin is the reason for the softening and bleaching effects that you get from various toilet lotions.

And here it is—combined with nourishing vegetable oils—in a good soap. Made by Cornell—A Benzoin Cosmetic Soap.

FOR Sensitive Skins—
There Are Glass Jars of Almond Soap!

PATE AGNEL—cleansing, delightful to use—and splendid for your skin, especially if you find too much soap not good.

In economical glass jars—and with the texture and fragrance of a face cream—And yet wonderfully cleansing.

It leaves the skin with none of that drawn feeling that follows the use of soap on a too sensitive skin.

Try this Almond Soap.—Pate Agnel.

NEW Bath and Vanity Bags—
Dainty, and Practical as Well!

A ROSE Soap, from Budapest, has been finely chopped and put into either lavender, blue or pink bath bags.

A very quick and fragrant lather is the result—with non waste of soap and none of the harmfulness that comes from soap directly in contact with the skin or scalp.

Vanity Bags of Dresden Ribbon—chamois lined and fitted with an ivory vanity case—nail and lip stick, rouge, perfume and smelling salts.

SOCIETY AFFAIRS.

A hostess

And her guest of honor. Mrs. Allan Aldrich (above,) who entertained yesterday with a reception, and Mrs. John Ott of Brantford, Canada.

MISS MURIEL HAMILTON STEWART'S wedding to Elliott Gibbs of Pasadena was solemnized at twilight yesterday at St. John's Episcopal Church, the new rector, Rev. George Davidson, presiding. This was the notable church affair of the day and the edifice, beautified with bridal wreath, stock and Japanese iris, was filled with relatives and intimate friends. Miss Stewart, who is the sister of Victor Baldwin Stewart, formerly of this city but now a resident of Long Beach, is prominent in local society circles. She was educated at Mariborough and has passed much time in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Gustav Knecht of San Francisco, who is remembered as Miss Mary Lindley of this city and who announced the Stewart-Gibbs betrothal last January, came south for the service yesterday, her own wedding having been an event of last April, with Miss Stewart as maid. The bride wore a blue tailored suit and carried an old-fashioned French bouquet of forget-me-nots, lilies of the valley and Cecile Brunners. Her maid, Miss Julia Derby, also wore a suit of blue and carried a French corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Gibbs departed for a wedding trip at the conclusion of which they will make their home at No. 1084 North Michigan avenue, Pasadena.

Afternoon Reception.

To meet Mrs. John Ott of Brantford, Can., about 200 guests called at the Huntley apartments yesterday afternoon as guests of Mrs. Allan Aldrich, who entertained graciously. The rooms were done entirely in yellow, the beautiful galardium prevailing. In a secluded corner Miss Myrtle Ouellet played harp selections during the receiving hours, 3 to 5 o'clock. Mrs. Aldrich was assisted by Mrs. Allison Barlow, Mrs. H. J. Whitley, Mrs. Henry A. Church, Mrs. C. C. Cottle, Mrs. Loren O. Crenshaw, Mrs. O. E. Monnette, Mrs. Washington Runyon, Mrs. Henry J. Martin, Mrs. Clifford Smalley, Mrs. W. E. Barnes, Mrs. George C. Watson, Mrs. James W. Johnson, Mrs. W. M. Milne, Mrs. Charles Patterson and the Misses Edith Runyon, Katherine Cottle and Anna Logan, who presided at the punch bowl.

Dancing Party.

Miss Berenice Marcher of Fourth avenue was hostess last evening at a dancing party, the eighty guests having been entertained by Mrs. Bernard Schulman, Mrs. James Carr, Mrs. Arlington Hemming and Miss Sophia Kubach. Pink tea roses, tulips and carnations were combined in decorating.

Home Wedding.

A home wedding last evening of interest was that of Miss Mildred Mershon of this city and Paul Rochell of London, which was solemnized at the residence of the bride-elect's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Jules F. Roth of South Bonnie Brae street. Pink and white blossoms were used entirely in decorating, roses and tulips having been attractively arranged in each room against a background of fluffy ferns. Rev. Baker P. Lee of Christ Episcopal Church was the officiating clergyman. The wedding gown was a handsome effect of white charmeuse and Chantilly lace. A veil and shower of lilies of the valley were dainty features. The bridesmaid, Miss Lucille Roos, in pink charmeuse veiled in marquisette, carried Killarney roses, and little Manaleta Boldt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Boldt of New York City, assisted as flower girl. W. H. Rochell was his brother's best man. A ten-day honeymoon in California will be enjoyed and Mr. and Mrs. Rochell will then return to this city for a week before sailing for their home in London.

Good News.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Carlton Lee, who, for the past three years, have passed much time in the East, have returned to Los Angeles to make their home. They will be with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Ross Clark of No. 410 West Adams street.

Charming Hostess.

Mrs. Mary Wilcox Longstreet of West Adams street was a charming luncheon and matinee hostess yesterday when she complimented Miss Christina Donohue, who is the house guest of the hostess's young niece, Miss Daphne Drake of South Hoover street. This evening Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Drake will entertain informally for the young visitor.

Mrs. Bard Hostess.

Mrs. Thomas Gerberding Bard, who is passing a few days at the Van Nuys, was hostess Tuesday at a theater party at the Orpheum followed by tea at Hotel Alexandria, where a handsome centerpiece of pink peas adorned the table. The afternoon was planned as a courtesy to Miss Margaret Moore of Portland and the other guests were Mrs. L. J. Bassford, Miss Leila Dowling and Miss Celitia Dowling.

Social Dozen Club.

Mrs. Will Pennell, No. 2726 Harvard boulevard, entertained with a luncheon at her home recently, complimenting the members of the Social Dozen Club. A hand-painted bowl filled with Cherokee roses, resting on a table reflector, was used as a centerpiece for the table. Bridge was the pleasure of the afternoon following luncheon, and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Ussher, and Mrs. Pennel. Mrs. Grace O'Brien was present as a special guest, and members were Mrs. Andrew Swanfeldt, Mrs. Karl Fishburn, Mrs. Charles Jones, Mrs. Edward Abbott, Mrs. Ralph Brememan, Mrs. Clayton Ward, Mrs. Fred Ussher, Mrs. John McNeil, Mrs. Hinton Marr, Mrs. M. A. Upton and Mrs. John Ripard.

Miss Bosbyshell Complimented.

Miss Bertha Bosbyshell of South Pasadena was the complimented guest at luncheon Friday given by her sisters, Mrs. A. M. Gibbs and Mrs. E. B. Adams, at the home of the former, No. 861 West Fortieth place. Pink stock centered the tables and favors were pink baskets filled with bonbons. Covers were laid for the honorees, Mrs. William Harker, Mrs. Harry Levey, Mrs. J. F. Hanson, Mrs. Ward Van Dusen, Miss Fannie Adams, Miss Grace Evans, Mrs. Prescott, Mrs. G. A. Pfannkuchen, Miss Cole, Miss Lee, Mrs. Fred Stewart, Mrs. Moore of Tonapah, Mrs. William Bosbyshell and Mrs. Irving Mitchell.

Luncheon Party.

A pleasant luncheon was given by Mrs. N. A. McFaul of No. 1924 North Bronson avenue last Wednesday afternoon. The guests present were former residents of Sioux City, Iowa. The hostess was assisted in the serving by Miss Genevra Ryerson and Miss Lucile Linton.

The luncheon table was attractively decorated with pink rose buds and asparagus plumosus fern while Cherokee roses, fern and smilax were placed in graceful profusion in the living-room and den.

Covers were placed for Mrs. Hills, Mrs. Newton, Mrs. Farr, Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. Blair, Mrs. Mathews, Mrs. Collamer, Mrs. Perkins, Mrs. Julius G. Weygrandt, Mrs. A. F. Morgan and Mrs. N. A. McFaul.

Merry Jaunt.

Shoots His Brother.

sprang upon the machine, and dashed to the floor, pulling the robes over her as she dropped. The mad dentist stood over her, cursing and screaming, imploring and demanding to be born to drive faster. Finally frightened into calmness by the dreadful danger behind him, raced his car through the crowded streets, and through the corners blocked by the theater crowds with a dozen dangerous turns. The mad dentist ordered him to drive to Eighth and Flower streets, near Florida street, where he compelled the car to be stopped. Miss Barber, at the feet of the maniac, said nothing, and saved herself.

When he left the car, Dent ran to his home, while his brother was being taken to the Receiving Hospital in a dying condition, and his aged father, weak from repeated operations, tottered after the ambulance bearing the clothing of his dying son.

BATTLE WITH OFFICERS.

He was calmly telling the detectives why his son committed the crime while the detectives were approaching his home to capture the son. As Detectives Fitzgerald and Seiler approached the house they were warned away by a revolver shot that knocked off the hat of Detective Fitzgerald, the officer who won a gold medal for valor for bravery when Carl Wanglin appeared at the Central Station with his dynamite bomb.

The detectives withdrew to safety and called for reinforcements. Detectives McMahon and Level and Bicycle Policeman Wearne were hastened to their aid. With an additional of several patrolmen the detectives surrounded the house and tried to ambush the killer. Each time they approached he fired. Nearly an hour the officers were held at bay. More than twenty shots were exchanged.

MOTHER RUNS OUT.

During one active fusillade, Mrs. Thomas Doak, the mother of the young dentist, rushed out of the house, having been awakened by the shots. She ran along the cordon of policemen, begging them not to shoot her son, her poor mad son, she called him, who was not responsible for what he had done. She did not know what had occurred. When told that her own boy was dying in the Receiving Hospital from the bullet fired by John, she screamed and fainted.

After various feints to distract the vigilance of the madman, Detectives Fitzgerald and John Level threw a brick through one of the windows where John Doak kept watch, and three times, and made a rush at the door. It was battered from its hinges and they stepped into the darkened room that harbored the desperate man. Their courage was rewarded. Doak shrank from them and meekly would accompany them without a struggle.

While the officers were taking him away a sleeper in the upper story of the residence raised a window and demanded of the detectives why they were making a noise so she could sleep.

John Doak refused to make a statement.

It was half a block from the house in which James Fredericks went suddenly insane a month ago and the police at bay for more than two hours.

WITS HER ASSET.

Police Assert Woman Told Court in Heavy Bond Is Poor Wallingford.

Mrs. A. D. Graf, who formerly lived at the Alexandria and Lankershim hotels and who was arrested at Long Beach Tuesday night, was arraigned in the University Police Station yesterday and is held under $2000 bonds for her appearance in court Saturday. The woman asserts she is the widow of a deceased wealthy New York business man and left her practically penniless.

According to the police although the woman has succeeded in living by her wits for many years, she is accused of having "worked" local hotels and business establishments for amounts ranging from $10 to $100 at various times.

Her scheme, as outlined by the authorities, was to stop at various hotels and then ask the clerk to send for articles sent from the various stores. Sometimes she is said to have given a check in payment and is said to have appeared at the desk on the following morning and to have returned the goods as unsatisfactory, getting a refund.

NO AGREEMENT ON RES.

Fifty Federal civil service employees met last evening in the Federal Building for an informal discussion of the two bills before Congress providing for the retirement of service employees on pension. The so-called "straight" pension plan is embodied in the Hammill bill and the "contributory" plan in the Ansberry bill. The former plan proposes that the government pay pensions to those civil service employees just as they are paid to old soldiers. The latter measure proposes that the government increase the salaries of the employees 15 per cent., and that each of the employees 10 per cent., of the increase be placed in a pension fund. No agreement was reached at the meeting last night and another meeting was called for four weeks from last evening.

INSANE MAN SHOT DOWN.

Lunatic Attacks Two Men and Stabs Two Maybe Three Who Want to Arrest Him.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MAYFIELD (Cal.) April 24.—As the result of a deadly combat between an unknown lunatic and Town Marshal A. J. Bentone Anderson and Ernest Kleverfahl, two citizens whom the officer had deputized to assist him in the arrest, the insane man is dead and Anderson and Kleverfahl are in the Peninsular Hospital at Palo Alto in a serious condition.

The lunatic attacked two men near the depot, and then the officer for protection. Kleverfahl and Anderson responded to the call for assistance, and in trying to disarm the man Anderson received a deep knife wound over the heart. The man plunged the knife into Kleverfahl's kidneys and then shot the marshal, who died instantly.

New Record.

G MONTH IN OIL INDUSTRY.

gments Greatest Ever; Record Gain.

ge of Over Twelve Thousand Barrels.

duction Sets New Pace for the State.

Figures just issued on the production and development in the California oil fields for March are of considerable significance in that they show a daily average shortage of oil during the month of 12,691 barrels. Shipments were the largest in the history of the State, totaling 8,578,- barrels. The increase over February amounted to 38,609 barrels daily average. The production was the largest, totaling 8,184,809 barrels, an increase of 3214 barrels daily average over February.

The unusually large shipments are another proof of the rapidly growing consumption of California oil, although the shipments of one month [illegible] are not considered an absolute barometer of conditions, however, a survey of the past six months is proof conclusive of the present growth of consumption. The daily average production of the month of March 31, was 256,174 barrels, and the daily average shipments for the same period were 249,- barrels, leaving a daily average [illegible] for the period of 6241 barrels, which is unusually low. Twice during the six months stocks were [illegible] as once in December to the [illegible] of 1436 barrels and again in [illegible] as above stated, to the extent of 6241 barrels.

Confidence is attached to this [illegible], owing to the fact that it is believed that it will eventually bring higher prices for oil, and this is apparently strengthened by occasional rumors to the same effect. The [illegible] for the next few months will undoubtedly be watched with a great deal of interest.

The production for March exceeded that of October in daily average [illegible] barrels, and until last month the production of October was the [illegible] in the history of the State, a remarkable growth in output which is largely to the resumption of [illegible] by many of the low gravity producers, and the coming in of a number of large wells in various sections of the State. Sunset field showing a marked increase on the last month.

The following table shows the [illegible] average output of the more important fields in the State and the [illegible] in production for February [illegible] March:

RIVERSIDE'S MAYOR.

Four Vetoes and Three of Them Quick—Power Contract Will Stand, However.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RIVERSIDE, April 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In four vetoes filed with the City Council yesterday Mayor [illegible] passed three times and was [illegible] opposed on the fourth [illegible] important measure. The [illegible] of actions meeting with [illegible] disapproval were all [illegible] during his recent absence in [illegible].

Four reasons were cited why the mayor deemed it inadvisable to approve the contract with the Southern [illegible] Power Company, which corporation recently moved its general [illegible] to Riverside on the strength [illegible] Council's approval of the contract in question.

In [illegible] regarding the reasons advanced [illegible] Mayor, the five Councilmen [illegible] reaffirmed its action on the [illegible]. Among the reasons advanced [illegible] for voting the contract was [illegible] that there was not secured [illegible] and fair bidding, that [illegible] of the Board of Public [illegible] had been influenced unduly [illegible] proposal of the company to re- [illegible] offices to the city, that sixty-[illegible] current is undesirable in connection [illegible] with a fifty-cycle plant and [illegible] cost to the city for current [illegible] more than $2000 more per [illegible] than is offered by the Edison [illegible].

PROTEST FREE TRADE.

Thousand Letters Sent to Home States of Adopted Californians to Save Citrus Industry.

Urging members to unite in a protest to Congressmen and Senators, both in this State and the old home State, against wholesale reductions in tariff rates on California products, over 1000 circulars were sent out yesterday by the Chamber of Commerce.

In these letters it is urged that members get in touch with friends or townsmen of Democratic Senators of Arizona, Oregon, Montana, Idaho, Nevada, Colorado, Florida, Louisiana, Illinois and Ohio, as well as other influential persons, with the end that the danger to the State's prosperity may be made apparent.

Secretary of the Navy Daniels will probably visit this city next fall on his trip to the Pacific Coast. A telegram was received from him yesterday in response to the chamber's invitation to visit this city in which he said that he would visit Los Angeles if possible.

A the meeting of the chamber's directorate yesterday it was decided to become a member of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. President Kinney also announced the appointment of R. W. Pridham to represent the cehambr at the Playground and Recreation Congress in Richmond May 6 to 10, and at the Lake Mohonk conference May 14 to 16.

ACTION AVERTS WATER FAMINE.

CITY PURCHASES WELLS WITH ABUNDANT SUPPLY.

Irrigation Company Comes to Rescue With Surplus Flow in Handy Position — Rights-of-way for Big Four Railroad Are Being Obtained from Tulare.

PORTERVILLE, April 22.—What promised to be a serious water famine in this city has probably been averted by the offer of the Pioneer Water Company, an irrigation concern of Westfield ranchers, to sell to the city three deep wells, now unused and situated in Second street, which will produce upwards of 300 inches of water.

Superintendent J. E. Curd, who heads the city water department, has made repeated recommendations to the Council for an increased capacity of the two water stations. No action was taken during the winter months. Today Curd appeared before the Water Committee of the Council with a formal report, showing that rapid increase in population has made the present system inadequate even for this time of year. The situation, he says, will be serious by the middle of summer.

The irrigation company will sell the three wells not in use for $4000, which is considerably less than they cost to drill. It is probable the city will buy them and equip a third plant for use at least during the irrigation season.

ALFALFA RAILROAD.

Rights of way agents for the Big Four Railroad are securing an entrance into this city for the line which is now under construction from Tulare to Porterville through the alfalfa district. Representatives of the road have secured options on portions of four blocks of property in West Lafayette street running from the Southern Pacific reservation to the western city limits. Several of the property owners of the district have offered to give a right of way through their property.

Residents of the fashionable El Bonito district, however, through which the road would pass if the Lafayette street line is followed, are preparing to fight the entrance to the city along this thoroughfare.

It is apparently the purpose of the road to connect with the main line of the Southern Pacific at Lafayette street within half a block of the proposed new passenger station which the Southern Pacific will shortly build in D street.

FAT BUTTER PRICES.

VISALIA, April 22.—For the month of March the Visalia Co-Operative Creamery in this city paid the highest price recorded in California for butter fat. Sweet milk brought 43 cents a pound and sour milk 1 cent less. This is 1 cent and 2 cents, respectively, higher than was paid by the closest competitor, a privately operated creamery in Fresno. Throughout this district the price paid for butter fat averaged about 40 cents, which is considered exceptional for this period of the year.

TO REDUCE COST.

TULARE, April 22.—Long-continued attempts to eliminate the middleman in handling poultry and eggs has culminated in the organization of the Tulare Co-Operative Poultry Association, with a charter roll of forty-three members. The newly-elected board of directors includes W. J. Higdon, R. P. Briggs, N. M. Bontrieil, L. L. Black and T. N. Foss. The directors chose the following officers to serve the first year: W. J. Higdon, president; R. P. Briggs, vice-president; M. M. Boutrieil, secretary, and L. L. Black, treasurer. Immediate incorporation will be the next step.

FRUIT PROSPECTS.

VISALIA, April 22.—That early reports of late frost damage to deciduous fruit were grossly exaggerated, is the belief of Horticultural Commissioner Schulz, following a consideration of reports from his deputies and inspectors in all portions of Tulare county. From the best figures available at this time it is predicted there will be from 65 to 70 per cent. normal crop of peaches. Olives will be practically a normal crop, probably 30 per cent. in excess of last year's. Plums and prunes will make half a crop. Apricots in some sections of the county will be 30 per cent., while some orchards show nearly a complete loss.

FLOAT PALACES TO LOS ANGELES.

CRAMP POINTING TWO GREAT VESSELS THIS WAY.

Twin Five-hundred-foot Ships With Passenger Capacity of Over a Thousand Each Building for Canal Trade—Ownership Is a Mystery—Colonist Rates Higher.

Mystery surrounds the identity of the person who has just placed a $5,000,000 contract with Cramp & Sons of Philadelphia for two large, fast passenger steamers to be operated between New York and Pacific Coast ports via the Panama Canal. According to eastern shipping papers, Sir Owen Philipps, chairman of the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company, the most powerful figure in the British marine world at present, is the probable "mysterious person."

More than 20,000 tons of steel will be used in the construction of the new boats, each of which will be 500 feet long, sixty-two-foot beam, and will have six decks. Each liner will have accommodations for 500 first-cabin, 180 second-cabin and 400 steerage passengers. Social halls as large as the lobbies of some metropolitan hotels, smoking-rooms, swimming tanks and gymnasiums will be features of the make-up of these floating palaces.

The vessels will be ready for launching about the end of next year, and will be placed in commission almost simultaneously with the opening of the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

President Grove of the Cramp company has been besieged with inquiries regarding this contract ever since it was placed, but has steadily refused to divulge the owner's name, though admitting that the ships are neither for Grace and Company nor for the German interests that have indicated their intention to finance an American line through the canal. Philipps has been in this country for some weeks diligently following the course of the canal-toll controversy, and his name is connected with the contract as a matter of course.

Immigrants Increase.

Double the number of immigrants were sent west during the first two months of the year than during the corresponding period of 1912, according to the report of Chairman Eben E. MacLeod of the Western Passenger Association, copies of which have just been received here. This report, which was compiled from the report of all railroads composing the immigration bureau lines, shows that the west-bound routings for January and February were larger than for any similar period since 1909.

Batturs's Anniversary.

General Passenger Agent Batturs of the Southern Pacific will celebrate his twenty-seventh anniversary as an employee of the road Saturday. I started by pasting cancelled bond coupons in a big book in the treasurer's office in San Francisco, which was the nearest I ever got to money in considerable quantities," said he yesterday.

Santa Fe Appointments.

Official notices have been received here of the appointment of R. A. Rutledge as chief engineer of the eastern lines of the Santa Fe, with headquarters at Topeka, and F. M. Bisbee as chief engineer of the western lines, with headquarters at Amarillo. Rutledge, who succeeds C. F. W. Felt, recently promoted to chief engineer for the entire Santa Fe system, has been assistant chief engineer of the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe, while Bisbee has been principal assistant engineer, with headquarters at La Junta.

Colonizing Encouraged.

With the object of familiarizing Southern Californians with the colonizing opportunities in Utah and Nevada, the Salt Lake is to offer special homeseekers' rates from this city to those States, effective Tuesday, and on sale each Wednesday and Saturday thereafter until July 30.

Special Rates.

An avalanche of special rates will become effective on the railroads June 1, including round-trip summer excursion fares from Utah, Nevada, Arizona and New Mexico to this city and California beach resorts, as well as to Yellowstone Park and back East.

Tourist Season Ends.

After one of the most successful winter tourist seasons in the history of the concern, Thomas Mayor of the Raymond & Whitcomb Company closed his local office and left yesterday for Boston, the firm's headquarters, where he will remain until fall. His wife accompanied him east.

Railroad Visitors.

William Stubbs, general agent for the Wabash at Portland, formerly connected with the same company here, is visiting his brother, General Freight Agent Stubbs of the Southern Pacific. He was accompanied here by E. K. Garrison, formerly commercial agent for the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul in this city, now district freight and passenger agent for the same road at Portland.

J. W. Adams, Pacific Coast passenger agent for the Nickel Plate, is here from San Francisco.

Inspects the Harbor.

William H. Magee, general passenger agent of the Toyo Kisen Kaisha, and his bride yesterday made an inspection of the harbor. Following the inspection he stated that he could see no reason why Los Angeles should not be made a port of call for the great liners that will traverse the canal following its completion.

Long Railroad Trip.

Mr. and Mrs. James Gregory and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Walker will leave June 27 on a tour of the world that will take them for 6240 miles over the Trans-Siberian Railway, or its entire length from Peking to Warsaw. They are to sail from San Francisco, June 28, on the Manchuria.

Low Price for King's China.

[New York Times:] According to the appraiser's report upon the estate of Mrs. Ann Shaw Jones, who died in New York on April 24 1912, a set of royal Worcester plate, given by the Prince of Wales, afterward King George IV., to Mrs. Jones's great grandfather, William Pinkney of Maryland, then Minister to the Court of St. James, is now worth only $25. Mrs. Jones took great care to specify in her will that this plate, which is marked with the English royal crown and the letters, "G. R.," should pass to her daughter, Miss Beatrice L. Pinkney Jones, and upon her death to one of her brothers.

THE ANSWER

In the make-up of the Packard "38" carriage are more features directly appealing to the owner and driver than ever before have been embodied in any one motor vehicle

Left Drive

Electric Self Starter
Easily and simply operated from a driving position.

Centralized Control
Complete mastery of the car from the driver's seat. A compact arrangement at the finger tips operated with the slightest effort.

Electric Lighting
Controlling switches at the centralized control board.

Magneto Ignition
A high tension dual ignition system independent of the self-starting battery and motor generator. Insures Packard efficiency at all speeds.

Short Turning Radius
The Packard "38" turns in a circle forty-one and one-half feet in diameter.

Six-Inch Depth of Frame
Prevents body distortion and cramping of doors.

Hydraulic Governor
Enables the novice to drive with the assurance of an expert. Prevents "stalling" the motor in crowded traffic; prevents racing the motor when "declutching"; affords agreeable uniformity of road speeds without requiring skillful use of the accelerator pedal.

Six-Cylinders Perfected
Flexible, efficient, silent, giving motion with no sense of exerted power.

Dry Plate Clutch

Forced Feed Oiling
Especially desirable for "sixes." An auxiliary system feeds oil directly to the cylinder walls and is automatically regulated for different power requirements.

Size of Crank Shaft
The diameter of the crank shaft is 2¼ inches. Ample size of bearings insures maximum period of service without refitting.

The sum of these essentials is to be found in no other car. This comprehensive solution, in one motor carriage, of all the chief problems of recent years, compels the consideration of the critical patron.

LOS ANGELES (Loce Ahng-hayl-ais)

Entered at the Postoffice as mail matter of Class II.

WASTED FORCE.

The boosters of Watts are preparing to take another trip through Southern California to spread information about their town. We imagine that Watts received sufficient advertising from the vaudeville stage.

A WORD OF WARNING.

Some Los Angeles men have purchased a 72,000-acre ranch at Fresno. In case they want to grow grapes on it they should make sure that the Fresno Board of Supervisors is not composed entirely of lunatics.

ONE-SIDED.

It is said that the agents of the rebels in Sonora are willing to pay the railroad fare of Mexicans in Los Angeles and give them wages besides if they will go down and fight for the Constitutionalists. They don't promise them any return tickets, but then perhaps a majority would never need any.

INJURING HIMSELF.

A man who is 100 years old is visiting Los Angeles and is thinking of locating here permanently. He confesses that for more than eighty-six years he has been using 10 cents' worth of chewing tobacco every six weeks. It is sad to see a young man wrecking himself by the use of narcotics in this manner.

HIS BETTER HALF.

Hope should spring anew in the breasts of the adherents of Gen. Felix Diaz. Felix has an ambitious wife who has set her heart on seeing her husband become President of Mexico. When you stop to think how many men have been made by their wives, and how seldom a man with the right sort of wife ever falls down, you can see the clouds clearing from the horizon of Diaz's rising sun.

ONE RAY OF SENSE.

Out of a sticky, goo-gooey mass of puerile and demagogic imbecilities the wiseacres in Sacramento have evolved one useful measure. The pure-milk act, to see that no contaminated milk is sold in any large city, should be productive of good. One sound grain in a bushel of chaff; poor threshing! And even this grain has a black speck on it. For the bill will probably be used as an excuse for providing a few more fat jobs for the henchmen of Holy Hi.

BETRAYING THE PEOPLE.

The Arizona Corporation Commission is Democratic in politics and should be ashamed of itself. It has granted the Southern Pacific Railroad a favor. Last year the people over there voted to cut freight rates and to make a uniform passenger rate of 3 cents a mile, but Tuesday the commission paralyzed the populace by granting the big corporation permission to spend $10,000,000 in improvements in the State. It isn't every State that would let a strange railroad come right in and spend millions without asking it a good many questions.

WHAT'S IN A TIP?

In Birmingham, Ala., a Greek waiter has accumulated from tips alone, as a result of ten years' service, the modest fortune of $70,000. "They also serve who only stand and wait," said the poet; evidently they don't have to wait very long in Alabama restaurants who serve the right kind of patrons. Then of course there is a whole lot in knowing how to wait at table and how to wait patiently for the ensuing tip. Also to hoard the saved tips is another problem yet ahead of the ambitious young waiter.

Yes, if we knew how to save our money, there are very few of us but could become rich even as a Greek waiter. But we would rather eat our cake than have it, even though it be a fruit cake that improves with age.

SUBSIDIZING SHIPS.

Prior to our last war with Great Britain our tonnage in commercial ships exceeded that of hers, and we shared with her equally the carrying trade of the world. This result had been achieved by the act of Congress passed about the beginning of the last century by which a percentage rebate was allowed on the duties on foreign merchandise imported in American ships.

Great Britain demanded as a condition of the peace of 1815 that this law should be repealed. Our statesmen of that era consented to its repeal because they believed that our merchant marine had been developed to such a stage that the protection of the law was no longer needed. In this they were mistaken.

Why should not this ancient law be now re-enacted? Surely we have a moral and legal right to have our goods purchased abroad brought to our shores in our own ships. Today nineteen-twentieths of those importations come to our country in ships of foreign registry. A few years' operation of a Federal statute similar to that which existed one hundred years ago would restore our ships to seas from which they have long been banished.

We could not suffer from reprisals. Our wheat and meat and cotton are admitted free of duty in Great Britain because the purchasers want them and cannot obtain them so well elsewhere. If England were to place an import duty on cotton brought in American ships the result would be that the cotton would cost her factories just so much more. We would obtain the same price for the cotton.

That such rebate on duties would be substantially a subsidy to our ships may be true. Why should we not subsidize them?

ALL CAN HELP.

Every man or woman in Los Angeles with a home of their own is interested in electing the Shenk-Stephens ticket and defeating Harriman and the dynamiters, the Wolfe and the wolves and all the forces of disorder and destruction that would like to lick the bones of the industrious and prosperous.

Every one can help.

The great task is to get out the vote, and all can help do that.

The sentiment of the voters of Los Angeles is at least five to one against socialism and confiscation. The only peril is indifference. The real menace is the habitual neglect of voters, men and women, to do their civic duty. The one thing to be achieved is to bring out a full vote for Shenk and Stephens, May 6, and YOU can help.

The voting question should be the topic of neighborhood conversation from now until primary day. When men meet and when women gather, this theme may well be introduced. Those who lag in interest may be stimulated; they may be pressed to vote; they may be urged to the polls on election day. A few earnest men and women in a neighborhood can leaven the whole lump.

The consequences would be direful if the Harriman-McNamara-Wolfe crowd should win the domination of this great city through the apathy of those who have everything to lose.

"Property is robbery" is the golden rule of the Socialists and confiscation is their platform. The owner of a garden patch or the possessor of a $20 bank deposit would be victims of their spoliation, equally with the banker or the merchant.

These frequent Socialist uprisings have injured the credit and stained the fame of Los Angeles. It will be a shame if this latest cannot be overwhelmed in the primary election; it will make our city a reproach and a laughing-stock if we must needs fight the fight twice this time, to down Job Harriman. There are votes enough to make an end of him May 6, if they come out.

We earnestly hope that the steadfast men and women of Los Angeles who do not believe that "property is robbery" and that the red flag should supplant the Stars and Stripes will make this great business their own and will do all they can to round up a big majority for the Shenk-Stephens ticket May 6. As to the ticket itself not one word has been or can be said against it. One can work for it with pleasure and confidence.

THE ASIATIC QUESTION.

Because The Times opposes an injudicious, unnecessary, hysterical, anti-alien, landholding bill, now pending at Sacramento, it does not in the least follow that it desires to open wider the door, which has for years been wisely closed, to Asiatic coolie immigration, or that it does not recognize that Asia is a Pandora's box, which the Epimetheus of Commerce has opened with a wrench of steam, and that the box contains some possibilities of evil as dire as those which were in the fabled casket of old.

Before Congress enacted the Chinese exclusion act California Legislatures, at different times, attempted to deal with the Asiatic question with measures compounded in equal quantities of fraud and force. A bill was introduced at one time to establish a government queue cutter, another to provide an inspector of graveyards, with an income tax on long hair and an export duty on bones.

The regulation of Asiatic incoming has always been a difficult thing. It must be done; there must be restriction. China and Japan are the possessors of a civilization which was hoary with years centuries before Pericles ruled in Athens; a civilization which has beheld the Pharaohs of Egypt and the philosophers of Greece, the Caesars of Rome and the yellow-haired Goths, the monarchies of Europe and the dynasties of Western Asia ebb and flow upon the tides of empire, and which through all has preserved one religion and one government.

Yet it is a civilization as incapable of assimilation with ours, or conversion to ours, as would a saurian of the paleozoic age be incapable of traveling in double harness with a modern trotting horse.

The people who possess this civilization are laborious, patient, apt, dexterous, and accustomed to frugal life. Yet they have not one single element of character out of which republican citizenship can be manufactured.

In their thousands of years of national life they have had wars of dynasties and wars of tribes, but until the very recent movement in China they have never attempted to establish republican government and have never had a single insurrection in behalf of popular rights.

The Chinese and Japanese have a literature of their own, a literature rich in apothegms, and musical with poetry, and yet which contains not one single line expressive of the idea of human freedom or of equal rights.

The Chinese and Japanese have always been fatalists, imperialists and willing slaves, and in their breasts there is implanted no spark from which a flame of desire for freedom can be fanned.

Every other race than the Asiatic contains possibilities of development into American citizenship, because alike under the snows of Russia and the suns of Italy, by the banks of the Rhine or the foam-footed crags of Erin, there swells in each human breast the free spirit which cries out for liberty. You can make an American citizen of him whose ancestors were bearded vikings of the northern seas. You can make an American citizen of him whose fathers opened the dykes and gave their homes to the ocean rather than surrender their liberties. You can make an American citizen of him whose forefathers went singing to the dungeon or praying to the scaffold rather than desert a leader or abjure a faith. You can make an American citizen of him who inherits the spirit of the races that produced a Lafayette, an Emmet, a Hampden, a Tell, a Kossuth, a Garibaldi, or a Castelar, because in all ages, under the cooled crust of the kingdoms, and principalities, and empires, and absolutisms of Europe there has surged the lurid lava of aspiration for freedom. Ever and again her volcanic fires have lit the surrounding gloom. Ever and again her fierce music has sounded in the chords of battle. Ever and again her spirit has burst its bonds and soared to the stars in grand, even through futile aspirations.

But when you enter the crowded streets of Tokio or Peking you are among people who are destitute of the thoughts out of which republics are made.

It is not that the Chinese and Japanese worship alien gods; it is not that their cuticles are of a different hue from ours, their garments of a strange fashion, and their code of morals unlike our own that we require those who come here to remain only as strangers in a strange land. We will not suffer them to possess the form of our citizenship because we know that they can never possess the spirit of our citizenship.

Froude, the English philosopher and historian, in criticising the eastern policy of England says: "We dream that we can teach Asiatics to appreciate constitutional liberty"—and he quotes and indorses Gen. Jacob, one of the ablest officers that the eastern service ever produced, as saying—"You English imagine that liberty means the same thing in all parts of the world, and that all mankind equally deserve it. You could not make a greater mistake. Liberty with you means that you have a right to govern yourself, and that it is tyranny to govern you. Liberty with an Asiatic means that he has a right to be governed, and that to make him govern himself is tyranny." Froude himself further says of the cultured Asiatics "that they beat our own students in metaphysics and philosophy and mathematics," yet that they are "weak beings with the heads of professors and the hearts of hares," and that "the competitive system which is the idol of modern progress has been tried in China for a thousand years and has produced the weakest and most corrupt government that the world has ever seen."

That Asiatics can never be Americanized or made eligible to American citizenship was conceded by Charles Sumner when, as chairman of the Senate Committee on Foreign Affairs, he reported a bill providing for excluding Asiatics from acquiring American citizenship.

When the Fifteenth Amendment to the Federal Constitution was first reported it contained the word "nativity"—that no man should be excluded from the suffrage because of "race, color, 'nativity,' or previous condition of servitude." The word "nativity" was stricken out to guard against naturalization of Chinese and Japanese.

Between exclusion from naturalization and exclusion from the right to buy and own a few town lots and a few acres of ground upon which to raise vegetables there is a wide distinction. That Asiatics should have a residence district of their own in every city is desirable from a sanitary point of view alone, and it is quite within the power of every municipality to prescribe such building and other restrictions as will guard the public welfare in every direction.

What possible injury can be inflicted upon the agricultural or other industries of this State by allowing Japanese to raise their own vegetables and to own, instead of renting, their little shops? Asiatics have never attempted to engage in our larger industries. They do not interfere with American labor or American capital. The present exclusion laws and the treaties with China and Japan are ample for our protection in every way. There is no need whatever for the fool law now pending at Sacramento. Its passage can benefit nobody and may work great injury. Better indefinitely postpone it, or lay it on the table, or put it in the waste basket—and then, before some other experimental ass can formulate another fool bill, adjourn and GO HOME!

It is proposed to nominate Private Secretary Joe Tumulty as Governor of New Jersey by the Democrats. That would enable the President to govern his old State by proxy.

PARTISAN REALIGNMENT.

A new alignment of parties is possible for 1914 and probable for 1916. It will be made upon the tariff issue alone. The Republican party has locked in the strong box of the Federal Constitution all of its fundamental principles except that of protection to home industry. Preservation of the Union, abolition of human slavery, manhood suffrage, internal improvements, a sound currency—all these are woven into the thought and purpose of the nation beyond the power or even the wish of Democracy to extricate them.

The Democratic party, on the other hand, has abandoned every one of its ancient doctrines. It warms itself at Republican campfires and it was never before so comfortable. It clothes itself in Republican garments and it was never before so well clad. It opposes about everything that it once favored and favors about everything that it once opposed. Is there a Democratic leader today anywhere, North or South, who would restore slavery if he could, or revive the Southern Confederacy if he could, or would establish a 50-cent dollar if he could?

There are a few Republicans who are not protectionists, and there are a great many Democrats who are not free traders. The Wilson administration is exerting every effort by means of caucus rule to hold Democrats to the Underwood bill of a tariff for revenue only. But the New England Democrats exhibit signs of revolt on the woolen and cotton fabrics schedule, the western Democrats will not stand for the free wool schedule, the Alabama Democrats object to the iron and steel schedule, the Louisiana and Mississippi Democrats are up in arms against free sugar, and they are reinforced by Democrats from the beet sugar districts.

A case in point is referred to editorially in a Boston journal. It says:

"John R. Tolar, president of the Tolar, Hart and Holt Knitting Mills of Fayetteville, N. C., writes the Baltimore Sun in favor of a realignment of the two principal political parties of the country under the names of 'Conservative' and 'Radical.' He claims that there are certain indisputable reasons why the South will never be Republican, while there are certain good reasons why many of its people are desirous of leaving the Democratic party. Personally, Mr. Tolar is a protectionist who has always voted for the Democratic party. He wants an opportunity of voting for a protectionist party—a party opposed to the Democratic tariff policy—but he cannot bring himself to cast his vote for the Republican party. Therefore, in his own behalf, and in behalf of many other southerners, he seeks a realignment of the political parties of the country on the tariff issue, and the abandonment of the old party names. The Baltimore Sun thinks Mr. Tolar frank, and says it admires his honesty. Some other advocates of protection in the Democratic party, it says, are not so frank or outspoken, and it calls attention to those Democrats who are now withdrawing their sympathy from the tariff bill for which the Wilson administration stands. Of course, it sees nothing for Mr. Tolar to do but to go over to the party of protection, and with relation to all such it says: 'The cause of tariff reform is so identified with the Democratic party, in every way, that a man (a Democrat) cannot oppose it and retain his party standing. . . . In the Republican or even in the Progressive party a man may hold these views and be consistent. But the protectionist in the Democratic party is inevitably in the position of a traitor.'"

This comes very close to reading out of the Democratic party all who for any reason are unable or unwilling to accept the Underwood bill. There were some Republicans who did not "tackle kindly" to the McKinley, the Dingley or the Payne-Aldrich bills. There may be partisan excommunication in the Democratic organization because of the tariff. It will surely be the issue of 1916 and it will be more closely defined than ever before in our history. It will have reached then, as the money question did in 1896, the critical stage. "It will in all probability differentiate and divide the electorate as never before, and it may be that it will bring about the partisan realignment hoped for by Mr. Tolar."

A lawyer who would juggle words in quoting a law would be disbarred from practice. What shall be said of a Governor who, to suit his own purposes, purposely omits the most important part of an act of Congress? Gov. Johnson, we are looking at you!

THE RESULTS OF THE BALKAN WAR.

BY P. A. DEMENS.

No modern European war since the epoch of the Napoleonic wars, a century ago, has created such a chaos in the general European situation as the present Balkan war, although it involved directly only comparatively small nations and the very southeastern corner of Europe. Yet its unexpected results have shaken all Europe to its very foundations, have most vitally affected every great power, and require extreme efforts to avoid a general conflagration in readjusting the shattered equilibrium. The immediate future of Europe is dark indeed, and its uncertainty baffles her most experienced and influential statesmen.

It is obvious that the Turkish misrule over her former European provinces, where over 90 per cent. of the entire population has always been Christian, was a glaring anachronism, an artificial makeshift, maintained only by the shifting, selfish politics and jealousies of various European powers. Twice—in 1829 and 1878—Russian armies were at the very gates of Constantinople, ready to sweep Turkey out of Europe. But at the time the European concert of great powers was not ready for such a step. England, notwithstanding the Turkish defeats, overestimated Turkish valor and real military strength and considered Turkey her only true ally in any possible European conflict and, exploiting her commercially and financially, assumed the role of her protector, and thus postponed the inevitable end for thirty-five years after 1878, until the small Slav nations of the Balkan peninsula became strong enough, by forming a union, to complete the task by the present war. In the meantime England was forced by the growing German strength to readjust her international relations and even to become a member of the triple alliance of Russia, France and herself. No doubt the change of her traditional policy in the near East and the relinquishment of her recognized protectorate over Turkey was partly the result of her closer knowledge of the rapid failure of the military strength of that already tottering empire, a secret evidently unknown to the balance of the European powers up to half a year ago. This gradual withdrawal of English support left Turkey weak and isolated. The clever and alert German Emperor immediately recognized his chance; his influence quickly grew in Constantinople, his best diplomats were sent there, his military instructors took the places of the former English ones, German Krupp guns and rifles replaced the old Turkish army equipment, great railroad and commercial concessions were secured in Asia Minor, and it seemed that for all practical purposes an informal German protectorate over Turkey was in the course of becoming shortly a political fact.

So far as the Turkish side is concerned it was German war equipment, German tactics and strategy, German officers and leaders—in short, modern German methods and weapons of war. The Slavs used French guns and equipment, and their leaders—Dimitrieff, Savoff, Ivanoff, Vasoff—are all pupils of Russian military educational institutions. Thus, the Balkan war is considered by all neutral European authorities as a test between modern German, French and Russian war establishments, and judged accordingly.

The triple union, Germany, Austria and Italy, had they wished to, certainly could have easily prevented, first, the organization of the Balkan union, and second, the war itself. If they allowed the war to proceed it meant that they wanted it. The neutral public opinion of Europe believes that Germany, relying upon the war strength of Turkey, founded upon her own military system and guided by her officers, grossly overestimated it and felt sure the Balkan union would be not only defeated, but hopelessly routed—a growing inimical nationality crushed, and a new and formidable military ally to the triple union created at no expense to itself, except of patient, clever manipulating. The course of the war was as unexpected as it was bitter, and from the very beginning of the victories of the allies—serving as a catspaw of the triple union upon the plea of her vital interests in the general affairs of the Balkan peninsula—Austria made every effort to minimize their effect as far as practicable. Yet all the intrigue that followed this desire to rectify the initial blunder was too late to change the main fact, already recognized by the world, that Turkey had forever ceased to exist as a European military factor, and that a new united power of large territory and a vigorous and powerful army of a million men, inherently inimical to all German interests, had appeared on the arena of European politics, and consequently that all previous calculations of the European military equilibrium are today completely upset.

German military prestige, won by the Franco-Prussian war of 1870-1871, and supreme in Europe ever since, has sustained a severe shock; it is argued that because of over forty years of peace her army has fallen into a rut, and that her war equipment is more or less obsolete. Austria, the "Shred Empire," as it is justly called because of her exceedingly mixed population of so many antagonistic races, languages and religions, is badly affected. About one-third of her population belongs to various small nationalities of the Slav race—Cheks, Dalmatians, Slovacs, Bosnians—always disloyal and always longing for political independence. The creation of the Balkan union and the wonderful strength and valor it displayed made these Austrian Slavs restless, and even rebellious; in case of a war they will undoubtedly prove a most dangerous element; and, backed by the Balkan union, will paralyze Austria as a war factor. Italy henceforth cannot be relied upon as a member of the triple union. The safety of her newly-acquired vast provinces in Africa and her close commercial relations with the countries of the Balkan union will be worth more to her than any advantage she would derive as a member of the triple union. Heretofore these Balkan countries were a quite negligible political quantity; today they are much stronger than either Austria or Italy.

The German Emperor was the first to recognize this new order of things. He quickly understood that from now on the triple union becomes only the lifeless skeleton of its former self, and that Germany will have to depend upon her own resources. His first move was to enlarge the peace footing of his army by 135,000 men, regardless of enormous financial difficulties. Austria immediately followed by enlarging her forces by 50,000 men, although her present mobilization has made her already practically bankrupt. France has for years been drawing every available man; her birth rate is so low that her population is at a standstill; and her army, in 1875 equal to that of Germany, is steadily losing in numbers, and in 1910 was already weaker by a hundred thousand men. She cannot increase her draft—so she has to lengthen the term of service of her soldiers, and the bill is already passed to keep the men with the colors three years instead of two, as formerly. England is clamoring for an obligatory military service, and it seems that the era of conscription is near at hand. The race for the naval supremacy of the world has long been proverbial, taxing her resources to the very limit.

Of all the great European nations Russia alone does not seem to worry. Her population still has the highest birth rate in Europe, the new Balkan union is her natural ally, and her war strength, measured by numbers and by the real effectiveness of her army and its equipment, should be rapidly increasing, if the government could depend upon the loyalty of the people. Western Europe seems to think that it cannot because of Russia's blind determination to maintain an autocracy in our democratic times.

The Stricture of the Strick.

LOS ANGELES, April 22.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Strickland Gillilan, writing in the Chicago Tribune, is constrained to take a long-range shot at California climate. Like many another who has tried to fight battles from behind a tree, his long-range ammunition, the only kind he has succeeded in damaging our fine reputation for truth and veracity. He also gives away the fact that his personal standard of virile manhood is extremely low.

Unconsciously calls attention in the last paragraph to one California condition that all Californians, as well as we transplanted Easterners, are very proud of, i. e., absence of blizzards.

Any man without red blood enough in his veins to keep him from setting up camp in a hotel, with his overcoat to keep him warm, is a very poor judge of human nature on any climate. A man from Illinois, under the same circumstances, goes out into his little garden in his shirt sleeves and hoes the radishes before breakfast. I do it and I am no athlete either.

In the same "mean time," this same cold section of late spring which is the worst part of any winter," "near winter," has already put new leaves on young orange trees that is nearly a foot long. This information came direct from north of Tehachapi this week.

Gillilan thinks that you don't really live in California—no, you don't live—in California—not even in your heart or your nose. Even water freezes in California. We are obliged to make our ice artificially as they do in Lake Michigan to block it with.

Gillilan says: "If you could only lie down with the cold, your agony would be over." "but you can't." No one can—in California—but you can sleep easy.

He is humorously sarcastic in alluding to the California houses, with walls made of fiddle wood" and heated by a half-pint stove." In his sarcasm he went as far as he dared, but if he had really known the climate he could have told a bigger one than that and it would have been the truth.

Many of a number of ruddy, healthy people, who are really making themselves living in houses made of cloth and heated in the sun by California sunshine, and cooled by nothing at all.

Should he is mistaken in the number of rooms he would have in his California house, as real Californians don't admire a "beefy" character nor enjoy his kind of house.

Like summer time in California. Gillilan then he didn't mention that, which for California's gain, he left out. He knew anything about it. Here is one of the cool nights we are going to have in July and August you must think of Mr. Gillilan on the Chicago fire escape with pity, with a wet and a pitcher of ice and an electric fan, too.

Everybody who wants to, can't live here. It won't hold them.

OFFICIAL CONNIVANCE.

Seven Men Arrested by Chico Police Officers to Fatten Fee According to Supervisors.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OROVILLE, April 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With a demurrer filed today the Board of Supervisors of Butte county, the issue of the alleged irregularities in arrests by township officers is now squarely before the court. Alleging that the penalties and the justice of the peace had connived to arrest men in order to fatten their fee bills, the Board of Supervisors rejected all bills of the Chico township officers for work.

The township officers promptly sued the county will resist the suit, alleging that the townships are entitled only to fees where commitments were made. As a matter of fact, the prisoners were released, this will make a big cut in the township bills. The point is made in California and if it is sustained will mean that township officers and their bondsmen will be forced to pay back thousands of dollars illegally collected. The officers involved are Justice of the Peace Barnes and Constables and McEldowney.

FIGHT FOR TWO GIRLS.

Writ May Be Asked by San Francisco to Recover Them from Utah.

[BY EXCLUSIVE LINE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 23.—[Special Dispatch.] A legal battle for two girls, 3 and 4, was inaugurated in Superior Court today with the filing of a suit by Robert Rogers, well-to-do owner and manufacturer, against his wife, Daisy.

The girls, Gay Rogers, the children, were concealed by direction of their father at Pitsea Hall, Essex, England, the stake.

Attorney of the husband is Secretary of State Bryan will ask the father to invoke the aid of the United States and to compel restoration of the children to San Francisco.

The father is now in San Francisco and detectives are searching for him on the complaint. They declare he is evading service, as a week ago he moved from a private home on the Mission to apartments at the Fairmont Hotel.

Trouble.

INCOME TAX IS A LABYRINTH.

Many Difficulties in Collection and Payment.

Much Additional Expense Will Follow Enactment

Because of Litigation to Determine Meaning.

[Manufacturers' Record:] That the measure now before the Congress of the United States is not intended or expected to give the country a tariff sufficient to produce adequate revenue from imports is confessed in section 2 of the bill, containing the income tax provisions. Study of those provisions leads to the conviction that the administration of them will result in two impositions upon citizens, to wit:

Expense for those who may be able to hire lawyers to guide them safely, if possible, through the intricacies of the provisions or to act for them in litigation based upon glaring injustices.

Embarrassment and loss for those who cannot afford to pay the additional tax in the employment of lawyers and must depend upon their own reason in interpreting language which in some particulars approaches imbecility in its expression.

In debates over special schedules this question of the proposed income tax is not receiving the attention that its vital importance demands. It does not seem to be comprehended in essence or in extent. In an effort to illustrate the workings of the measure, affecting what is styled the "normal" income tax, that on incomes more than $4000 and less than $20,000, most abnormal in the light of any theory of democratic government or equitable taxation, the Manufacturers' Record shows the maze through which the income taxpayer will have to wander by detailing the experience of a supposititious case, that of John Smith.

He has an income of $6200 a year, $5000 in salary, $600 from the rent of three houses, $80 in coupons of two 4 per cent. $4000 bonds, $400 in returns from sales of fancy work or pictures made by his wife, whose income must under this law be included with his, and $120 in interest at 6 per cent. on a loan that he has made to an acquaintance.

His income tax will be paid on $2200 and will amount to $22, divided as follows: $10 from salary, $4 from wife's handiwork, $6 from returns for rent, 1.20 from interest on the loan, and 80 cents from the cashing of the coupons.

He will not be given the chance to pay this tax in a lump sum himself. The law seems to provide, in spite of linguistic efforts to the contrary, obsessed by the effort to block any possibility of evasion, that each separate amount in the total must be paid by the source of the particular item of the income. The employer must pay to the government the $10, the tenants of the three houses $2 each, the buyers of the wife's handiwork their respective shares of the $4, the borrower of the loan og $1.20 and although the law as to payment at the source of the income is made by the law to apply with equal force to an income from bonds, the taxpayer will be in a quandary as to the payment of the remaining 80 cents. He will be obliged to take refuge in the very dubiously-worded sentence, in the paragraph below, marked J, referring to incomes not covered by the provisions cited, and pay the pennies himself directly to the collector of internal revenue.

The second sentence of that paragraph, to the effect that any person for whom return of income has been made at the source of it shall not be required to make a personal return conflicts directly with the provison, in the paragraph marked E, compelling every person having an income of $3500 a year to make return of it to the collector.

That is a comparatively slight embarrassment. Consider further possibilities. Smith, being a man of foresight and thrift, and loving his wife and children, has managed in previous years, in the absence of any tax upon such commendable and normal virtues, to pay premiums upon a life-insurance policy for $20,000 in favor of his wife. He dies. His widow, though, does not receive the full amount of the policy representing fundamentally the savings, with interest, of the husband, but only that amount less $200 paid as an income tax on the policy by the insurance company for her.

Again, Smith may wish to change his investment in real estate. He sells his three houses for $10,000. Under the wording of the law $10,000 is thus added to his income for the year, and, instead of the $6 upon the income of $600 rent, he must pay $100 tax. The same principle will apply, should he be fortunate enough, or, in view of the absurdly-framed statute, unfortunate enough, to be paid the $2000 that he had lent.

To provide against any possible evasion of the tax, Smith must make a full return of all the items of his income to the Collector of Internal Revenue in his district, and, in addition, according to a weighing of apparently conflicting provisions, must furnish to each source of the several items of his income a statement of the items of his income other than that handled by each source. Each source of payment of each item of the income must also, in addition to paying his share in the contributions to the tax on Smith's income, and from that income, file with the collector a statement of Smith's sources and amounts of income items.

It is fair to believe that by the time Smith has tried to meet all the requirements as thus sketched—and his case is one of the simplest that can be imagined under the law—he will either be liable to the penalties imposed by the law or be incapacitated for continuing to earn any income.

These comments have nothing to do with the question of an income tax per se, and at this time it is not proposed to discuss the obviously demagogic principle that has prevailed in placing the minimum for a "normal" income tax at $4000, the notable pinhead astuteness in exempting the salaries of the present President of the United eStates, whose veto power might be called into action in connection with the bill, and the salaries of present United States judges, who, in the event of the passage of the bill, will surely have to try cases innumerable arising under it.

But it may be suggested right here that the proper title of the income tax measure in the tariff bill should be "A bill to add to the burden of taxation by compelling income taxpayers to pay the lawyers fees for the avoidance of punishment under the income tax."

Perhaps the reputed father of this income tax abomination may attempt to explain the language of the bill. In fact, he is already at that task. He might make a start by trying to give to intelligent minds the meaning of this paragraph:

"In all cases where the tax upon annual gains, profits and incomes of a person is required to be withheld and paid at the source hereinafter provided, if such annual income does not exceed the rate of $4000 per annum, or if the same is uncertain, indefinite or irregular in the amount of time during which it shall have accrued, and is not fixed or determinable, the same shall be included in estimating net annual income to be embraced in a personal return."

EAGLE ROCK EXHIBIT.

Beautiful Valley Ranks on Its Babies and Flowers and Invites Public Inspection Next Two Days.

The Women's Twentieth Century Club of Eagle Rock will hold a flower and baby show on Friday and Saturday. The show will be held in Masonic Hall and preparations are being made to entertain many visitors from this city. The display of cut roses is expected to surpass both the former shows held by the club and the display of wild flowers by the school children will be a rare attraction. The baby show will be on Saturday, when thirty-five Eagle Rock babies will compete for five silver cups. The show will close with a transformation scene and cotillion, for which special invitations from the club will be necessary.

STEAM SCHOONER ON FIRE.

San Francisco Vessel Is Burning at Fields Landing and Probably Will Be Total Loss.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

EUREKA (Cal.) April 23.—The steam schooner Charles Nelson of San Francisco is reported tonight burning at Fields Landing, on the Humboldt county coast. There is no fire-fighting apparatus at that point and it is reported the vessel and cargo will be a total loss. The schooner was loaded and was to have sailed tomorrow morning for San Francisco.

News of the disaster reached Eureka late tonight and several bay tugs started to the burning vessel's aid. It is stated the schooner carries a crew of about fifteen men.

WEDS TO IMPROVE HEALTH.

New York Broker's Son Marries in Colorado Springs on Advice of Physicians.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

COLORADO SPRINGS (Colo.) April 23.—[Special Dispatch.] Upon the advice of physicians who told him that marriage probably would improve his health, William Whitall Morganthau, son of Maximilian Morganthau, prominent New York broker, was married last Saturday evening to Miss Jessie Goodwin Douglass. The ceremony was performed while the groom was on a sick bed.

Morganthau came here five years ago suffering from tuberculosis. The bride came here four years ago with an invalid sister.

Cooking as a Fine Art.

FOR WOMEN HOMEKEEPERS.

FASCINATING TALK ON A FASCINATING ART.

Open House and Free Lessons Three Days in the Week, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, in Afternoon, Second Floor New "Times" Building.

"Well, she's a born cook, that's all there is to it," remarked an interested on-looker yesterday as she watched Mrs. Haffner-Ginger fool with that omelette.

"Anyone who can meddle with an omelette like that, and leave her oven door open when she's baking angel cake, is simply a genius. It doesn't seem possible that that omelette can amount to anything the way she keeps lifting it with that broad-bladed knife. Why, I was always taught that you must fairly hold your breath when an omelette is rising in the skillet, and you must slip it in the oven so softly and slyly that the eggs won't know they've been moved."

The young woman in the front row who talks so much and is forever asking questions and volunteering her opinions, repeated right out loud what this woman had said sotto voice. The cook lady smiled benignly and made reply.

"It can't fall if it's properly put together—just like the cake you remember I told you. The air cells will hold it up. Now, when I was beating the white of eggs this morning for the icing at the Alhambra Woman's Club, someone in the audience asked me why I used a wire whip instead of a dover egg beater. That was because I wanted large air bubbles in the egg froth. Now, in the case of this omelette, I want closer, finer air cells, so the omelette will hold up if they are too big, it will fall when I put it in the oven. By using the rotary motion with this dover egg beater, I get the firm, close cells. You notice too, that I beat them in a deep bowl, whereas for the icing I use a larger, flatter dish."

She Forgot the Milk.

"I like to see her make mistakes," whispered a woman in the second row as the cook lady threw up both hands with a tragic air as she was gently lifting the omelette with the broad-bladed knife, and it kept sticking to the skillet. She had forgotten the milk.

She was considerably stirred up over some remarks made by the Lancer in last Sunday's Time anent southern women—you know Mrs. Haffner-Ginger is a southern woman herself—and she was s absorbed in trouncing the horrid Lancer that she forgot to put any milk in her omelette. But she made another and this time allowed one tablespoonful of milk to each egg—and it sure was some omelette.

Eggs Spanish Style.

All the egg dishes made yesterday were in the Spanish language. The omelette was a Spanish omelette with a filling of chopped parsley, onions, a garlic button, green peppers, pimientoes—all chopped fine and mixed and then cooked in hot butter with Campbell's tomato soup and a little flour added. "How much seasoning?" asked someone in the audience. "There now," said the cook lady, "that's one thing I never tell; it all depends upon the individual taste. I do not believe in set rules for seasoning or flavoring—condiments or extracts—tastes differ so. What I like you may not, and vice versa. Use your judgment and taste."

Much Depends on Skillet.

"There is an omelette pan on the market that folds your omelette for you," said the cook lady. "I saw one the other day and it is the best thing for the purpose I know anything about. An omelette skillet should never have a drop of water touch it; clean it with salt, wipe it dry and put away after using. It must be kept as smooth as silk and in perfect condition if you want a successful omelette. You will notice I made the Spanish filling for my omelette first," she observed. "You know the omelette cannot wait for anything when it is done and should be eaten at once."

Long Beach Prize Winner.

In speaking of her private classes yesterday, Mrs. Haffner-Ginger mentioned that Mrs. Richardson of Long Beach, whose cake won the $5 prize the other day, offered by the Globe Flour people, has signed up for a course of lessons in fancy icing.

It seems that Long Beach cooks are so interested that, after Mrs. Richardson won that prize, she was besieged to give lessons in cake-making. Now she's going to perfect her knowledge of fancy icing and it looks like Long Beach housewives will soon have a second Haffner-Ginger lady of their own.

Special Classes in Cooking.

"About May 25," announced the cook lady, "I am going to start a class in dietetics, for nurses or anyone who wants to take lessons in cooking for the sick or convalescent."

Several signed up yesterday for the special single-lesson in icing which Mrs. Haffner-Ginger proposes to give, and others paid deposits on the full course of five lessons in fancy cakes and icing.

"Can you crystallize fruit?" someone asked.

"Sure, I can," replied the cook lady, "but that comes in the special lesson courses."

"I wish we might have a lesson in summer drinks and cocktails," was the suggestion sent to the platform on a slip of paper. "Hard or soft?" asked the cook lady and a gasp of interrogation passed over the audience.

DESERT GOLD

By Zane Grey

"But it is melodrama pure and undefiled," said one reader of "Desert Gold."

"What's melodrama?" he was asked.

"I mean it is a glorified dime novel written with splendid distinction, with charming grace, with red vigor, but still it is a sort of dime novel. There's the same galloping succession of events, the same tense situations—only it is all presented with such delicacy, such literary charm, one almost forgets the plot."

That's the story after all.

Instant Postum

Made of wheat and the juice of Southern sugar-cane, it has a rich Java-like flavor, but is absolutely free from the coffee drug, caffeine.

Instant Postum is so processed that only the soluble portions are retained.

Requires No Boiling—A spoonful with hot water, and sugar and cream to taste, makes a delicious beverage.

"There's a Reason" for POSTUM

Sold by grocers everywhere, in 30c and 50c tins.

Here are 3 simple ways

(1) Prepare Campbell's Tomato Soup with milk or cream as a bisque and serve it with croutons—little cubes of bread toasted crisp and dropped into each plate just before serving.

(2) Serve it with rice boiled separately and added to the soup before serving.

(3) Grate a little cheese over each plateful.

All these are dainty and delicious ways to serve this wholesome soup. And there are many other ways equally tempting. Write for our little free booklet which describes some of them.

Trade Doesn't Stick—Court of Appeal Denies Real Estate Broker His Desired Commission.

The District Court of Appeal has defined the rights of a real estate broker in the matter of recording commissions in cases where the trade does not "stick." That tribunal has affirmed the judgment of Superior Judge Hervey, in favor of the defendant, in the action brought by Frank M. Connor, assignee of C. B. Guthrie & Co. against J. W. Riggins to recover a commission of $2500 alleged to be due for services rendered in effecting an exchange of property, located in Los Angeles county for property, located in Texas, belonging to John T. Sweatt and valued at $158,300.

It appeared that Riggins had deposited with Guthrie & Co. the deeds and bills of sale covering his property, with the understanding that they were not to be delivered to Sweatt until the latter had made a showing of title to the property which he proposed to exchange. It was alleged that the papers were delivered prematurely to Sweatt and that it turned out the titles to his land were defective. The court held that the contract was not enforceable and denied the right of Connor to collect a commission. Connor claimed that when an agent is engaged to make a trade and he produces a customer who enters into a valid and enforceable contract with his principal, the agent has done all that is required and he is entitled to a commission. This view, however, was not taken by the Court of Appeal.

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS MAKES REPLY.

Contests Statements Made in the Name of Executive Committee of Church Federation Concerning What He Said in a Public Address Before the Ministerial Union.

J. H. Francis, City Superintendent of Schools, yesterday issued the following open letter in response to one published the preceding day by Rev. E. P. Ryland, as spokesman for the Executive Committee of the Church Federation:

LOS ANGELES, April 24, 1913.

In a signed statement appearing in this morning's Times Dr. Ryland calls the Superintendent of Schools a Pantheist because he said "The child is God." My reply is that I had thought myself to be a Christian, but whether Christian, Pantheist or pagan, I believe in the divinity of the child.

In an address before the Ministerial Union I did say that the child is God, but, being questioned at the time upon the statement, I explained that I had no theological tenet in mind, and only meant that I believed in the divinity of the child. This I had always thought to be Christian doctrine. Dr. Ryland classifies it as pagan. Dr. Ryland was present and heard the explanation. He knew full well that no attempt was made to enter the realm of theology or religious philosophy, but rather to discuss the child life and child nature and the best means of developing it.

"Thou shalt not" was condemned by me as an educational policy and practice, but if the doctor had intended to be fair he would have given the quotation in its setting, which was a discussion of the positive in education, rather than the negative. Love, kindness and encouragement, against hate, fear and criticism. I questioned the right of parent, teacher or preacher to dwell upon the weaknesses and mistakes of children. Life is positive, not negative. The problem in education is not to restrain children from doing undesirable things, but to get them so absorbed in doing the desirable that the undesirable becomes a negligible quantity. This is a part of my philosophy of education, and if it does not accord with Dr. Ryland's theology we shall have to remain, for the present, at least, in disagreement.

The most unworthy part of the signed statement was Dr. Ryland's attempt to have me criticise the public schools because of their dishonesty. In a brief general discussion of morals I said it was sometimes alleged that there was stealing in the schools, and conceded that, deplorable as it might seem, it was true. I also said that the public schools shared this trouble with the normal schools, colleges, theological seminaries, churches, society gatherings and business, which seemed to indicate that it was a tendency of the age, rather than a peculiar weakness of the schools. The statement "that the superintendent complained of the prevalence of theft among our public school children" without explanation, would, if believed, properly arouse in the teachers a feeling that their superintendent had been guilty of a serious injustice and a gross breach of professional ethics. Knowing this, Dr. Ryland's misrepresentation, through his partial statement of facts, becomes highly immoral.

[Signed] J. H. FRANCIS, Superintendent of Schools.

HONORING A BOTANIST.

Prof. McBride of University of Iowa Is Entertained at Banquet and Another Is to Follow.

Prof. Thomas H. McBride, professor of botany in the University of Iowa and a well-known writer on that subject, is visiting at the home of Mrs. McBride's sister, Mrs. L. L. Luther, No. 325 West Sixty-second street. A banquet was tendered in his honor at the Hayward, yesterday, by the alumni of the university, at which Mrs. McBride and Mrs. A. M. Currier, widow of a former president of the institution, were also honor guests. Judge Willis presided over the function, which was attended by sixty former students of the university. Prof. McBride is on a year's leave of absence, most of which will be spent in botanical research in California. The Lennox Club, composed of former students of Lennox College, Hopkinton, Ia., of which Prof. McBride was once president, will give a reception in honor of he and his wife on Friday evening, at the Hayward. All former students and also friends of the two guests, who knew them in Hopkinton, are invited.

Glee Club of Los Angeles High School Will Go Down the Line Tomorrow to Give Concerts.

The Boys' Glee Club of the Los Angeles High School, under the management of Leland Bolin, will leave tomorrow for a concert tour. Concerts will be given at Santa Ana and Fullerton High Schools and in the evening in Elks' Hall, Santa Ana. In addition to the club numbers, there will be sleight of hand stunts by Wayne Fisher; bass solo by George Dyekman; cornet solo, Rufus Brent; violin solo, Gound Romandy, and a monologue by Ray Elliott. Miss Verna C. Blythe, head of the musical department and director of the club will accompany the party, which will include also Miss Ethel Boyd, accompanist. The members of the club are as follows: Arthur Redaker, Raymond Elliott, Asa Bott, Alphonso Bernal, Garnet Rainey, Roy Gangested, Isidore Kornblum, George Boyd, Newton Kendall, Bruce Findlay, Sherman Scheonmaker, Rufus Brent, Milton Shafer, John Donnellan, Wayne Fisher, Fred Baker and Leland Bolin.

WRECKER'S LIGHT SENTENCE.

Chauffeur Who Overturned Auto in Evading Pursuing Speed Officers Gets Off Easy.

G. E. Redfern, arrested early yesterday morning for alleged reckless driving was given a suspended sentence of ten days in jail yesterday by Police Judge Rose. Redfern's employer, Lawrence Peters, asked clemency for the boy chauffeur.

Redfern overturned the automobile at Twelfth street and South Grand avenue after failing to stop when ordered to do so by pursuing Patrolmen Fordice and Benson. According to Benson the automobile was traveling almost fifty miles an hour.

Benson was not given an opportunity to tell his story in court, the judge stating that he had heard all the facts. Subsequently, after learning all the facts as related to him by Benson, he volunteered to revoke the sentence if Benson would arrest Redfern again, but this the officer declined to do.

FIANCE TO RESCUE.

Help Ready to Assist Young Woman Held on Charge of Having Passed Fictitious Checks.

Louise Armstrong, 22 years old, arrested Tuesday night on a charge of having passed forged checks, was arraigned yesterday before Police Judge Chambers and the hearing set for April 25. The Armstrong woman was arrested because she gave an alleged bogus check to a local drug firm. She is living with her mother at the Broadway Hotel.

Wilbur Locke, No. 101 North Anderson street, who says the girl is his fiancee, said in court that he will do all in his power to secure her release. The young woman yesterday refused to discuss her arrest and is still held at Central Station.

PENNSYLVANIA RECOGNITION.

The Pennsylvania Society of Southern California, including the Pasadena and Los Angeles branches, has issued a call for all former residents of the Keystone State to rally at San Gabriel Tuesday evening and witness a presentation of the Mission Play. John S. McGroarty, author of the play, and Benjamin Horning, who interprets the leading character, are Pennsylvanians by birth. There are 20,000 former Pennsylvanians in this vicinity, according to the statistics of the Pennsylvania Society.

WIDOW ASKS DAMAGES.

Mito Okado, widow of Yosamatsu Okado, brought an action in the United States District Court yesterday against the San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railway, to recover $25,000 damages, alleged to be due on account of the death of her husband, April 25, 1912. It is charged that the man was struck by an engine of the defendant corporation in Highgrove.

THE MIAMI DISASTER.

WORST IN GLOBE SECTION.

GLOBE (Ariz.) April 18.—Yesterday's disaster at the Miami mine is considered the worst ever known in this section. Five men are dead, a half dozen more are in the hospital with serious injuries and two-score more are suffering from minor injuries. Yet not one of them was under the 3,000,000 tons of rock that fell. All were caught in an awful blast of compressed air that shot through the mine drifts on the dropping into lower stopes of five acres of capping rock nearly 300 feet thickness. There were wild reports that fifteen men had been caught in the caved-in area, but this was untrue, for all men in the danger zone had been withdrawn when the ground was found to be "working." The fall had been expected for several days, and was, indeed, a part of the general scheme of working the mine by the "caving" method. Huge pillars had been left to support the roofs of large excavations, and the management had no idea to the extent of the drop would be as great

DROP WITHOUT WARNING.

The drop came almost without warning and without the fall of smaller sections, as is usually the case in mines. About 300 men had been sent down on the day shift and were working as usual on the various levels, remote from the affected area. At 7:30 almost every man was prostrated by the air blast. Some were thrown forty feet. An ore train of fifteen cars and an electric locomotor were blown 200 feet along the drift, despite the efforts of the motorman. The greatest effect was felt on the lower levels.

Access to the mine was not affected in the least, and the mine officials were lowered at once without trouble. Underground the telephone system was found disarranged, but lights were provided promptly and searching parties were started. It is certain the amount of damage done by some drifts the men were thrown into panic-stricken, believing they had been imprisoned by the caving. At one point, though access to the shaft had not been cut off, the fall made a dangerous passage to the lower drift by sliding down a slope.

In some drifts the men were badly panic-stricken, believing they had been imprisoned by the caving earth. At one point, though access to the shaft had not been cut off, the men made a dangerous passage to a lower drift by sliding down a fire hose.

THE DEAD.

The dead thus far are:

MANUEL NAREDO, Spanish miner, aged 21; head crushed against timbers.

NICHOLAS MARTINOVICH, Austrian miner; fracture of skull and base of the brain.

DRAGO ANDESILLE, brakeman on an ore train on the 420 level; was blown from his seat on an ore train, sustaining fracture of the skull.

J. B. VAN ORDEN, American miner, aged 28; died of fracture of the skull after operation at Miami Hospital.

CHARLES COX, American miner, died at the hospital from contusion upon the head.

R. L. Bell, mine captain on the 370 level, is in serious shape, with broken ribs and with internal injuries. Despite his hurts he worked for several hours helping others from the mine and making sure that his crew were accounted for.

Another mine hero is Charles Brunst, jigger boss on the 370 level, who led a gang of men to safety after he had been badly hurt internally with severe lacerations on the head and body.

In Miami it is considered a matter short of providential that so few were killed and that the avenues of escape from the mine were not closed by the concussion. It was likewise the most fortunate that only a few days before had been opened in Miami one of the finest and best-equipped mine hospitals of the West, especially provided for just such accidents. It is claimed by the management of the mine that there is no possibility of any recurrence of the disaster, and work has been resumed under normal conditions.

ONE REMEDY SUGGESTED.

If Fruit Prices Descend, "More Fruit," Is Suggestion of University Representative.

GLENDORA, April 23.—A University of California farmers' institute was held in the Glendora Opera-house yesterday with J. B. Neff presiding. In his opening address, after felicitating the growers in the Glendora district upon their escape during the late freeze with so little damage, comparatively, Mr. Neff, in referring to the proposed cut in the tariff duty on citrus fruits, said that the only solution to the problem, so far as he could see now, was in raising a larger and better fruit to meet the increased demand, owing to the greater consumption of the cheaper fruit.

In an able discussion on "Profitable Citrus Fruit Trees Under Present Conditions," and in which the growers are particularly interested at this time, H. Culbertson of El Cajon, San Diego county, a specialist in the deciduous-fruit-tree growers, showed the deciduous-fruit-tree growers how to understand and appreciate the necessity of pruning their trees better than the citrus-fruit growers. They must realize that they must prune their trees, such as the apricot and prune trees to get a crop, while the citrus-fruit man may be sure of at least a partial crop and is inclined to defer to another time the pruning so badly needed, not realizing the disadvantage of the trees.

To illustrate the difference the speaker produced limbs cut from both deciduous and citrus trees and told just how each should be pruned. "The 10-year-old orange tree," he continued, "should be taken as a model in pruning. By proper pruning the 20-year-old tree could and should be made to appear as beautiful and prolific in bearing qualities as the 10-year-old tree."

Of surpassing interest was the address on "Frost Protection," in which Professor Crowell, a prominent grower of Upland, led. While admitting that the present methods of frost protection were largely experimental, he declared a great improvement would be made later on, especially in the elimination of some of the disagreeable features such as the soot and resulting damage to residence property, the latter having been proved to the satisfaction of many present that the crop can be saved by fire, since it was saved, by smudging, where properly done. He cited numerous instances to show that the crop was saved where vigorous smudging was resorted to, while in groves in the same district where no smudging was done, or where lack of preparation, the crop was entirely lost and the trees severely damaged as well.

The question box conducted by Professor Neff and the address of Ernest Braunton of Los Angeles on "Home Grounds: Decorating Home Grounds" were the chief topics for discussion at the evening session.

Arizona.

CALLS GOV. HUNT A LAWBREAKER.

Arizona Legislature Scores Friend of Convicts.

Special Session Grinds on Without Doing Much.

Latest Idea of Senator Is for State Saw Mill.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) April 22.—The first special session of the Arizona Legislature is grinding steadily away on miscellaneous legislation much the same as though it had all been done before it. The Governor and a few members, however, insist that by a month will be needed to finish up the work ahead and the appropriation of $25,000 made for the expenses of the session is expected to prove ample. For fear that the appropriation bill may be left again some members are threatening to organize a "vote-no" club. The idea originated with Senator Sims of Cochise county, who has expressed his firm belief that the people are very tired of the Legislature and want it to go home, and who propose to block the passage of all legislation that does not refer to institutions, finance, or salaries.

The fight between the House and the Governor is still very much in evidence. The House refuses to recede from its position in the passage of the Penal Code with a provision limiting the power of the Governor to reprieve or pardon. It is probable, however, that the Governor will insist on his contention, for he has vetoed the code once more and it is improbable that the Senate would recede on the disputed matter over his opposition.

ANTI-HUNT FIGHT.

Heretofore the Republicans as a party have allowed the Democrats to squabble among themselves, but now, possibly in view of the beautiful campaign material available, are taking a hand in the anti-Hunt fight. The first gun from the Republican camp was fired by Senator Hubbell, who happens to be chairman of the Republican Committee. He spoke for two hours on the subject of the administration and made many charges of extravagance and of violation of the law. In the House, Representative Kelton called the Governor a law breaker and violator of his oath." It is probable that the fight would be much worse were it not for the efforts of the party leaders to keep the party intact.

The Governor stands firm on his pet capital punishment idea, despite the general adverse criticism from the press and the Legislature. Petitioning a referendum vote upon the subject of capital punishment thus far have brought an aggregate of about 1000 names to the office of the Secretary of State. About 2100 names are needed before the matter can be placed before the voters.

HUNT'S LAST MESSAGE.

That the Governor still has hopes is shown in the late message to the House wherein a paragraph reads as follows: "To the Democratic leaders of the Senate and House, on whose shoulders and upon whose responsibility for this Legislature's deeds and achievements, good or bad, must rest, I say, be Democrats and patriots and Democrats. Without design of partisan advantage, but that which is more to come from public duty well performed, give credit to your party's progressive deeds and fair-spoken claims for support. They were not made so much as to justify forgetfulness, and the day when an accounting will be demanded so far distant as to encourage over to carelessness. I ask the co-operation of all sincere constituents, regardless of party, and upon yourselves for the complete fulfillment of the duties for which you and your party will be held responsible and solely and inevitably accountable."

Possibly just because the Governor asked it, the House has refused to order an investigation of the state institutions. Anti-administration members say that if not been charged, that the money given to the institution had been misspent and it would possibly be better not to get out any more political pamphlets for the benefit of the cause of democracy.

TO DROP SIMS.

It is told around the Capitol that Secretary Superintendent B. B. Sims is to be dropped very soon and that Governor in his place will appoint his private secretary, Leroy Anderson. There is some talk that Sims has not been as politic as he might have been in the expression of his intentions of gubernatorial prison reform.

The Senate has killed a bill under which would have had the Governor's good time providing payment to convicts for work upon the State roads. The House, having failed to act, the county-division bill, passed at the session of the Legislature, has become a law under the ten-day clause of the Constitution. It is expected that the act will be appealed to the next election by county division in Cochise, Gila, Coconino and Yavapai counties.

Attempt to install the rotary ballot was defeated by the Democrats of the House. It was admitted that the new ballot, doing away with party emblems and straight tickets, was in the interest of pure and honest politics, but the Democrats claim that they do not propose to lose any part of the apparent power shown their party by the voters in Arizona.

Governor Hunt, a perennial spring of political ideas, is not discouraged because of non-appreciation by the Legislature, for he has just signed bills for State ownership and operation of a smelter and reduction works for the handling of ores, empowering the State to loan money to farmers on farm lands. He believes a State smelter would be of great benefit to the mining industry, for which it should be operated at cost profit, giving the small miner an opportunity to develop his property to the greater glory of the State. He also refers to the facts that the State now owns a large extent of timbered land, and that timber can be imported from Oregon and California and sold at high profit.

The Governor has received from Washington acknowledgment of his action in expressing satisfaction with progress in Parliament of an Irish home rule bill, and stating: "Measures such as this are most helpful and encouraging to the supplementary party, and they have come to have a most valuable influence on the public opinion of the world in regard to the immediate early settlement of the question."

Mule-foot Mascot.

features of the court war between the partners was the alleged kidnaping of Yancey last October. He was arrested on a Governor's warrant charging embezzlement and hustled out of the city to Pittsburgh. There he gave bond and returned to Los Angeles. That is one of the cases that was erased from the slate in the agreement reached yesterday.

In the negotiations for a settlement Yancey was represented by Attorney Edmond Burke and Attorney Bowring and Barnsdale by the law firm of Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher. By the terms, Barnsdale gets the holdings of the Petroleum Development Company.

While Yancey was embroiled in litigation, he found time to promote the Mule-Foot Hog Farm Association. He imported hogs of the mule-foot variety and established them on a ranch in the Imperial Valley. He said yesterday that the hogs are doing nicely.

The Legal Spring Style.

[Concordia Kansan:] "Whenever we can be of material service to our lawyer friends that will make a rift in the monotony of their lives and let a gleam of sunshine through the dust and must of "precedent" in their procedure, we are glad to do it. Our old friends "incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial," have been overworked and are somewhat stale, impotent and frayed-out at the seams. In the Swope trial the Star says: "Mr. Lucas objected because the answer was speculative, vague and conjectural." This is the latest spring style and we trust our lawyer friends will make due note of it.

FORMAL ARREST TO SETTLE IT.

OWNERSHIP OF AVENUE CAUSES BIG LEGAL BATTLE.

Kinney Interests Opposed to the City for Possession of Thoroughfare—Churchmen Up in Arms Against Granting of More Liquor Licenses—Other News.

VENICE, April 23.—The issue between the Kinney Company and the city regarding the ownership of Windward avenue, was fairly joined today when a workman in the employ of Thomas W. Prior, was arrested on the charge of destroying street property. Prior had leased a part of Windward avenue from the Kinney Company for ten years intending to erect near the lagoon an amusement contrivance to be called the Great American Derby.

Earl Rogers and Force Parker have been retained by Kinney and Prior, and they and City Attorney Hanna have agreed to expedite the case of the workman so as to get the action before the Superior Court as soon as possible to test the question of whether Windward avenue is a public thoroughfare.

City Attorney Hanna claims that by virtue of a State law, after a thoroughfare has been used by the people and not obstructed, it becomes a public street and the property of the city. At the meeting of the City Trustees April 14, the street was declared dedicated. The Kinney Company, which laid out the thoroughfare, resists the contention of the city.

Members and pastors of the seven churches in Venice are up in arms against the issuance of any more liquor licenses in Venice. They organized today for the fight against granting liquor cafe licenses for the Plaza and for Ocean Front and Brooks avenue. The Venice Civic League has also taken up the cudgel against any more liquor dispensaries and a mass meeting of protest has been called, to be held under the auspices of this league, for tomorrow night.

Engineer Crawford began the building of the bulkhead in the Playa del Rey lagoon today. This improvement will divert the waters of the inlet toward the canal system at Venice, and will serve to keep the circulation of water in those waterways.

Local Masons are considering the project of establishing a lodge of Masonry in Venice. There are lodges at Ocean Park and Santa Monica, but none here. The Academy of Music building, a highly ornate and roomy structure on Lion canal, built by Felix Peanp, the artist, is being considered as a temporary lodgeroom.

PASADENA, April 24.—Pasadena yesterday, without mincing words, made its attitude toward the anti-alien bill known to the members of the State Legislature at Sacramento. A stream of telegrams left the city for the capital. They were headed by messages from the Board of Trade and the Mayor, which were followed by a file of private telegrams from citizens, all urging that the request of President Wilson be heeded and the measure be not enacted as proposed.

The telegram of the Board of Trade was drafted at a special meeting called yesterday for the purpose. It went to Gov. Johnson and Senator Carr, and a copy of it was sent to the President at Washington. It read:

"At a special meeting of the Board of Trade held today the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"Be it resolved, that the Board of Trade wire to Gov. Johnson and State Senator William J. Carr that the board believes in and indorses the sentiment contained in the telegram from President Woodrow Wilson to your Excellency, protesting the anti-alien act.

[Signed] "PASADENA BOARD OF TRADE.
"L. H. TURNER,
"President;
"A. J. BERTONNEAU,
"Secretary."

To the message sent to the President were added the words: "and that we inform President Wilson of the action taken."

Mayor Thum's message was sent to Senator Carr and Assemblyman Fish, and a copy of it to President Wilson with the note that it had been sent to these legislators. It follows:

"The proposed alien land law is too important a measure to be passed on at the present time and under present circumstances. The people of California in general have not given it sufficient consideration. The question should be left to the people themselves to decide, and until the next session of the Legislature it should be given first place in the public mind. All ordinary questions should give way to this one and it should be given the attention the gravity of the situation demands. At present action should be in accord with the administration at Washington.

[Signed] "WILLIAM THUM.
"Mayor."

"The Mayor's telegram and the telegram of the Pasadena Board of Trade do not represent all that have been sent to Sacramento today," said Secretary Bertonneau of the Board of Trade yesterday. "Many residents of the city have sent telegrams on their own responsibility to the Governor and to the Senators and Assemblymen from Southern California, urging that the bill be not passed."

MEN TAKE WOMEN'S PART.

Without a woman in the cast, the Cauldron Club last night at Clune's Pasadena Theater, put on a show that had all the roles of a modern up-to-date musical comedy. The name of it was "The Crypt," and it packed the house and produced a gratifying amount of applause. In short, the show was successful far beyond the expectations of the actors.

The settings were romantic and the lines were full of music from start to finish. The play is to be repeated tonight.

BEES MAKE TROUBLE.

Patrolman Edward C. Abbott, crossing officer at Raymond avenue and Colorado street, was driven from his post yesterday by a swarm of bees. The bees came flying along from, nobody knew where, and swarmed on a trolley over Abbott's head. They were peaceful enough until a passing street car jolted them from the wire as the trolley wheel passed along and squashed and electrified a few in the bargain. Those that remained made for Abbott, who fled for safety.

For several hours they continued to hold their place on the wire, although each car that passed caused a disturbance and diminished their number. Abbott meantime directed traffic from the sidewalk, out of their way.

Eighty-five members of the Santa Ana Automobile Club motored to Pasadena yesterday and had dinner at the Hotel Green.

Thirty-five business men of the city today will accompany J. F. Torrence of this city to the industrial city of Torrence for an inspection of the place. The party will leave the Hotel Maryland at 9 o'clock this morning.

Col. Isaac L. Goff, former Mayor of Providence, R. I., who is a guest at the Hotel Maryland, is attracting considerable attention there on account of a rule that he has to walk two miles after each meal. He believes that that is the way to retain perfect health.

Pasadena directors of the George Junior Republic say that they will not this year attempt to raise money for the institution by holding a county fair as they did last year, but that a campaign by letter will be carried on instead.

The Pasadena Pigeon Club announced yesterday that it will give a show here in July. Many rare birds are to be exhibited.

Mrs. Malanie Dontanville of No. 130 South Vernon avenue died late last Tuesday night as the result of burns she suffered when she attempted to light her kitchen fire with gasoline.

Manuela Aro, an 8-year-old Mexican girl, yesterday fell from a swing at the Garfield school and broke both arms. She was taken to the Pasadena Hospital.

A large delegation of local Odd Fellows will attend the celebration of the ninety-fourth anniversary of the founding of the order at San Bernardino next Saturday.

WATTS BOOSTERS BUSY.

Making Preparations for a Trip Over the Balloon Route to Tell of Superior Opportunities.

WATTS, April 23.—Elaborate preparations are being made for the annual advertising excursion of the Watts boosters, which will be held on May 1, this year. The first of these excursions was held last year and it was decided to hold one every year. This year the excursion will be taken over what is known as the Balloon Route of the Pacific Electric, and an immense amount of advertising matter boosting Watts as a city of homes, is to be distributed.

Tickets are being sold in advance and the people are subscribing freely. The party will take their lunches with them and will enjoy a picnic dinner at Santa Monica. Two hours will be spent at Venice. The party will leave Watts at 9:30 a.m. and will return at 6 in the evening, coming by way of Redondo. Large banners will be placed on the sides of the cars so that all people may know that the Watts boosters are aboard. It is expected that at least 500 people will join in the boosting trip.

On Saturday evening of this week the Watts boosters will make a pilgrimage to San Gabriel to attend the "Mission Play." The special rate of admission has been secured and a special car to take the party directly from Watts to San Gabriel and return them after the performance has been provided. A large number of local people have indicated their intention of visiting the play at the date mentioned and it is expected that it will require two cars to accommodate the crowd.

The City Council has decided to do a little advertising for the city of Watts, wishing to call attention to the fact that Watts is a city of homes. At its last session a contract was made with the representative of the D.O. K.K., Temple No. 75, Los Angeles, who are getting out a souvenir for distribution at the national conclave of that order to be held in Minneapolis in July. The souvenir is to be of 100 pages, printed on fine paper, and filled with illustrations. Not much descriptive matter is to be used, but the pictures are to be so arranged that the story of each community represented will be readily understood. Ten thousand of these books are to be distributed at Minneapolis, and in turn they will be taken home by the delegates, who will be there from all parts of the United States and Canada.

EAGLE ROCK.

EAGLE ROCK, April 21.—The big event of this valley in social and club circles is scheduled for Friday and Saturday afternoons and evenings, April 25 and 26, when the third flower show will be given by the Womens' Twentieth Century Club of Eagle Rock. This is to be by far the biggest and most pretentious of any of the shows give thus far. This club is the leading women's organization of this city and on its list of membership are found nearly all of the leading social and literary leaders. An interesting feature will be a baby show on Saturday afternoon, and already twenty-five mothers have entered their little ones. The two days' affair will end with a cotillion on Saturday evening, to be led by the president of the club Mrs. E. E. Hamilton. Many handsome favors will be bestowed, and this promises to be a very brilliant ending to an unusually active social season.

WOMAN SEIZES MOUSE BY TAIL.

LONG BEACH, April 23.—Miss Mattie Russell, a teacher in Polytechnic High School, is looked on with admiration by the students today following an episode yesterday when a little stray mouse ran into the open study room of the school. Girls screamed and climbed to chairs, while the boy students made half-hearted grabs at the rodent as it darted about the room. Miss Russell came into the room just as the mouse scampered down the aisle and with a firm sweep of her hand caught it by the tail and held it aloft in triumph, then walked to the door and set the captive free, after chiding the students for their terror.

HIRE ENGINEERS TO BUILD SEWER.

PREPARE FOR BOND ISSUE BY ARRANGING CONTRACT.

City Council Begins Early to Handle Proposed Improvement. Wedding Party Fun Marred by Accident to Woman—Church Federation's Action Arouses Factions.

LONG BEACH, April 24.—The City Council took a forward step last night in the new sewerage system, which it expects to build with the aid of a $340,000 bond issue, by approving the bank contract between the Board of Works and the sanitary engineer firm of Olmstead and Gillelan for the handling of both the detailed and preliminary plans of the system.

For their work the engineers are to receive $20,400, except in case the bonds do not carry, in which case they will receive no compensation for the preliminary plans. They are given forty-five days in which to prepare the first estimate, but expect to have them ready in a month's time as the voting of the bond election is only delayed until definite information can be obtained as to the cost of installing the proposed system, which is to be large enough to care for the entire city.

MERRY MARRIAGE MARRED.

Her eagerness to aid a pair of newlyweds to escape from their friends proved disastrous this morning to Mrs. John Kramer, who lives at the Bluff House on East Ocean avenue, where the bride and groom, Miss Lila Hostetter and John Marsden, had hidden their suit cases for a hasty getaway after the wedding.

The couple, who were married at the Hostetter home on the beach, stood on the steps to the Bluff House, pursued by a crowd of friends. They rushed to a waiting auto and Mrs. Kramer attempted to carry the suit cases to the machine, but slipped and fell, sustaining a fracture of her left leg above the ankle. That ended the hilarity. Mr. and Mrs. Marsden will make their home at Westgate, near Sawtelle.

SUNDAY EXCURSIONS.

Criticism of Sunday excursions by a local realty firm, by the Federated Brotherhood of the local churches last night, has created a storm of comment today and may result in a disruption of the local Realty Board, some of the members taking part, it is said, in the discussion and voicing their disapproval of the excursions.

The realty man, whose criticism has caused the rumpus, is incensed, he says as he is paying all the bills, and does not propose to let the brotherhood dictate his business. He says he brings in hundreds of people who could not possibly get away any other day and fails to see in what way he gains when there are other excursions on the same day, with perhaps a better object but pleasure in view.

MAY DAY FETE.

Much interest is being manifested in the coming May day fete to be given under the auspices of the Associated Charities and candidates for queen are being put forward by their friends. Two additional candidates were announced today. Miss Mae Dunn, assistant clerk in the Board of Trade, and Miss Lillian Jones, 15-year-old girl whose face has recently graced the covers of the Coast magazines, has the official backing of the Trade Board, while Miss Jones is an entry independent.

BEACH BRIEFS.

The Finance Committee of the City Council last night reported that after an examination of the various funds of the city they found four overdrafts, but revenues yet to come in this fiscal year will replenish them and that there will be plenty of money to pay all bills in full, for the remainder of this and a half months of the fiscal year. Then the Council dipped into the contingent fund and ordered the expenditure of $1100 for an addition to the bandstand pergola.

Reports are current that suits of one kind or another will be filed nearly every day against the company which has excavated the big canal north of Ocean avenue and left it uncompleted, with the result that the heavy storms filled the canal full and it overflowed, inundating much adjacent property and causing considerable damage to crops and property of the ranchers. The latter now propose to compel the syndicate to pay them for all losses incurred and also to finish the canal so that storm water in the future will be disposed of properly and not be spilled out over the lowlands.

The Board of Public Works this afternoon authorized the signing of a government engineering board's prayer of reconsideration of the decision of the government to deny the improvement at present to Redondo Beach and San Pedro harbors, following a lengthy petition, given reasons for the necessity of not allowing the cancellation of improvement to lapse.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

Riverside.

EVEN KILLED BY EXPLOSION.

Powder Lets Go With Fatal Results.

Agriculturist Predicts Good Citrus Crop.

Power Company Plans Large Extensions.

RIVERSIDE, April 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A large force of men is actually at work tonight in the Portland quarries of the Riverside Portland Cement Company at Crestmore in the endeavor to uncover the bodies of an unknown number of men buried underneath tons of rock. This disaster, the first of any importance recorded at the plant, was due to a premature explosion of 100-pound charges of dynamite early after 5 o'clock.

Powder Foreman Gus Oelson and his assistants, who were near the blasting charges, were blown to pieces while the bodies of two more have been recovered. Six more men is known to have been working near-by at the time are missing, making seven in all. Not a soul has been found who can shed any light on the tragedy and it is feared the death list will be twice as great as first estimated.

General Manager W. W. Poole, who was at his home in Los Angeles at the time of the explosion, hastened home by auto on a telephone summons. It is his opinion that the large number of men missing may be accounted for by the fact that in case of accident the foreign men will usually leave the scene at a time through fear. He has called for a powder expert in order to determine, if possible, the exact cause of the accident.

It is known that four teams standing on the roadway at the base of the cliff were buried under the avalanche of rock, and there were two men with them. The difficulty of securing data for the work of excavating was caused by the knowledge that six blasting charges lay unexploded in the rock.

The shock of the explosions was felt in various parts of the city, ten miles distant.

As the work progresses fragments of clothing are being found and it is impossible whether the exact number of fatalities will ever be learned.

FRUIT PROGNOSTICATION.

The fears of some growers that there would be indifferent returns from the blossoms that now grace the citrus fruit trees in this county, were happily dispelled today by the statement of County Horticultural Commissioner Cundiff that, in his opinion, the coming crop will be 60 per cent. of normal.

Cundiff has just returned from a careful inspection of the groves in this district and throughout the county and reports that the trees are in fine condition considering the defoliation resulting from the January freeze.

He estimates the defoliation at 40 per cent. On trees thus affected he thinks from 50 per cent. to a full crop may set on the trees, but they will produce late, the fruit will be below normal in quality. A heavy crop is predicted for peaches and apricots, as well as a good crop for almonds. Prunes will average 75 per cent. of normal, while olives, cherries and walnuts should come to the average of former years.

PLAN OF LIGHTED WAYS.

The steady demand for the extension of the city's ornamental lighting system in both the business and residence districts is but one of the proofs that one or two fruit failures must materially affect the development of the city, especially as a number of high-class homes,

Action was now before the Board of Public Works calls for the installation of a full mile of concrete posts on Main street, extending to the base line. The outlay required from part of the property owners will probably not be far from $4000. Plans are now under way for the formation of a similar system in Brentwood place tract, on the Magnolia avenue extension, which will require 1000 posts. Portions of Market and Lemon streets are also in line for improvement, and will secure the three-sided post of concrete. The completion of this work will give the city approximately nine miles of streets improved with the ornamental lights.

LEMON MEANS MUCH.

Officials of the Southern Sierras Power Company, whose general offices were recently removed to this city on receipt of the text of the Railway Commission's ruling relative to the continuance of the line extension work in San Bernardino county, declare state that this decision will not affect the expenditure of large amounts of money in Riverside county, but hundreds of thousands of dollars in Riverside and in every important town at the San Jacinto Mountains is now served by this corporation.

MONEY FOR GOOD ROADS.

Progress in the proceedings looking toward the issuance of bonds for county highways was effected today when the request of W. B. Clancy of the County Highway Commission for funds for the various surveys was granted by the Board of Supervisors.

The sum of $6000 was set aside from the general fund for the use of the commission. The board was in a good roads frame of mind and Supervisor Crane was allowed $2000 for oiling roads in San Mateo Canyon and Supervisor Carlton $3000 for oiling roads in the First District.

CITY EXTENDING EQUIPMENT.

The Board of Public Utilities has accepted the bid of the Cresmer Manufacturing Company for the erection of the new transmission substation in the Arlington district, designed to receive the current contracted for with the Southern Sierras Power Company. The building will be located adjoining the branch library at Arlington, and its architecture, which will be Mission, will harmonize with the attractive building which houses the library.

INSANITY CHARGE WITHDRAWN.

The charge of insanity recently lodged in the Superior Court against John G. Reinhardt, a prominent pioneer of the San Jacinto Valley, was withdrawn today by Attorney Estudillo, acting for Mrs. Reinhardt. When the examination was made the court ordered Reinhardt placed in the County Hospital for observation. The members of the family have decided to take him back into the home and care for him there.

Ontario Starts Improvement Campaign and Promises to Complete "the Best" Street System.

ONTARIO, April 23.—Unless the present campaign of street improvement, planned by the City Council, meets with a serious reversal, Ontario is soon to be the best paved city of its size in California.

The preliminary steps for the ordering in of concrete and asphaltum pavement on Euclid avenue between A and Tenth and on A street between San Antonio a nd Benson avenues, were taken by the Council last night. Paving is already in on Euclid between Main and A streets, and has been ordered in on A between Euclid and San Antonio avenues. When this work is completed it will give the city more than five miles of paved streets.

In addition to this the Council plans to macadamize and oil every street in the city. The work will be done for the most part under the Vrooman act, the city paying for the work at street intersections. Ontario's streets are in wretched condition, and the people welcome any plan for their improvements. They recently voted bonds to theamount of $75,000 and this sum will be used to aid in the work.

MISPLACED COMMA.

Declaring that an innocent-appearing little comma in section No. 176 of the ordinances of the city of Ontario is full of latent "jags," and that its appearance in the ordinance makes the sale of intoxicating liquor in Ontario lawful, the matter of its eradication has been turned over to the City Attorney by the Council.

The troublesome little comma, which appears in a clause drawn up for the strict prevention of the sale of liquor, gives a meaning directly opposite to that desired. It was discovered by Councilman J. V. Caldwell, who declared that it might mean 1000 drunks, and he urged the Council to take immediate steps to have it removed.

NEWS BRIEFS.

Rev. Jonathan Wood Stump, one of the first Methodist ministers to preach in California, died yesterday at 12:45 o'clock p.m. at the family home, No. 312 West F street, this city, in his eightieth year. Rev. Stump had made Ontario his home for eight years. Funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

The City Council has voted to join the California League of Municipalities, which numbers 158 California cities and towns. Councils of the city have in years past received repeated invitations to join, but have never before gotten to the point.

[Kansas City Star.] Age is no detriment to Kansas eggs, according to Dr. S. J. Crumbine, dean of the University of Kansas School of Medicine and secretary of the State Board of Health. The doctor has started a series of tests hoping to prove that his theory is correct.

A squad of men employed for the experiments will be fed for ten days on eggs two years old. The cold storage eggs will be served raw to the men each day, and careful records of the men's physical condition will be made each day.

Why the Dog Did It.

[Indianapolis News:] Julia P——, aged 5, was an excited witness of the attack by a dog on a little girl of her neighborhood, who had run screaming to her home with the dog leaping on her and growling either angrily or playfully. After fully ten minutes' silence, during which Julia appeared to be in deep thought, she remarked.

"Mamma, I know why that dog jumped on Ruth that way. It was because she looked so cute in her new raincoat."

GRY FATHER COMING TO SETTLE THE SCORE.

ONTARIO, April 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Declaring that O. F. Strobel, her father, will shoot Beaulieu on sight, Faye Strobel, wife No. 2 of the alleged Beaulieu, last night telephoned her parent at Weiser, Idaho, where he owns a ranch, that she is afraid and urged him not to come. Action today shows that the matter is on the way to this city, for that reason Beaulieu is said to have left a week despite the fact that Mrs. 1, Mrs. Moselle Paul returned from Los Angeles with money with which to join her husband from the woman he lived here.

It has agreed to a settlement a month, but the authorities state the father is on his way here he should be given some say in the matter.

Mrs. Clara Votaw, proprietor of the Moore apartments, where the couple lived, who has befriended the destitute girl since misfortune has befallen her, declares that if Beaulieu is freed by the authorities she has a band of women who will Horse-whip the alleged bigamist and adds that they have their whips reaedy.

Dapite her delicate condition and the merciless manner in which her husband deserted her, wife No. 2 continues to swear undying love for him and refuses to bring any action against him.

Either wife might bring a serious charge against Beaulieu but instead both are striving for his release.

Chambers of Commerce Ask Aid of Supervisors—Fruit Growers Excited Over Bill Pending at Sacramento Which Would Have Effect of Over-riding County.

SAN BERNARDINO, April 23.—The Associated Chambers of Commerce of San Bernardino county which met at Highland last night, will ask the Board of Supervisors to name a committee of citizens to represent each of the road districts, whose duty it shall be to make a careful canvass of the voters of the county as to their attitude on the question of a county bond issue of $1,500,000 for the construction of a system of county highways.

This committee shall also investigate the question of what roads should be built under the bond issue, should it be voted, and after report their findings to the supervisors as a basis on which that body may act.

The county chamber elected Crombie Allen of Ontario as secretary in place of W. S. Devol of Redlands, who resigned as he is leaving the county.

OPPOSED TO THE BILL.

The fruit growers of this county are greatly exercised over the Slater bill which is before the Legislature and which is in danger of becoming a law. The measure if passed as now framed will give the State Horticultural Commissioner power to suspend quarantine orders of the County Commissioner, and the growers fear that in this there lurks a grave danger of importation of pest-infested nursery stock at some time and thus do great damage to the fruit interests of the county.

The bill, it is believed, is being strongly backed by nurserymen whose products may be at the present time under the ban in San Bernardino as well as Riverside and other counties which at the present time are comparatively free from pests. Several large petitions have been forwarded to the Legislators by the fruit growers of the county, protesting against the passage of the bill.

SEEKS TO RECOVER.

The suit of Mrs. Effie Shackford against C. F. Riley to recover an alleged $9000 equity she claims in the Eagle Soda Works, is being heard in the Superior Court and attracts much attention. A. C. Shackford purchased the works and had paid $9000 when he disappeared, but is alleged to have given his wife an assignment of his interest. However, as the payments were not kept up in accordance with the contract, Riley took the plant back, paying Mrs. Shackford $250 for any claim she might have. A large array of attorneys are interested in the case which is being heard before a jury.

ROCKS ON AIR WAVES.

Concussion from Great Guns on Battleships Withstood y Aeroplane in Flight.

SAN DIEGO, April 23.—Lieut. Samuel McLeary, United States army aviation corps, in an army aeroplane remained over the armored cruiser Maryland during target practice with the eight-inch guns late yesterday to test the effect of concussion on the stability of the machine.

The test was made at an altitude of 5000 feet and although the machine rocked dangerously each time the guns were discharged the daring aviator succeeded in righting it.

During the firing Lieut. McLeary also tested a new range finding device, swooping down as near the cruiser as possible, after each discharge of the guns and signalling to the range finding officer the distances determined by the aid of the new device. The experiments were made off the Coronado Islands twenty miles from San Diego.

SANTA FE CONSTRUCTION.

Construction of a new freight warehouse and offices for the freight department in San Diego has been begun by the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway Company. This work is but a part of improvements which will ultimately cost $500,000 and which will include freight warehouses 600 feet long, a magnificent depot and new yards. All of the buildings will be of reinforced concrete and the mission style of architecture has been adopted for the depot. The improvements ordered are designed to make a new modern terminal for the Santa Fe system on the Pacific Coast. The company already has large wharves and it is expected additional tracks will be laid on them.

TARGET PRACTICE.

The target practice of the armored cruisers Colorado and Maryland, which is in progress this week, has not thus far been very satisfactory. With the eight-inch guns, firing at a moving target 7000 yards distant, the Colorado made only two hits out of thirty shots. The Maryland using guns of the same caliber and the 7000-yards range, did rather better, making eight hits out of thirty-one.

The sea was rough during the practice and this fact in large measure explains the poor showing.

Tomorrow there will be practice with the six-inch pinch guns.

TIME BY WIRELESS.

The Naval Observatory's Plan for Regulating Clocks Within a Far-Reaching Radius From Arlington.

[Washington Star:] The Naval Observatory time service, which provides the country east of the Rocky Mountains with standard time by means of a signal at noon each day, except Sundays and holidays, is to be extended to include every day of the year, and in addition a second signal will be made every night at 10 o'clock, seventy-fifth meridian time. The night signal is especially intended to be automatically repeated by the naval radio station at Arlington.

The principal naval radio stations have been repeating the regular noon signals sent out by the Naval Observatory for some years, but the night signal is designed to have a very great radius, reaching remote parts of the Atlantic Ocean, the Gulf of Mexico and the Caribbean Sea, as well as far inland. By this means the radio time service, already so useful to ships at sea, will reach more ships every night, and jewelers and clockmakers in the interior will be enabled to get the time by installing quite inexpensive radio receivers.

How far this interior service will reach is difficult to say, as the range over land is not so great as over water. The Naval Observatory has received information that a jeweler in Kansas City has already been receiving time signals from a station on the Atlantic Coast, so that it may be possible for the powerful Arlington station to assist the jewelers much farther west by giving them Naval Observatory time.

The Pole Star's Stability.

[Christian Herald:] Any clear night look at the Dipper or Great Bear, and in a direct line from the two first stars in the quadrilateral of this constellation measure with the eye about five times the distance between them in a straight line, and you will locate a luminary a little brighter than its neighbors; this is the Pole star. Astronomically speaking, there are no fixed stars; so-called fixed stars are supposed to be the suns of other systems of worlds, themselves performing immense revolutions through the fields of space. However, of all the bodies which scintillate in the starry night, the only one that remains motionless or seems motionless is the Pole star. At any moment of the year, day or night, its station remains unchanged. All other stars, on the contrary, turn in twenty-four hours round it, taken as the center of the mighty vortex. For this reason it is the most important star to navigators in determining their course.

The Master Cake.

[Bakers' Weekly:] A confectioner in Peckham, Rye, Eng., made a cake which when completed with almond paste and sugar icing weighed one and a quarter tons, or 2800 pounds.

This vast cake was not baked in one piece. It was built up of large wedges of cake, each baked separately, and they were built up in eleven tiers on the plan of a bride cake. It occupied six men for a whole baker's day to build the cake and put the sugar icing around it. To make it and bake it five men were busily employed for four days. The almond paste round the cake weighed 800 pounds and the sugar coating or icing weighed 200 pounds.

COMPLIMENTARY BOX LUNCH ON PERRIS IRRIGATED FARMS

The most delightful journey, combining business and pleasure, for homeseekers and investors in the famous farming lands of Perris Valley. Heading out through the city of Riverside, through the green fields and orchards and stopping right in the midst of the Perris Irrigated Farms, so greatly talked about just now.

IF YOU HAVE EVER THOUGHT of securing Perris farm lands before they go entirely beyond your reach, this is your opportunity to carefully inspect them at a merely nominal cost. Perris Irrigated Farms are selling at $150 per acre, and with water rights free, on four years' time. Remember that these lands are not subject to bond issue. They are remarkable producers of fruits, alfalfa and other crops, in an established dairy country, where every climatic condition is necessary.

CHARACTER, OBJECTS AND AIMS.

Distinguishing Features: Independent, uncompromised, unshackled, unpurchasable, unafraid and unincumbered. THE LOS ANGELES TIMES is devoted to the great principles of Liberty under Law, Equal Rights in all fields of lawful human endeavor, Industrial Freedom and to the upbuilding of Los Angeles, the State of California and the great Southwest.

ATTITUDE.

For the country and the flag. For Labor's protection, reward and repose.
For the Constitution and the courts. For punishing dynamiters and all criminals.
For upholding the honor of army and navy. For projection of person, property, business.
For orderly government under law. For the home and its safeguarding.
For fair chance for apprentice boys. For social order and business solidarity.
For unshackled labor, nation-wide. For world-wide peace with honor.
For the just rights of the unorganized many. For an Ocean-to-Ocean highway.

FOR THE OLD CAUSE AND THE OLD STANDARD

And against their allied antagonists.	Against, not organized labor as such, but
Against political fads, freaks and frenzy.	Against its acts when law-defying.
Against the new-fangled judicial recall.	Against enforced idleness, and
Against free trade and free soup.	Against its sure outcome—suffering.
Against union conspiracy and misrule.	Against senseless burdens upon business.
Against the un-American closed shop.	Against the bomb, boycott and blindfold.
Against discrimination and proscription.	Against strikes, picketing and violence.
	Against treason and the red flag.

STOCK LETTER.

[Furnished by Logan & Bryan, Members New York and Boston Stock Exchange, Bradbury Bldg., Los Angeles.

NEW YORK, April 23.—The market drifted aimlessly, consequently price changes, except in the instance of a few specialties, were nominal. The Japanese-California affair commanded some attention, though fears were somewhat mollified by the assertions credited to the Japanese Minister, which in effect were that the likelihood of hostilities growing out of the present controversy was remote. An offering will be made tomorrow of M. K. and T. issues on a 6 per cent. basis and it seems probable that other offerings will follow in such sequence as will not tax unduly the absorptive powers of the investment market. During the past two days liquidation has not been so acute in what has become known as the old line of bonds, that is, those that have been on the market for quite some time, and whose investment yields were not entirely in keeping with the issues put out lately, so, as a whole, there is a little more cheerfulness in the speculative department. As yet, however, there are no strong assurances that long term issues such as the St. Paul general 4½s can be marketed with any degree of confidence. It is believed that the buying side of the stock market presents the greatest attraction for moderate sized purchases.

The Evening Post in its financial review today says: "Trading came almost to a standstill in today's security market, and very little business was done even in the shares which often rule active during a very dull day. Such activity as there was made in the last hour, when Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, Amalgamated Copper and a few other issues made fractional net declines. None of the other great markets showed much activity, the exhilarating at London over Lloyd George's optimistic utterances being somewhat tempered by fears of complications resulting from the fall of Scutari. This moderation, no doubt, reflected also some concern as to just what effect such complications of a coming boom will have upon the money markets of London and Berlin, where bankers have found it necessary to suggest the utmost caution in the use of their own institutions. The fortnightly settlement on the London Stock Exchange disclosed a relatively small amount in American shares. The stock market here closed quiet with many of the standard stocks selling below yesterday. Foreign exchange was a trifle higher for the day. The day's event was of a routine character and Wall street professed itself to be waiting for the decision in the railway firemen's wage arbitration, which was scheduled for announcement at 6 o'clock this evening. The prevalent idea appeared to be that the award would compromise on some points, but would in general favor the employes. The fortnightly settlement statement of 153 railway cars showed an increase of nearly 500 on the side in trade equipment, the first change in that direction since the middle of February, and with the exception of that one fortnight, the first since the opening of November. Last year the idle cars increased 60,000 in the corresponding fortnight. Railway gross and net returns for March began to show the effect of the flood blockade, both in earnings and expenses. The Iron Age gave a somewhat unexpectedly cheerful view of trade conditions, and though admitting the continued unsettlement of iron prices, it suggested causes which may compel the resumption of general buying. Offerings of government bonds in the market showed that some institutions were willing to reduce circulation, while others were disposed to sell securities in order to fortify their cash holdings. The result was that the United States 2s of 1930 were rather heavy, but the rare 3s were more active. Some say that banks in the flood districts south had to borrow city and other bonds here in order to pledge them with the government to secure the public deposits which the Secretary of Treasury is to lodge with depositories in that territory. These rumors were, for the most part, given to the press unofficially, but the bond market is not conducive to operations which will result in tying up for considerable periods large blocks of securities. There was, however, a somewhat better tone to the bond market and it was evident that some public absorption was taking place. The banks' transactions, $200,000 currency, with Francisco and there were indications that some of the western banks were drawing against their New York balances and preparing in other ways to make large advances to customers at home. The banks here charged 5½ per cent. for refinancing paper over night by southern institutions, and while such requests were generally acceded to it was clear that the raising of such advances was somewhat of a tax on the resources of the year. Some large investments were made in time loans running sixty to ninety days and the employment of funds in high grade commercial paper was of a character to enforce the belief that banks in large interior cities were still making liberal advances to mercantile borrowers."

The U. S. Southern will appeal to the Supreme Court from decision requiring change in both freight rates.

May 1st dividend disbursements will be $122,000,000, according to estimates.

The wage demand of conductors and trainmen on fifty-four eastern railroads approximates a 15 per cent. increase.

The pig iron situation shows an improvement with prices firmer, although no increases are reported.

The Democrats will provide for charging the rate of income tax annually, to prevent either deficit or surplus in treasury.

Americans in London were steady, ¼ to ⅜ up.

Twelve industrials decreased .27 per cent. Twenty active rails declined .25 per cent.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

Creamery extras butter was up 3 cents yesterday. The supply has not shown the improvement expected, and the recent rains seem to have done little but afford relief to the dry feed condition of the pastures. It is believed that the range of prices will continue to rise for some time.

Local goods were advanced ½ cent. Receipts were better than they have been for some time, and it is probable that there will be an easy feeling in a day or so. Cheese steady.

Yellow Bermudas continue to come in steadily, and the market was easier yesterday. White war Bermudas are not coming in so freely as the other varieties, and prices continue steady. Wheeler's Wonder is of good quality and supply, and the market shows easier tendencies. Some very fine beans from Imperial Valley were received and sold at 10 to 12 cents a pound. Tomatoes are about cleaned up, and it is not known just when they will be on the market again. Asparagus is arriving in large quantities. The best sold at about 4 cents a pound. Sweets were more plentiful than usual.

Strawberries are improving in quality and supply. The crop this year will, it is predicted, be good. Prices are steady, with an upward tendency. Hawaiian pineapples were somewhat higher. They continue rather scarce, only twenty of the box of Cayenne Triangle are regarded rather as the advance guard of the delicious fruits which will soon be coming on the market in large quantities.

Reported receipts were: Eggs, 1413 cases; butter, 23,451 pounds; cheese, 1048 pounds; potatoes, 1340 sacks.

Prices Current.

Following are jobbing quotations:

EGGS—Fresh ranch, extras, 24½; firsts, 21½; Petaluma Rancho Rosa extras, 21@24; northern, case count, 19@20; pullets, 18. Prices to the trade or for candled stock are 2 to 3 cents higher than these quotations.

BUTTER—Creamery extras, 29 per lb.; country, 21@21½. Prices to the trade are about 3 cents higher than these quotations.

CHEESE—Californ fresh, 13@13½; eastern, 17@18; new, 16; long horns, 14½@17; cheddars, 18@20; Tillamook daisies, 16½@17; Tillamook twins, 15½@16; Tillamook triplets, 15½@17; imported Swiss, 28@30; domestic Swiss block, 20@24; wheel, 20@28; Limburger, 17½@20; Fiskes, 7.00; Steins, 1.00@1.10; Canada, cream, 25@1.10; Roquefort, 30@35; German breakfast, 80@1.00; cream brick, 17@18½. Prices to the trade are about 1@2 cents higher per pound.

They are accompanied ingly good company in-Violet Seaton and, of course, Kolb and Dill beauty chorus. The ments for the Kolb and Dill engagement opens at the Majestic box office this morning.

Morosco's Theater.

But five more performances of the powerful English divorce drama, "A Butterfly on the Wheel," remain at the Morosco Theater and on next Sunday afternoon this fine drama will give way to an elaborate revival of that perennial favorite, "Old Heidelberg."

The chief interest in this big revival centers in the reappearance in this city of the popular leading man, William Desmond, who will make his first appearance with Florence Reed and the members of the Morosco company in the role of the young prince, Karl Heinrich.

Desmond is a very popular actor on the local stock stage. His appearance as leading man of the Morosco company will doubtless be the occasion of a most rousing welcome.

Burbank Theater.

Hayden Talbot's new play, "O, Jee," which was given its first production at the Burbank last Sunday, has been added to greatly by necessary changes demonstrated in its initial presentation, and is now running as smoothly as any older-tried success.

In the meantime, the Burbank players have in rehearsal George M. Cohan's great comedy success, "Get-Rich-Quick-Wallingford," and this delightfully funny story of the typical twentieth century American promoter who organizes a company to promote the manufacture of covered carpet tacks, will be given following the Talbot play.

The Orpheum.

The first new names on the list are Homer B. Mason and Marguerite Keeler, who will offer a farce, "In and Out," which is all that its name implies. It is played first in and then out of the house, and it runs back and fourth between the two in a fashion to complicate matters to the limit. Charles Kellogg, the California naturalist, bird singer and controller of nature's forces, returns for a brief exhibit of his wonderful powers, and Joseph Hart's big spectacle with twenty-five in the cast, "An Opening Night" will be the dramatic feature. This act is in four scenes, and concludes with a new game, "Zim Zam," in which the audience has a large part. The Musikalgirls are five in number, including Estelle Churchill, who is really entitled to go double. She is the champion heavyweight drummer of the universe, and aids in the comedy side of a musical turn which embraces every sort from rags to religious. Mme. Vallecita and her leopards will furnish the thrills; these jungle cats have been trained by her to do many remarkable feats, and the least being their playing of bells while she accompanies them on the piano. They perform in an aluminum cage. Harry Breen is the quickfire song writer; he composes his ditties at sight, taking any subject that the audience may suggest. The Big City Four will have some new numbers. The orchestral concerts and the Edison talking motion pictures will complete the bill.

Empress Theater.

As the headline feature of the new Sullivan & Considine bill, which comes to the Empress Theater next Monday afternoon will be Pattie's diving girls, a company of beautiful young mermaids, who offer one of the most unusual and spectacular acquatic acts that have been seen on a vaudeville stage.

This trio of young women offer their exhibition in a giant glass tank containing 10,000 gallons of water. The second feature of the new bill will be the well known Neil McKinley, a clever singing comedian and exponent of the popular syncopated harmony. This season he appears in a new act called "Raving Just for Fun," in which he has won an even bigger hit than before.

Others on the new bill will be Burns, Armstrong and Fulien in the travesty "A Campus Rehearsal;" Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Caulfield in the new comedy, "The Section Boss;" Stith and Garnier; Paddock and Paddock and the new comedy motion pictures.

Pantages.

The terpsichorean triumphs of Estrellita and the acrobatic thrillers of the Florenz Family that have popularized the week's Pantages show, will be replaced next Monday afternoon by a programme that Manager Carl Waller says is all comedy.

Starting the list with Eva Williams and Joe Tucker in the slang comedy that made them famous, "Skinney's Finish," and their headliner twin, The Four Prevosts in an acrobatic farce, "In a Turkish Bath," the whole show was planned with the distinct purpose of making it a carnival of mirth. Lloyd and Black, Willie Hale and Brother, Leonard and Drake, and Ed Gray are all well-known laughter purveyors. A comedy film has been added, and musical comedy is promised by "Omaha" Mike Rachman and the Five Hoboes.

Mission Play.

"The Mission Play," which is now in its twenty-eighth week, still continues to draw large houses. The distance of nine miles to San Gabriel does not seem to be any drawback; in fact, the ride of about thirty-five minutes is a pleasant outing.

People's Orchestra.

Homer Tourjee, whose song, "The Sweetheart of All My Dreams" is to be given its first public rendition next Sunday afternoon at the People's Orchestra concert, is the son of Eben Tourjee, founder of the New England Conservatory and was for many years connected with the faculty of that institution. Edwin House, baritone, who will interpret the song, is a familiar figure upon concert and recital platforms, and has been heard several times in the Auditorium this winter, although he has not sung with orchestral support during his residence in the city.

The presence of the People's chorus making its second appearance upon the local concert stage will also attract much attention, and the numbers programmed for the 250 voices include not only the beautiful Barcarolle from Offenbach's "Love Tales of Hoffman," but also a repetition of the chorus, "Hail Bright Abode," from Tannhauser, which was sung recently at the first appearance of the chorus.

Y.M.C.A. RELAY BOYS READY FOR BIG GRIND.

With more than 400 boys between the ages of 12 and 18, participating the third annual relay race of the Y.M.C.A. in Southern California, will be held on Saturday. This year the course is to be from Redlands to Los Angeles, via a roundabout route of 182 miles instead of the 250-mile job from Santa Barbara to Redlands as it has been previously run.

The runners are to bear greetings from the Mayor of Redlands to Mayor Alexander of Los Angeles wrapped in a silver tube to be passed from hand to hand as each participant finishes his part of the journey.

Fifty boys from the local Y.M.C.A. will carry the message the last nine miles of the way from Compton to Los Angeles, receiving the tube from the Long Beach runner at that point.

The race will start from Redlands at 4:30 a.m.

Y.M.C.A.'s of three counties and several cities, will have entrants in the affair. The route is from Redlands to San Bernardino, from San Bernardino to Riverside, from there to Rialto, thence to Pomona, on to Lamanda Park, Pasadena, Alhambra, Whittier, Santa Ana, Long Beach, Compton and Los Angeles.

SNAPSHOTS AT STAGE FOLKS.

FIFTEEN PROPOSITIONS MADE MOROSCO IN 'FRISCO.

What Rose Stahl and Digby Bell Were Doing Fifteen Years Ago. Weber and Fields Chorus Goes on Strike—New Play for Valeska Suratt.

BY GARDNER BRADFORD.

What with looking after the interests of "Tik-Tok," addressing the Business Men's Club on advertising and banqueting at Techau Tavern, Oliver Morosco is keeping mighty busy in San Francisco. He wires that he will be home Friday, but expects to return to Frisco Monday.

"I have had fifteen theater propositions made to me during my brief stay," he wires, "and will probably accept one of them."

But with all her blandishments, I'm sure the Bay City won't steal our magnate. Any time Ollie separates himself from his meal ticket—the Burbank—I'll buy.

Yesterday, while pasting some fifteen-year-old programmes in my album, I came across some that are of local interest. In one, I find Rose Stahl, now starring at the Mason, as an insignificant member of William Bonnelli's company.

Also Digby Bell, now at the Orpheum, starring then in "The Hoosier Doctor." Harry Woodruff was playing in "Secret Service," and Trixie Friganza was with "Delmonico's at Six." Otis Harland was featured in "A Black Sheep."

I am all eagerness for the annual trip Gertrude Hoffman, she of Salome fame, makes across the pond. She goes to Paris to learn how much more of her clothing she may discard.

And while on the subject of clothes, what a merry time they are having in New York. The Weber and Fields girls went on a strike because of an edict requiring that they wear practice clothes at rehearsals.

Practice clothes in stage parlance means short ballet skirts and bloomers or pajamas, and are designed to enable the girls to dance without the hindrance of skirts.

So far as the ponies and mediums were concerned, the edict had not the slightest effect, for they have always been willing to stand before the world and reveal their lower limbs.

Not so the show girl. From time immemorial, she has been a proud, haughty creature, never averse to displaying a round neck and alabaster shoulders, but otherwise stingy and frigid.

Never has a show girl been compelled to expose her calves even to stage managers. Hence the indignation at Weber and Fields and the French-heeled walkout.

Yesterday I essayed to interview petite Maria Carlo, who is dancing in "The Rose of Mexico," at the Empress. She speaks only a little English and by the time we had threaded our way into a maze of terpsichorean talk we were completely lost.

Finally the little lady threw her hands in the air exclaiming: "When ze moozeek play, I dance all round and round, but when I try speaks ze Eengleesh, I get all tweest up. I dance wiz ze toungue."

Over the wire comes the news that Sam Dessauer committed suicide yesterday, brooding over the death of his lifelong friend, Cliff Gordon. Older theater-goers will recall in Sam Dessauer the man who produced "The Fatal Wedding" some fifteen years ago.

Cable dispatches say that Rudyard Kipling made his debut as a playwright in London. His first offering is "The Harbor Watch," a transcription of his story "Bonds of Discipline."

Inasmuch as the British critics found the play full of humor, I take it that the piece must be uproariously funny.

Mary Garden is reported to have asked that her special stop an hour at Lake City, Minn., so that she could go fishing. The railroad company firmly but courteously refused, explaining that it would tie up traffic. Mary says that next time she will use some other road.

I'm all upset. Here I am cooped up in Los Angeles, and along comes a warm purple note from Valeska Suratt, telling me that at the Victoria in May, she is going to produce a new play in blank verse, written by George Baldwin, her leading man.

It is called "Black Crepe and Diamonds," and she declares that it is full of gasp-raising material. With a name like that, something is bound to happen.

Everybody dancing.

STATE BOWLERS' MEETING.

Bowlers of the State have approved of the call for a meeting at some central point, probably Fresno, with a preference of an autumn date expressed by some able players who find themselves too busy to prepare for a contest next month. Central California teams have largely listed themselves for the various events comprised in the programme, which will doubtless be postponed as suggested to the managers.

Still at It.

TIGERS HAND "CHAMPS" FINE, LARGE LICKING.

Oaks Field Poorly Behind Olmstead, Who Is Hit Freely in Seventh—Meloan Leads Assault With Two Triples, and Hosp Hammers Out One—Red-headed Battery Again on the Job.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

SPECK HARKNESS and Ralph Kreitz, the only red-headed Tigers in captivity, were back on the job yesterday.

Nuf sed, except the particulars. Score: Venice, 6; Oakland, 2.

Before the thing was over the Oaks looked mightily run down at the heel for a lot of champions, and they didn't have any more fight left in them than a jack rabbit with the cholera morbus.

Henri Olmstead, a dark, mysterious person from Escanaba, Mich., started out to pitch for Oakland, and stuck to it to the bitter end, although there really seemed to be no good reason why he should stay. Olmstead's support gave him a severe headache in the first place, and in the second place he was hit for four runs in the seventh. In that round the Tigers made use of two triples, a couple of ordinary, everyday hits, a walk and a stolen base.

LIKE SWISS CHEESE.

Prior to that, i. e., in the fourth and fifth innings, by a little judicious hitting and by taking advantage of three or four holes in the Oakland defense about the size of the Salton Sea, the Tigers succeeded in accumulating two runs.

Olmstead's backing was as free, open and full of holes as all out of doors. Four of the visitors valorously fought their way into the error column, and three of these were of immense value to the Tigers.

Paul Meloan carried the most potent bludgeon. Pauline began blasting in the fifth, when he tripled to left. Then he proved that he can hit two different ways from the grand stand, by poking a three-bagger way out over Coy's head in the seventh. Hosp, just to be in style, did a little three-bagger on his own account in this lucrative inning.

Olmstead made it a full day's work by "beaning" Johnny Kane on the wrist in the fifth. This hurt Johnny like sixty, and also made him mad enough to steal second. After having committed that justifiable crime Johnny went to look for a doctor and Carlisle went into left field, the accomplished Meloan being shifted to center.

Harkness was hit for a run in the sixth, and was soaked similarly in the eighth, but at all other times he was supreme, invincible and full of vinegar.

A couple of pale, wan hits by Hetling and Ness didn't get the Oaks anything in the second, simply because Speck's backing wouldn't stand for it. Eddie Hallinan's handling of Rohrer's bewhiskered liner in this inning was particularly workmanlike.

The Oaks were somewhat peaky again in the third. With one out Bill Leard walked and swiped second. Bill then got sassy and tried to score from second on Schirm's sacrifice, thereby adding a double play to the Tigers' other achievements.

Oakland was caught nosing around suspiciously in the fourth. With two ditched, Gus Hetling walked. Gus started for second, and Ness hit the ball in the same direction. Some way it got through Hetling's legs without touching them. This so surprised Hosp that he butterfingered the ball and Gus galloped madly to third. Ness stole second without a protest. Harkness here worked out his own salvation by flooring Petey Cook on strikes. Petey got even by hammering in two runs later in the day.

LOU BEST FOULER.

Much of this time the Tigers had been striving for better things, but failing to connect. In the third they glutted the bases on Mr. Olmstead, with two down. At this juncture Henri arose to the occasion and fanned Signor Litschi. But Lou didn't submit until he had fouled eight or ten perfectly good balls out of the lot. If Litschi's batting average could be compiled on the basis of fouls, it would be a poor day when he didn't have an average of at least 2500.

Oakland became philanthropic in the fourth. Hetling picked up Patterson's grounder, and accommodatingly threw the ball into the right field bleachers. This placed Pat on second, and he progressed another peg on Hosp's fly to Coy. Kreitz hit to Cook, and Hamilton came home while Petey was trying to find out what made the ball so slippery.

ANOTHER TIGER TALLY.

Meloan blew the top off the fifth with a mighty wop that almost caused a head-on collision between Messrs. Schirm and Zacher. The ball alighted some little distance beyond them, and rolled thence to the fence for three bases. Olmstead potted Kane with a fast one, and Bayless released Meloan with a fly to Zacher, who wisely conserved his arm by not

"A Sad Story."

SERAPH PEELS SEAL EASILY.

Friars Are Helpless Against Bill Tozer.

Harl Maggert Booms One Over Fence.

Cartwright Figures in Second Angel Run.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It's altogether too much of an effort for the Seals to win two games in a row and with that in mind, perhaps, they were blanked by the Angels this afternoon, the while the southerners were accumulating two runs, one a homer that Harl Maggert put over the fence, and the other due to a couple of singles and Walter Cartwright's error.

So far as the San Franciscans were concerned, it happened to be a case of hitless and speedless. There wasn't much satisfaction in sandwiching in a solitary bingle now and then off "Bill" Tozer, and when the Angel twirler was free with his walks and put the Seals on the bases in spite of themselves, they were about as lifeless a bunch as you might care to watch.

FANNING LUCKY.

Charlie Fanning pitched a fairly good brand of ball for Del Howard's men, but he was far luckier than the score by innings would give you reason to believe, and although one of the southern runs came through an error, there were other times when good backing saved Fanning from a lot of bother. As far as the seventh inning he was continually facing a situation with men on the bases, and it required all of his experience to keep away from danger. Fanning wasn't removed, however, because he was not encountering any further trouble. Being a mighty poor sticker, Johnny Wuhll was used as a substitute sticker in the eighth and Phil Douglass finished out the string.

The damper was put on the San Francisco delegation right off the bat in the second. Without ceremony Maggert laid hard on a good ball and it went over the right field fence. Ivan Howard singled and stole, but Metzger popped to Fanning. Johnson then grounded out to McArdle and Boles held a liner down to Hogan, who was covering first.

The Seals missed fire in the last of the same inning. Hogan rapped into left and was sent to second on Zimmerman's out by way of third. Corhan grounded to Metzger for an out and Hogan was held at second. A moment later when Cartwright hit one toward Page, Hogan tried to score and was caught at the plate, with feet to spare.

THE ANGELS' SECOND.

Although Los Angeles put men on bases in the fifth and sixth, it wasn't until the seventh that they landed their second run. Metzger put the ball to Corhan for an out. Johnson drove to center and although Boles struck out, the southern shortstop went as far as third on Tozer's safe hit toward the clubhouse. Cartwright fumbled with Page's grounder and Johnson completed the circuit. Score:

BEAVERS TAKEN DOWN A PEG BY THE WOLVES.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) April 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Sacramento 5, Portland, 2. Krapp went up in the air today and couldn't do a thing while Drucke and Williams pitched a wonderful game and struck out almost any man at will. Wolverton's presence on the bench instead of on the field didn't hurt the Wolves a bit, in fact maybe it helped for they all worked with a will and had the Beavers on their scalp belt from the start. JOHNSON BLANKS BOSTON; SEVERAL OTHER THRILLS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 23.—Walter Johnson pitched wonderful ball against Boston, shutting out the champions, 6 to 0.

He allowed only two hits, one of which, a Texas leaguer, came in the ninth inning, and gave two bases on balls. Johnson has now pitched twenty-six consecutive innings without being scored on.

Washington scored its runs by hitting Collins hard, among the hits being a double and four triples.

KEATING GIVES THE ATHLETICS A BEATING.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PHILADELPHIA, April 23.—Ray Keating held the home team to three hits this afternoon and New York won, 4 to 0. Keating is the first pitcher to twirl a full nine-inning game against Philadelphia this season. The locals did not get a man past second base, and only three runners reached that station. New York hit safely in every inning except the first, but could score in only three.

TIGERS WALLOPED IN PITCHER'S BATTLE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, April 23.—Chicago defeated Detroit in the final game of the series today, 2 to 1, in a pitchers' battle between White and Hall.

Borton, in four times up, received a base on balls and made two doubles and a single, while Jones, in four times to the plate, drew as many passes.

MATHEWSON GOING STRONG; TRIPLE PLAY AT ST. LOUIS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, April 23.—Christy Mathewson was in superb form today and his fine pitching enabled New York to defeat Philadelphia, 3 to 1. It was the first time this season that one of the three Greater New York teams had won on the home grounds.

Brennan, who started to pitch for Philadelphia, was taken out in the third inning with the bases full and only one out. Chalmers, who succeeded him, struck out Merkle and made Hersog pop to Doolan. Chalmers was very effective, but Merkle hit him for a home run in the eighth. Both teams fielded well, not an error being made.

CUBS AND CINCY BATTLE TO A DRAW.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CINCINNATI, April 23.—Chicago and Cincinnati played to a tie today, the game being called at the end of the ninth inning with the score 5 to 5. It had been agreed that the game should be called at 5 o'clock to allow Cincinnati to catch a train, but play continued a few minutes after that hour to permit the last half of the ninth to be finished.

Cincinnati tied the score in the ninth inning when Bates knocked out a home run, bringing in a runner ahead of him.

Chicago appeared to have the game won in the fifth inning when five runs were scored on six hits. Cincinnati, however, scored one each in the seventh and eighth and two in the ninth. Each team used three pitchers.

DODGERS DO SOME VERY TIMELY HITTING.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON, April 23.—Brooklyn did some timely batting today, and aided by errors, defeated Boston 7 to 2. Rucker held the locals scoreless until the ninth inning, when a pass and four successive singles netted two runs. Hummel drove the ball into the center field bleachers in the third inning, sending Cutshaw around ahead of him. The fielding of Wheat and a one-hand catch of a liner over his head by Connelly were features.

MORRIS DOWNS BELMONT.

ST. LOUIS, April 23.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Carl Morris, Oklahoma heavyweight, knocked out Kingdon Belmont of St. Louis in the third round of their scheduled eight-round bout here last night.

The local fighter was floored in the first round for a count of nine. In the second round Morris floored his man twice and in the third round Belmont went down three times before he was counted out.

NIKRENT IN CASE HURT IN RACE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) April 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Struck in the head by a flying stone in the last race on the programme at the fair grounds this afternoon, Joe Nikrent, driver of the new Case Indianapolis racer, lost consciousness and consequent control of his machine. Hurled into the ditch, the car turned turtle and painfully injured the California speed demon.

Nikrent was rushed in a private car to the Santa Rosa Hospital, and the report late tonight is that he is conscious although suffering from a number of cuts in the head and a twisted back. Whether he is internally injured is not yet known although physicians stated tonight that his injuries are apparently not serious.

A.A.U. TITLE MEET SETTLED.

Second Championship to Be Held July 12.

Pacific Conference Clash Gives South No Chance.

Many Stars to Compete in the Title Event.

BY OWEN R. BIRD.

There are still two important track and field events to be staged on the Pacific Coast this year, before the outdoor season comes to a close. The first is the Pacific Coast intercollegiate conference meet, which will be held at the University of California May 31, followed two months later by the national all-around A.A.U. championship, which is to be held in Los Angeles July 12.

In regard to the intercollegiate conference meet at Berkeley, it looks as though Stanford has about the best chance of winning the crown. The Cardinal team is a wonderful aggregation this season, and it is not very likely that we run across a bunch of stars all in one university of this kind.

Such stars will count in this meet, for with so many institutions in the race, a few points is all that will be necessary to carry off the first honor. Of course, California, Stanford, Oregon and all the other northern colleges are going to have strong teams, while the University of Southern California is to be represented by a small squad.

NO CHANCE FOR SOUTH.

The Trojan men will not have a chance to do more than get honorable mention in the meet, as the squad is "all shot to pieces" after the rough hard and trying season, just finished.

Captain Liston Smith, Fred Kelly and several others are going to make the trip north is going to run the half instead of the mile, as he claims that this is his race more than the longer distance. Kelly will only be entered in the hurdle event, in order to allow him to make a record.

The Cards are apt to be so many entries in each event that heats will be run off in each race, which naturally will eliminate any of the contestants who enter in more than one event, unless he is made of iron or something like that and few of them are.

The meet, is the one that is going to give the California Bears a chance to get back at the Stanford men, for the close beating that they handed out in the recent intercollegiate dual meet, and all the blue and gold warriors are straining every nerve to make good.

A.A.U. TITLE MEET.

Speaking of the National A.A.U. meet, to say that this is easily the biggest event of the national amateur athletic year is putting it very mildly. It is the one event of this nature that the athletic followers of Uncle Sam's young men and women look forward to as the event of the year. We are to see Ralph Craig, Fred Thomson and Alma Richardson in action over the short sprint route, which tries every muscle in the splendid bodies put to the test.

The all-around championship means that the athletes must compete in ten events during the same week, and be judged as to record and general ability. They run the dashes, distances, hurdles, put the shot, the fifty-six-pound weight, pole vault and end up with the five-mile walk. It generally gives one something to think about after the young giants at work in the field of fame. The white race, and the American manhood, always plays a few points in the public eye, and these affairs close.

The new President J. B. Franklin of the A.A.U. appointed the meet, and that is to have the meet in charge the following are to serve: Dr. A. Simons, R. S. Weaver, R. Dr. Warren B. Bovard, Owen Wallace L. Robb, Dean B. Dr. E. C. Beach and H.

POCKET BILLIARD TOURNEY CLOSING.

Next in the schedule of the world's pocket billiard tournament the contests are moving toward the finish, Ives having beaten Scholz by 500 to 45, and Pennell by 100 to 45. Ives won from Barnes by 500 to 6, Beatus and Greer are to play. Scores stand:

Ives won 6, lost 0; Scholz, won 3, lost 4; Beatus, won 2, lost 3; Pennell, won 1, lost 4.

NEW A. A. U. IS FORMED.

The committee appointed by the local branch of the A.A.U. has just returned from a tour of Riverside and San Bernardino counties. The trip was a great success, and a lively new organization was formed as a result of the work of H. H. Eling and Warren Bovard.

In San Bernardino, Fred Johnson, former graduate manager of Occidental College, was put in charge. Johnson is very enthusiastic over the outlook and says he feels sure that the new body will be of material aid to amateur athletics in general.

Physical Director Glover of the Riverside Y.M.C.A. was put in charge of matters in Riverside and the surrounding country. He also sees a great future for the body in that section. A track meet is already being planned for the cities of this district, so no time was lost in getting into active work. Director Duncan of the Redlands Y.M.C.A. is another who is going to the bat. These commissioners are going to get two representatives from each town, thus forming a full-fledged organization.

WIREGRAPHS.

Two matches were made in New York yesterday. Soldier Kearns, who recently knocked out Jack Geyer of Denver, was matched to meet Tim Logan, a tough young gentleman who gave Boer Rodel a hard scrap in the preliminary to the Gunboat Smith-Bombardier Wells scrap. Luddy Boudill, another of the French scrappers, will try his hand on Billy Hart in the main event of the Polo Athletic Club show. Both men are middleweights.

Luther McCarty is at last to have a fight. Manager Billy McCarney has come to the conclusion that he can't get the $15,000 he asked to fight Gunboat Smith, and therefore has accepted the terms of Tommy Burns for a fight with the winner of the Carl Morris-Arthur Pelky scrap on May 1. The match will be over the twenty-round route.

Salt Lake City is about to get on the map again as a center for athletics. President Kirby of the A.A.U. has announced that a new branch of the association will very likely be formed of Idaho, Montana, Utah and Colorado and thus put that section of the country on the athletics map again.

Thomas H. Williams, Jr., of California, president of the California Jockey Club, is in Chicago and had something to say anent the revival of racing in the West. He said that if it should be revived it would be conducted on different lines. He hoped that there would be racing between thoroughbreds with proper restrictions placed on the betting. He said that a plan would soon be worked out by which racing could be resumed in the great horse-breeding States.

KILLEEN SAVES THE DAY FOR SAN DIEGO TEAM.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, April 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The feature of the second game of the series between San Diego and Pasadena, played at Athletic Park this afternoon, was the splendid work of Killeen, who, with three men on bases, took Townsley's place in the box and retired the other side without a run. Townsley, during the four innings he held the mound, did some pretty work, retiring seven men on strikes, but at times he was exceedingly wild. Tico, Adams and Edwards each getting a base on being hit by a pitched ball.

Leighinger was the hero of the batting squad, evoking a tremendous burst of enthusiasm with a clean two-bagger. Altogether the game was a great improvement on that of yesterday.

Base hits ..	0	0	1	0	1	0	1	0	1	—4
Base hits ..	1	1	1	0	0	2	2	0	*	—7

Batteries — Siegel and Edwards; Killeen, Townsley and Gleason.

WRESTLERS MATCHED.

Tony Ajax, the Lithuanian wrestler, has been matched with Dan McLeod, the wrestling instructor of the Los Angeles Athletic Club. The match is to take place the night of May 27 at the Athletic Club. The articles permit all holds except the strangle and the toe hold. Charles Eyton is to referee. Pin falls only are to count and a ten-minute rest is to be allowed between falls. Harry Burns is managing Ajax.

At the Ringside.

JOHNNIES TRY HARD PUNCHES.

Both Featherweights Hitting Hard.

Fred Welsh Says Joe Rivers Dodges Him.

Coulon Will Take Another Summer Off.

Another training partner has respectfully withdrawn for repairs from Kilbane's training camp. This time it is his manager, Jimmy Dunn, who was all but knocked out Tuesday.

When Johnny Dundee and Johnny Kilbane meet, everyone thought it was to be a battle of cream puffs and fanciful boxing. From the work that has been going on at the two training camps one would judge that somebody's head is due to be knocked off. Everything but murder in the first degree happens to the sparring partners every day.

Kilbane has had his hands insured for $25,000, but it would be a safe bet that he couldn't succeed in insuring his training partners.

The champion is anxious to wipe from his record the suspicion that he is nothing but a fidgetty boxer. "I am going to show the public," he says, "that I can stand toe to toe with any featherweight in the ring and slug like Jim Flynn."

Harry Pollok, in a letter from New York, complains that Joe Rivers has made a running dive over the footlights into vaudeville in order to avoid meeting Freddie Welsh. Pollok says that when Welsh returned to America all the lightweights were yelling for a chance at him. When he promptly cancelled all his stage dates to give them a chance they all beat it for the brush.

A news dispatch from Chicago last night stated that Johnny Coulon has decided to dodge Kid Williams for another summer. With engaging candor the bantamweight champion says that, "I am not going to come out of a six months' retirement and give Williams a chance to crack me on the jaw before I learn whether or not I can still box. If, after trying out some of the second-raters, I find I am as good as ever, I will give him another chance. I won't be rushed into a meeting with him; he is too tough."

Monte Attell and Cal Delaney will be matched for the semi-wind-up of the Mandot-Anderson scrap. Monte hasn't been seen in action here since he lost the bantamweight championship to Frankie Conley at Vernon.

T. Walsh wires that Joe Mandot will be "in your grand little city on Monday." Mandot's object in coming to the aforesaid g.l.c. is to fight Bud Anderson, who has been making orations to the inhabitants of the grand little city of Medford, Or., about winning the lightweight championship.

Mandot will be a hard proposition for a boy as green as Bud. Although not the fastest or cleverest, Mandot probably is the foxiest boxer in the ring.

Word comes from New York that Al Palzer has returned from Europe feeling in no better health than when he left here.

OCCIDENTAL IS SURPRISED.

South Pasadena Nearly Wins From Tigers—Dick Crawford Provides the Thrills.

Occidental was handed a neat little surprise package yesterday afternoon by the ball team from South Pasadena High School. With the score 3 to 1 against them in the ninth inning the High School lads took a brace and, with the aid of a little comedy fielding on the part of Crawford, set the score at 4 to 3 in their favor before they quit.

In the last half of the ninth, and two men down, Crawford picked up his mighty willow and slammed out his second home run of the afternoon, tying the score. The collegians played ragged ball throughout, and gave Walk rather poor support. Coach White of South Pasadena twirled the last three innings for his team. The Tigers are to play the Los Angeles High School team Friday afternoon.

TEN CALIFORNIA MEN TO MAKE EASTERN TRIP.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BERKELEY (Cal.) April 23.—Ten athletes from the University of California will enter the track and field meet of the Amateur Athletic Association to be held in the Harvard stadium May 31. California's entry was assured today when a campaign among the undergraduates resulted in raising $1500.

Among those sure of places on the team are Karl Shattuck, holder of the intercollegiate world's record for the hammer throw; Earle Cribbe, who is good for two miles in 9m., 54s.; Fred Allen, who can jump 23ft. 4in.; Eddie Beeson, who clears the bar at 6ft. 3in., and is a competent hurdler. Shattuck's new record is 175ft. 10in.

James Howling Wolf and Henry Miller are after the scalp of Albert Ray, the Pima Indian who won The Times' Marathon.

They have issued a challenge to Ray for a match over The Times' Marathon course. Youngdeer, the moving picture man, has offered to back them for $500 against Ray.

They are Carlisle graduates and have competed in various marathons in New York, Boston and other eastern cities. They resent the imputation that Southwest Indians can run better than the northern tribes and are willing to make a test of prowess. Both, at present, are working with Youngdeer's company at Orange.

THE BOXERS.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 23.—[Special Dispatch.] Phil McGovern, brother of the famous retired fighter, Terry McGovern, will engage in another bout on next Saturday night. He was signed up today to meet Mike Rosen, the bantamweight of Jersey City, for ten rounds at the Irving Athletic Club of Brooklyn.

George Rodel, the Boer heavyweight, will figure in another bout on Tuesday evening, April 29. His opponent in this scrap will be Sailor Fritts of Brooklyn, who has knocked out several fighters in contests at the Brooklyn clubs.

Frankie Burns, the Jersey City bantamweight, who recently returned from California, where he lost a decision to Eddie Campi in a twenty-round bout, was matched today by Frank Quinn of the Brown Gym to meet Kid Herman for ten rounds on Saturday night.

Luther McCarty has accepted terms to go to Calgary to fight the winner of the Pelky-Morris fight on May 24.

Senator Patrick Campbell, father of the Illinois Boxing Bill, will stage three days of boxing matches for the purpose of showing the members of the Legislature what boxing is like. Packy McFarland will be of the contestants.

Jimmy Clabby, who is to meet McGoorty at Denver May 2, states that he will never fight another man who weighs more than 158 ringside. He is allowing McGoorty to weigh several hours before the fight.

Harlem Tommy Murphy is coming to California to live. Since his departure from New York a baby girl has arrived in his family.

GATE CITY MEN TRIM LONG BEACH COLTS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN BERNARDINO, April 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An easy victory over Durham's Long Beach Colts was hammered out this afternoon by Eddie Householder's Cubs, the feature of the contest easily being the slabwork of Elmer Hansen for the home team, who is credited with ten strike-outs.

The former truck driver kept the lid on at every turn, the Long Beach stickmen being unable to find him. Timely hitting by Householder's boys and a couple of rank errors by the Long Beach infield also helped to produce the one-sided score.

Durham withstood the local sluggers for three innings, when he removed himself from the box and substituted Markham, who did but little better, his twisters being pounded all over the field. The score:

	R.	H.	E.
San Bernardino	9	12	1
Long Beach	2	5	6

Batteries—Hansen and Tortes; Durham, Markham and McCormick.

BEARS TRIM STANFORD IN FIRST TENNIS GAME.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BERKELEY, April 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The first match of the California-Stanford tennis tournament was played on the Blue and Gold courts today. In the doubles Breck and Breeden had little trouble in downing Hasson and Sloss of Stanford. The Cardinal racquet wielders were entirely outclassed and the Berkeley boys took three straight games. Score: 6-3, 6-2, 6-4.

Sheldon of Stanford developed a game wrist during his match with Capt. Rogers of California. He was leading at the time by a score of 5-3, but lost the first set by a score of 7-5, the match was postponed at the conclusion of the set and unless Sheldon can get into condition tomorrow, Rogers will win by default.

HOWDY SPECIAL OFF TO RACES.

Bakersfield Track Meet Calls Many Local Fans.

Tetzlaff and Oldfield Matched in Fierce Duel.

Train de Luxe, Private Coach on Schedule.

BY BERT C. SMITH.

One of the largest delegations of automobile fans that has ever been gathered in Los Angeles will leave this city tomorrow night for the Bakersfield track races. On a special train, which will carry one private car, the sports will journey to the oil center, leaving here at 8:30 o'clock and arriving at Bakersfield Saturday morning.

Leon T. Shettler, chairman of the San Francisco Road Race Committee, has charge of the "Howdy Special" and reservations are being snapped up greedily and there is not much more room available. The spirit with which the local lads have taken hold of this race is a guarantee of what may be expected for the intercity speed battle on July 4. The Los Angeles men are planning to make the Bakersfield meet a great affair.

Attorney E. E. Hewlett has chartered a private car and will enjoy the race with a bunch of his own invited guests. Pasadena millionaires, some of whom have entered cars, Leroy Armstrong will start his six-cylinder Napier with Frank Verbeck at the wheel and he has hopes of defeating the best there is in the free-for-all.

The performance of the Napier at Owensmouth leads many to expect the car which Armstrong owns to make a great showing. The Napier holds many records made on the Brooklands two-mile track in England, and the Bakersfield track is just the course that will lend itself especially to the needs of this fast car.

There is a possibility that Reginald Guernon, who is associated with Attorney Hewlett in several important deals, will make the trip to Bakersfield. Guernon is a great Fiat booster and believes there is no car that has a chance when the 120-horse-power Fiat is started. Reggie may be able to take in the races and if so will be one of the strongest boosters in the Fiat camp.

There is a full card of events for the Bakersfield battle. The races should be close as each is filled and the track will hold some of the fastest cars and several of our world-record-breaking drivers. The course is fast. It is has just been finished at great expense and the meet should be spectacular as the men of Bakersfield are trying to make this a memorable race.

DRURY-CRITES.

W. E. Drury is one of the men of Kern county who has taken a keen interest in the automobile racing. He is a booster for the Los Angeles-San Francisco race and expects to help raise a large purse at Bakersfield for the intercity drivers. Drury has taken a special part in the work of drumming up interest in the big track and, with Angus Crites, has "gone to the bat" in earnest and thanks to the efforts of these men the race is certain to be a winner.

Teddy Tetzlaff reached the track yesterday. The supplies for the big Fiat racer were sent over the San Francisquito Canyon in a big Lewis truck which was loaded down with everything necessary for the big battle. Tetzlaff will meet Barney Oldfield. This should be enough to insure a crowd and the race is to be for blood. Teddy expects to win. Perhaps he will, but according to Walter Hempel, manager for Oldfield, his protege has more than an even chance of taking first honors.

Barney is anxious to wipe out the defeat at Owensmouth when Tetzlaff in a 120-horse-power Fiat decisively defeated Oldfield in a seventy-horse-power car of the same make. The speed king would like to show his friends that he is still in the winning class and he has invited his friend, Jack Kipper, to make the trip in order to watch him win.

The races are scheduled to start at 2:30 o'clock, Saturday afternoon, and from the second the starting gun is fired until the last car crosses the tape action is promised. The cars can be watched every foot of the distance around the course. The grand stand is large enough to hold many thousands of spectators.

COUNTRY CLUB GOSSIP.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

SAN GABRIEL is going to have a thoroughly jolly invitation golf tournament. The entries have just been rolling in this week and visitors from the surrounding country clubs have been practicing over the links daily.

There will be a large contingent from the Los Angeles Country Club, including most of the stars. Norman Macbeth, beautiful champion; Roger D. Lapham (they really must not call him "the boy wonder," he is much too superior for that!) Dashing Frank Edwards, Judge Frederickson, honest John Wilson, modest George Schneider, sensitive L. T. Bradford, debonnair Nat Wilshire, reckless K. K. Parrott, and dimpled Edward Tufts—what a sumptuous list, it leaves one quite breathless.

E. S. Armstrong from the Midwick Country Club (alas, poor Annandale!) has promised to be there, and, of course, there will be an interesting contingent from Anandale, too.

Then there is the Redlands team, who come to play their match against San Gabriel on Saturday and remain for the tournament—at least Raymond Hornby, Morris Phillips and E. J. Williams, will remain, for certain.

The Riverside team is also coming—their match is due on Sunday—and we understand it is to include Harry Patree, who thinks great thoughts; Martin Chase, who has such a thrilling smile; E. N. Hillegas, who has been winning tournaments and things lately; Robert Osburn, without whom the team would hardly seem right; Frank D. Hudson, such a nice young man, and possibly Dr. Howe and Theodore Hewitt.

Most of them will stay over for the tournament and, of course, the San Gabriel members themselves are supporting their own tournament with proper enthusiasm. Many a golfer who has never entered a tournament before, is going to pocket his scare and come in.

The qualifying round may be played on either Saturday or Sunday, which is a comfortable lure, and match play arrangements during the week will be equally facile.

The Los Angeles Country Club.

There won't be very much golf at Beverly on Saturday because most of the players will be at San Gabriel, but the social side will not be neglected and the carbaret dinner will be a feature of the evening. Previous cabaret dinners, followed by the dance, have proved such an indisputable success, that a crowded evening is assured. Even if that seductive word "cabaret" does raise expectations in the European traveller's breast, that will never, never be fulfilled, still it enhances the fun of the evening.

The Professionals.

There has been an effort to arrange some professional exhibition matches at the San Gabriel Country Club to take place during the coming tournament but owing to the team matches at the week-end, it has been found difficult. Unless such matches could take place on a Saturday or Sunday they would not have a very large gallery, yet these days are at present rather brimful of events.

All the same, our professionals ought to have more opportunities of showing their skill. A series of exhibition matches should prove very popular when a convenient time can be arranged. So far no particular club has felt like putting up the prizes, but that should not be an obstacle and it would be a very simple matter to open a fund for such a purpose to which all clubs could contribute. The matches could then be played at each club in turn and should prove both interesting and instructive.

Ernest Martin of the Los Angeles Country Club, and Arthur Rigby of San Gabriel, are both very fine players whose light certainly should not be allowed to shine for long.

George Peebles, now at the Midwick, but formerly of the Annandale Club, and Hanley of Annandale; Hutton Martin, at the Los Angeles, and Joseph Martin at the Virginia, complete a strong sextette, and both Redlands and Riverside have first-class professionals in George Lawson and William Locke.

Professional matches and tournaments are an important feature in almost every other district, and certainly in England and Scotland, the professional matches are regarded as the most important side of the game. Perchance we may be harboring a Vardon, or a Ray, a Braid or a Taylor in our very midst, but we are never likely to find it out under present conditions.

WHERE TO FISH.

The following reports of fishing at beaches and mountain resorts have been received by Dyas-Cline Company and compiled by Al. Reed:

Matilija Hot Springs—About fifty limits caught here this week.

Camp Rincon (San Gabriel River)—Fishing has been good here this week. Streams are getting lower and fishing conditions getting better all the time. Good catches made here all week.

Camp Bonita (San Gabriel)—J. H. Crowder and party got two limits in two days. C. H. Shipley, two limits. H. W. Hall and party, two days' good fishing. Limits both days. All averaged good size.

Henley's Camp (Seepe)—Fishing fine here the past week. The limit has been brought into camp every day. E. Hazzard and party got the limit. Mr. and Mrs. T. Kelley and party get two limits.

Orcutt, Cal.—Twenty miles east of Santa Maria, on Sisquoc River. Party of ten were out two days. Caught the limit in two hours, both days. Average six to eight inches. A few ten and twelve inches.

Lathrop's Camp (Seepe)—Fishing is good here, but fish run rather small. Any experienced angler can get the limit any time they go out.

Long Beach—Some yellowtail and barracuda being caught from boats. Fishing not good from the pier as yet.

Playa del Rey—Yellow fin and halibut rather plentiful.

Anaheim Landing—Perch fairly plentiful. A few yellowfin caught this week. Halibut fairly good.

Alamitos Bay—Yellowfin, surf, perch, herring, halibut, fairly plentiful.

BRITTON AND MOORE ON THE BLACK LIST.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PHILADELPHIA, April 23.—Director Porter of the department of public safety issued an order today that "Jack" Britton, the Chicago lightweight pugilist, and "Pal" Moore, a local boxer, shall be barred from appearing in boxing matches in this city in the future.

The order was issued following a report from a police official that a bout in which these two boxers engaged at a fight club on Monday night was a fake and that those who paid to witness the contest were cheated out of their money.

MIDDLES START WORK.

DENVER (Colo.) April 23.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Jimmy Clabby of Milwaukee, who reached Denver yesterday, and Eddie McGoorty of Oshkosh began training today for their ten-round bout here on May 2. The boys are to make 158 pounds at 6 o'clock the evening of the fight.

There is nothing in Goodrich Advertising that isn't in Goodrich Tires

Goodrich Safety Treads

The tread that makes the brake effective

When your car starts to skid, and you know you are helpless, it is a mighty unpleasant feeling.

Also an unnecessary one.

Put Goodrich Safety Tread Tires on your car. Then you can steer it where you want it to go, and it will go there. And you can stop it where you want it to stop.

Whether the skid is caused by mud, water, slime, slush, snow, grease, the five fingers of the Goodrich Safety Tread—five thick, tough rubber fingers—stop it before it begins.

That's the only safe way to avoid a skid.

That's why Goodrich Safety Treads are best in the short stop.

These five thick, tough rubber fingers act just like your own five fingers would. They get a human handgrip on the roadway, and they push the mud and ooze away so that the path is safe for the wheel.

And they take hold of the road all the time.

They are there for constant service, not merely to come into play when there is a slip or a slide.

Goodrich Safety Tread Tires are unit molded just as all Goodrich Tires are. The thick, tough rubber tread and the layers of fine fabric and pure rubber in the body are literally molded into a unit in the Goodrich single vulcanization. All the life and durability and safety are secured for you in them.

THE WEATHER.

U.S. WEATHER BUREAU, Los Angeles, April 23.—[Reported by Ford A. Carpenter, Forecaster.] At 5 o'clock a.m. the barometer reduced to sea level was 30.08. Thermometer for the last twenty hours showed 58 deg. and 66 deg. Relative humidity: 5 a.m., 82 per cent.; 5 p.m., 62 per cent. Total rainfall, 5 a.m. to 5 p.m., .00 inch. Wind: 5 a.m., northeast, velocity 4 miles; 5 p.m., northwest, velocity 8 miles. Highest temperature, 70 degrees. Rainfall for season, 11.79 inches.

GENERAL CONDITIONS.—The western and eastern storms now control the weather conditions over the Pacific and Atlantic coasts. The depression between these storms is central over Minnesota and caused precipitation throughout Montana, Wyoming, the Dakotas, Colorado and Texas. Dodge City, Kan., reports the greatest rainfall, 3.42 inches. The only area of low pressure is noticed in generally fair weather as far west as Southern California. The cold high area is moving slowly eastward and is giving indications to the freezing point and below as far south as Texas. Oregon, Nevada, Montana, Northern Idaho, Colorado and Texas. Dodge City, Kan., reports the greatest rainfall, 3.42 inches. The only area of low pressure is noticed in generally fair weather as far west as Southern California. The cold high area is moving slowly eastward and is giving indications to the freezing point and below as far south as Texas. Oregon, Nevada, Montana, Northern Idaho, Colorado and Texas. The temperature at Winnemucca is 10 degrees below freezing. Aside from intervals of cloudiness, the weather will be generally fair in Los Angeles and vicinity.

ERMATH OF MAYOR'S ACT.

S CASTING ABOUT FOR MEN TO FILL VACANCIES.

Says Will Have Names Ready to Present at Next Session of Council for Po00ose on Public Utilities Commission—Rice and McReynolds on Probabilities List.

While presiding over the weekly session of the Police Commission yesterday forenoon the Mayor received from the City Clerk the official notice of the City Council's action on Tuesday in confirming the removal of Frederick Freeman Wheeler as a member of the Public Utilities Commission.

The Mayor at once retired to his private office, dictated a letter to Wheeler inclosing a copy of this Council record, and sent these at once to the office of the Utilities Board, where Wheeler was waiting for official notice of his decapitation. Wheeler at once gathered his personal belongings and closed his desk, leaving at noon the office where he has served as member and president for the major portion of a year, eight months of this time giving his services during full office hours without pay.

The regular session of the Utilities Board was scheduled for yesterday afternoon, and Commissioner Eckins, the lone remaining member, presided, approved the minutes and handled various public matters.

Much interest has been manifested in the question as to who will be the successor to Wheeler, and who will take the place recently vacated on this commission by Thomas Foulkes. This was a general topic of conversation at the City Hall.

The Mayor stated yesterday that he had not come to a decision as to what names he will send to the Council, but declared that he would have two names in readiness to submit at the next regular session of the Council, on Tuesday. During the day he had a constant stream of callers, and among them were several of the Councilmen with suggestions to make.

The Mayor said last night that the salary attached to the presidency of the Utilities Board is evidently attractive, and that at last he had found a vacancy in his official family where it was possible to learn of men willing to serve.

Among the names that the Mayor has under consideration are those of L. J. Rice and O. O. McReynolds. These two may be selected from among the various names that have been suggested.

Rice lives at No. 618 West Avenue 50, Highland Park. He is a retired banker, and has been operating in real estate. He has had business experience in various lines, and has been a resident of Los Angeles about ten years. McReynolds is a civil engineer, residing at Tenth and Francisco streets. For twenty-five years he was engaged in civil engineering in Colorado and other Western States, and he has been a resident of this city for several years.

The names of F. V. Owen and George McDill are among those who have also "been mentioned," but the Mayor stated last night that he was not giving them consideration. McDill is a member of the Police Commission, where the Mayor desires to hold him, and is also a candidate for the City Council.

The Mayor will have several of the Councilmen in conference today, and it is probable a programme will be decided upon, so that there may be clear sailing when the nominations are made to the Council next Tuesday.

DISBURSING AGENT.

NEW SYSTEM PROPOSED.

Commissioner Johnson of the Board of Public Works introduced a resolution yesterday looking to the employment of a disbursing agent for the various departments under its jurisdiction as a means of saving the time of employees. This resolution was adopted by the board and will result in a conference on the subject between it and the City Treasurer and Auditor to work out the details of the proposed system.

The resolution provides that for the betterment of the service of all departments under the jurisdiction of this board, relative to daily and monthly time records, and the payment of wages to employees and the safeguarding of the city's interest. It is felt that a new system should be instituted; that certain elements of safety must be considered in connection with timekeeping, employment records and the proper identification of employees to whom wages are due, and that this should be accomplished by employing standard business practice. That the present system of allowing employees to leave their work on pay day and go to the City Hall to receive wages due be discontinued, and that they receive such wages at the hands of a paymaster or disbursing agent in person, as it is felt that the time saved in this manner would be largely in excess of the expense of the disbursing agent; that the systems used at present in the bureaus of the Los Angeles aqueduct and Los Angeles aqueduct power relative to emuployment records, pay rolls, pay checks and payment be recommended and instituted, and that owing to the experience of the present disbursing agent, L. E. Moselle, he be used as such paymaster; that a committee composed of the Board of Public Works, the City Treasurer and City Auditor canvass the situation, with the end in view of instituting the above, and it is deemed necessary to make a trial of such pay roll disbursements under the present system on May 1, with the end in view of ascertaining the saving to the city in time of employees by such procedure.

ervice: City Hall, Courts

COMFORT STATION

WILL BE STARTED SOON.

Instructions to proceed at once with the building of a public comfort station at Ninth and Main streets will be given the building department by the Council, if the recommendations of the Supply Committee are followed.

Although there was $10,000 appropriated in the budget for this purpose, the question has been held in abeyance by the Supply Committee pending a decision as to whether the park department or the building department should handle the work. At a meeting of the committee yesterday it was agreed by Councilmen Betkouski, Langdon and McKenzie that the work could be done to better advantage under the direction of J. J. Backus, chief building inspector. It is expected the station will cost more than the amount allowed, probably $13,000.

In addition to the comfort station proper, which will be entirely below the surface, there will be a raised platform above the street level equipped with a balustrade and seats for the convenience of those who are waiting to take the street cars. Stairs will lead from this platform to the rooms underground. There will be no roof to the transfer station, but the railing and ornamental lights are so arranged as to present an attractive appearance, according to the plans.

AS SALOON OWNERS,

SUSPECTS THE BREWERIES.

The Mayor stated at yesterday's session of the Police Commission that he was convinced the breweries of this city are getting hold of saloon licenses, but admitted that the commission seemed unable to check this situation.

This remark was called forth when the application of Bossio & Fannucchi for a transfer of the saloon permit of Antonio P. Save was taken up. This had been carried over, as the commission was not satisfied with the invoice previously presented. The sum of $5662.20 is given as the value of the property.

Save said he wanted to get out of the saloon business as his wife objected to his being in it. He had signed the usual form consenting to a revocation of his retail liquor permit, and the Mayor declared that this situation could be met easily by the commission simply revoking his license, for which he had signed his consent, and that it would then take up at its leisure the issuance of the new permit asked for by Bossio & Fannucchi. Save at once took alarm and declared that he would withdraw his consent to a cancellation. The case was continued for another week.

Action on Liquor Permits.

The Police Commission yesterday granted a transfer of the saloon permit of Segile & Segile at No. 220 North Main street to Crevolin & Nuccio. A transfer was granted of the saloon of Walker Swanson from No. 908 East Fifth street to No. 829 South Spring street. The restaurant liquor permit of Albert W. Metz for No. 117 East First street was transferred to Harry A. Godin. The commission denied the application of Joseph R. Jelek to move his saloon from No. 437 North Los Angeles street to No. 627 Kohler street, as this is just off of Seventh street, a closed district.

Will Ask for Hearing.

The Harbor Commission decided yesterday to ask for a public hearing before the Board of Engineers at Washington upon the need of additional government work on the Los Angeles Harbor, and instructed Secretary Matson to prepare the necessary evidence to be introduced at such hearing. Congressman Stephens will be asked to attend the hearing and present these arguments. It is probable they will be seconded by similar arguments presented on behalf of the Chamber of Commerce and other organizations.

Will Make Proposition.

Martin C. Marsh's request that the city purchase the sprinkling wagons now in use and owned by him was taken up by the Supply Committee yesterday, but at Marsh's suggestion action was postponed a week to give him time to formulate a new proposition.

Fire Engines Accepted.

The Supply Committee of the Council yesterday decided to recommend the acceptance of the two new Gorham pumping fire engines. One will be placed in the new fire house on Western avenue and the other in the Highland Park section.

City Hall Brevities.

Almost as rapidly as the applications could be read, the Police Commission yesterday voted unanimously to deny three of this sort for permits to practice palmistry. The commission has taken the position that it will grant no more permits of this character. Mary Sophia, Mary Lee and Ethel Thompson were the applicants. Two of the women were persistent, even after the votes had been taken, and insisted that the board was doing them an injustice.

The sale of absinthe by holders of liquor permits will hereafter be cause for the revocation of such permits. So the Police Commission decided yesterday, when it instructed the City Prosecutor to prepare the resolution covering this ground.

The recommendations of Chief of Police Sebastian that the juvenile probation officer, chief jailor, property clerk, license inspector and investigator be given the rank of sergeants was approved by the Police Commission yesterday.

The Harbor Commission instructed its special counsel yesterday to draft the ordinance offering for sale three ferry franchises at the harbor; one to operate from Wilmington to Fifth street, San Pedro; another to operate between San Pedro and the breakwater, and the third for the route between Wilmington and Terminal Island.

Wesley Clark and S. Tilden Norton filed a petition yesterday asking the City Council to begin proceedings for the asphalt paving of Eleventh street from Alvarado to Hoover, Hoover to Tenth street and Tenth west to Vermont avenue, and that this be under the ten-year bond act.

The Board of Public Works gave its approval yesterday to the specifications for the four engines and forty cars needed for the razing of Timms Point and will at once advertise for bids, which will be opened in thirty days.

The Los Angeles Railway Corporation notified the Public Utilities Commission yesterday that on Monday it put into effect a new schedule for the Eagle Rock Valley division, giving a ten-minute car service in the mornings, a twenty-minute service during the day and an eight-minute service during the rush hours of the evening.

The supply committee of the City Council found yesterday that the lowest bids received for the building of the clubhouse on the Violet-street public playgrounds was $1130 above the appropriation. The commitee decided to recommend the entire subject of buildings at playgrounds to the Budget Committee and that appropriations now waiting be returned to the reserve fund.

At the Courthouse.

STILL HIS WIFE, YET UNWILLINGLY

WOMAN IN QUANDARY BECAUSE OF DECREE'S DENIAL.

Accused by Her Husband She Does Not Care to Live With Him Yet Cannot Enjoy Society Freely. Court Thinks Husband Is Jealous. Other Legal Cases.

Mrs. Jessie O. Barnard of North Fair Oaks avenue left the divorce court yesterday afternoon in a quandary. Judge Monroe had denied her a decree on the ground of cruelty. Likewise he had turned down the cross-complaint of the husband, James M. Barnard, who linked his wife's name with that of E. S. Domingues, a border at the Barnard home.

Mrs. Barnard's quandary arose from the fact that she was still Barnard's wife and, of course, this handicapped her from the enjoyment of society to which her youthful years entitled her. She did not propose to live with him, but being his wife he had certain espionage over her. She was also angry because her husband had charged her with misconduct.

Unfortunately for Mrs. Barnard her only corroborative evidence was that of Dominguez. It looked to the court as though Barnard was jealous. He also found a disparity of seventeen years in the ages of husband and wife. In disposing of the case, however, he gave the custody of the 5-year-old boy to Mrs. Barnard.

The glamor of a soldier's uniform was responsible for the marriage. Barnard had just returned from the Philippines. His adventures and the uniform paved the way for the marriage. After that, Mrs. Barnard said, their domestic life was not altogether happy. It became turbulent after Dominguez became a boarder.

Mrs. Barnard's explanation was plausible. She was making a pincushion. Dominguez admired it and offered her $1 if she would duplicate it for him. She delivered it at his room one night. Barnard saw her at the door, ordered her into her room and threatened both. Mrs. Barnard later left her husband.

STILL ASKS BALANCE.

HALL OF RECORDS SUIT.

The suit of Carl Leonardt against the county to recover $30,000, the balance of the contract price of $603,000 for the construction of the Hall of Records, will be tried before Judge Bledsoe of San Bernardino who will come here Tuesday. The trial is set for three days, but may take longer in view of the legal question involved.

Leonardt contends that he was authorized by the Board of Supervisors to substitute baked enamel for the copper trimmings. The board refused to pay him for the baked enamel, claiming it was inferior to the copper. The question which promises to consume considerable time in argument to the court is whether the board had the legal right to change the specifications.

The county claims that the terms of the contract were not carried out. The question of values may also enter into the trial. The battery of lawyers engaged in the suit include Meserve and Borden for Leonardt, and Hanna, Hill and Anderson for the county.

SUFFRAGE QUESTION.

DENIES HER RESIDENCE.

The right of Mrs. Clara Baldwin Stocker, daughter of the late E. J. (Lucky) Baldwin, to vote at the recall election called at Arcadia May 12, was questioned yesterday when H. Franke asked the court to cancel her registration. The ground is that neither Mrs. Stocker nor her husband, Harry R. Stocker, intend to establish a residence at Arcadia. It is alleged that they have not resided within the precinct the required time.

Franke had previously asked the court to cancel the registration of about forty men who, he alleges, are employed as laborers on the Baldwin estate and who, it is claimed, have been colonized for the purpose of voting at the recall Trustees Petitions are aimed at Trustees Parker and Unruh, the latter executor of the Baldwin will.

CONTRACT IS VOID.

DENIES HIM RECOMPENSE.

Lee Chamberlain bought foundry stock from U. G. Augustine. According to the evidence as it came out at the trial before Judge Finlayson, Augustine agreed not to start up a rival business within three years. If he did become a competitor he agreed to pay Chamberlain $5000.

It was shown that Augustine did engage in a competitive business within the time stated, and Chamberlain brought suit to recover the $5000. Augustine contested the action. Judge Finlayson held yesterday that the contract is void under section 1613 of the Civil Code, and that, therefore, Chamberlain cannot recover. There was no negative or express contract to engage in a rival business, although the effect was that if he did Augustine was to pay Chamberlain $5000.

Attorney Salisbury, who represented Chamberlain, will appeal from the judgment.

WOMAN'S ALLEGATION.

THIRTY YEARS IN FEAR?

If Mrs. Emma L. de Long, a divine healer, can substantiate her statement that she lived with Prof. Freeman D. de Long thirty years in fear of her life and, owing to his habitual intoxication and cruelty, was forced to leave him, there may be a different termination to the case than that of yesterday. Judge Monroe held there was lack of corroboration on the ground of cruelty, and the case went off calendar.

Mrs. de Long declared that she had been born a divine healer. She endeavored to make a healer of her husband, and exhibited one of his cards to show that he styles himself a magnetic healer. She has practiced divine healing fifteen years.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

SCHOOL GIRL SUIT. For pulling the ears of Doris H. Eccleston so hard that her hearing was impaired, the parents of Stella Roseberg must pay $450 damages, the amount of the judgment given by Judge Wellborn yesterday, after hearing the evidence in the school-yard episode. Doris, aged 9 years, brought suit against Stella, 14 years old, for $20,000. She alleged Stella interfered while she was swinging on the May pole at the grammar school on Avenue Sixty-two, June 9, 1911.

WORTHY OF PROBATION. The children of Mrs. Franc Gale Franklin were restored to her by Judge Wilbur yesterday. A former marriage with the son of Banker L. D. Gale of New York, resulted unhappily. Gale divorced his wife and sought to recover possession of the children.

Pending an investigation of the fitness of the mother to have custody of them, the court last January, placed the children, Laura, aged 8, and De Witt, 6 years old, with Mrs. Ella Williams of No. 3339 Jeffries avenue. Subsequently Mrs. Gale married Bari Franklin. He had proved a friend in need. Yesterday they appeared in the Juvenile Court and with the children dancing at their sides, left for their home, No. 120 Witmer street.

GETS HEAVY DAMAGES. Half of the $30,000 damages asked for by Miss Warima Starck for injuries received, was awarded by a jury in Judge Wood's court yesterday. Miss Starck gave her testimony from a wheel chair. She was struck by a Pacific Electric car on Sunset boulevard September 30, 1912, and sustained serious injuries to her right foot and knee. Attorney Drake, counsel for Miss Starck, made an impassioned address to the jury, who looked at him and the invalid in the wheel-chair.

THEIR NEW BABY. Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Gross have taken a chubby 18-month'old boy into their home at No. 501 South Johnston avenue. Konkn as Baby Bunting, the little lad has been provided with a temporary home by the court, with Mrs. Margaret Miller on Morgan avenue. He was turned over to Gross by Judge Wilbur yesterday and adeption papers will be filed in the name of Frank Gross, the baby's future cognomen.

HE NEVER CAME BACK. Mrs. Irene R. Paredes was deserted by her husband, Jose A., who it was stated, went to Mexico to fight and failed to return. She told Judge Monroe yesterday that her husband refused to allow her to accompany him to Mazatlan where he owned a place, and although she had written him several letters no answer was returned. The decree was granted on the ground of desertion.

MANY NEW CITIZENS. The naturalization class yesterday numbered forty-seven, England furnishing the largest quota of applicants, with Russia and Germany running neck and neck. There were forty-one admitted and two applicants were denied, and three petitions dismissed.

WOMAN DIES ON STREET.

Suddenly Stricken, a Pedestrian Dies of Heart Failure—Has not Been Identified.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PASADENA, April 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A woman about 50 years old, who late last night had not been identified, died suddenly on the sidewalk on Euclid avenue, near Villa street about nine o'clock last night. Her death is thought to have been due to heart failure or some other natural cause. Police Surgeon A. D. S. McCoy, who was summoned, notified the Coroner, who will investigate today.

Some pedestrians came upon the unknown woman leaning against a tree groaning and notified the police. She died before Dr. McCoy reached the place. The body was taken to the morgue of Ives and Warren.

The dead woman was plainly dressed and nothing either of value or that will give any clue as to who she was, was found on her person. She was five feet, eight inches tall, weight about 175 pounds, had sandy hair, tinged with gray and wore a brown skirt and waist and a plaid cape.

Drs. SHORES, Specialists

Drs. A. J. and G. W. Shores have spent years in the study and treatment of Chronic and Nervous Diseases of Men, Women and Children. They have treated over 100,000 in the past twenty years—an experience rarely ever granted any specialists—and have gleaned therefrom information that is invaluable to sick people. Every moment is given to the treatment of CATARRH, CHRONIC and NERVOUS DISEASES EXCLUSIVELY. There is where they excel and there is where they can serve you better than most any one else. Don't be a permanent invalid; get cured now.

Drs. Shores know what causes Catarrh. They know how to cure it. They know what causes Stomach Trouble. They know how to CURE it, instead of merely relieving it. They have studied the Liver, the Kidneys, the Ears, the Throat and the Lungs, and they know what to do for these troubles.

CATARRH, DEAFNESS AND EAR NOISES.

Why not try the treatment that cures? We have published many testimonials from well known and reliable people, who have been cured of Catarrh, Asthma, Deafness and Ear Noises. If you suffer from any Chronic Ailments, why not come and see the Doctors who cure? Call or write.

Blight of a Bad Breath.

Do people shun you because you have an offensive breath? Certain forms of catarrh, commonly called "ozena" or dry catarrh, have a very offensive odor.

KIDNEY AND LIVER

Troubles, Sallow Complexion, Pain in Back, Burning or Smarting when urinating, Puffiness under the Eyes, Head these warnings. Bring a sample of urine and have it tested free. Call Today.

PROMINENT SYMPTOMS OF CATARRH

THE HEAD AND THROAT.

This form of catarrh is most common, resulting from neglected colds. Quickly cured with little cost by Drs. Shores & Shores' famous treatment.

Is your head stopped up?
Does your nose discharge?
Is your nose sore and tender?
Is there pain in front of the head?
Is your throat dry in the morning?
Do you sleep with your mouth open?

You can be easily cured now. Don't let it run into complications.

THE BRONCHIAL TUBES.

When catarrh of the head or throat is neglected or wrongfully treated it extends down the windpipe in the bronchial tubes, and after a while attacks the lungs.

Have you a cough?
Do you take cold easily?
Have you a pain in the side?
Do you raise frothy materials?
Do you spit up little cheesy lumps?
Do you feel like you were growing weaker?

Don't risk neglecting these warnings—stop the disease before it reaches the lungs.

OF THE EARS.

Catarrh extends from the throat along the eustachian tubes into the ears, causing partial or complete deafness.

Is your hearing failing?
Do your ears discharge? Do they ring?
Is the wax drying in your ears?
Do you hear better on some days?
Does a cold make your hearing worse?
Don't neglect this until your hearing is irreparably destroyed.

OF THE STOMACH.

Catarrh of the stomach is usually caused by swallowing poisonous mucus which drops down from the head and throat at night.

Are you constipated?
Is there nausea?
Do you belch up gas?
Do you bloat up after eating?
Is there constant bad taste?

Now is the time to be permanently cured. Drs. Shores are curing hundreds every year.

TO EXTEND TIME FOR REPAYMENT.

Reclamation Settlers in Arizona Relieved.

Maricopa County Expending Big Sums in Roads.

Disaster in Miami Mine Takes Five Lives.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) April 19.—From Washington have been received copies of a bill introduced by Senator M. A. Smith of Arizona providing for an extension of the time for repayment to the government of the cost of the various reclamation projects. At present the law reads that repayment must be made in ten annual installments. The Smith bill authorizes the Secretary of Interior to enter into a supplemental contract providing for the repayment of the cost of the Salt River project in twenty annual installments, and extending this same privilege to land owners within the Yuma and any other irrigation project in which the cost may exceed the original estimate as made by the Reclamation Service, or in which other circumstances may exist that, in his discretion shall be a sufficient reason for granting the same. In the bill is also provided "that this act shall not be construed so as to prevent any further investigation and ascertainment of actual and necessary cost of said project or projects."

AUTO CLUB RESUSCITATED.

The Maricopa Automobile Club has been resuscitated and again is becoming active in the cause of good roads. The State has made provision for the building of highways across Arizona for transcontinental travel, but it is being urged also that keen necessity exists for a better road connecting Northern and Southern Arizona. Such a road would be especially valuable to the residents of the southern part of the State in securing rapid transportation to a cooler district and to such scenic wonders as the Grand Canyon of the Colorado. So the local club has passed resolutions to this effect and has ordered copies of them sent to the Legislature, to the Governor, all Arizona commercial organizations and to the press.

MARICOPA IMPROVES ROADS.

The county of Maricopa is preparing to expend nearly $25,000 in construction of a new three-mile stretch of road westward toward Phoenix from the northern end of the new State bridge across Salt River at Tempe. The new road will pass through the proposed National Cactus Park and will be of large scenic value.

Already planned by local autoists are tours to the Grand Canyon and to San Diego. The former tour was made last summer by a score of cars in one party and it is expected that the coast run will have at least thirty machines, which are to start about July 1. Arizona automobile owners visiting the Coast have heretofore found much pleasure denied them through failure to take their machines with them.

Arizona is to be represented at the next meeting of the National Good Roads Federation to be held in Birmingham, Ala., April 24 and 25. Dell M. Potter of Clifton will be at the head of the delegation and from Phoenix will go Lin D. Orme, a county Supervisor.

L. C. HILL ELECTED.

At the annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic in Arizona, just closed in Phoenix, L. C. Hill of Tucson was elected Department Commander. A. J. Sampson of Phoenix will remain in office as Assistant Adjutant General. The next meeting is to be in Phoenix next April. The encampment passed a resolution favoring the erection within the State of a monument "to honor the memory of Spartan mothers, wives and sisters of the men who fought for the preservation of the Union, and to whose self-denial and encouragement the success of the army of the North was in a large measure due." At the campfire feast spread after the final official session, loud applause was given mention of the name of Gen. Robert E. Lee.

OPEN HOME FOR GIRLS.

Volunteers of America Establish Boarding Institution for Young Women Who Work—Cheap Rates.

A boarding-home for young women, established by the Volunteers of America at No. 451 South Boyle avenue, will be opened with a reception tomorrow afternoon. The receiving hours will will be from 3 o'clock p.m. to 9p.m. The general public has been invited.

The property used by the new institution was the old home of Andrew Chaffey. It was purchased by the Volunteers with the assistance of Newman Essick, vice-president of the Traders' Bank and a member of the advisory board of the Volunteers. The home is attractively situated, overlooking Hollenbeck Park.

It is announced that the institution will afford a Christian home for working girls with rates of $2.50 to $4.00 a week for room and board, washing and sewing facilities included. Girls earning more than $10 a week will not be admitted, as the purpose is to provide ordinary comforts and wholsome food at a nominal figure to young women compelled to work on limited salaries. Young women out of employment or temporarily embarrassed through sickness or lack of funds will be received. Special attention will be given to young girls coming to Los Angeles from the surrounding towns in search of employment, who are without relatives or friends in the city. The home will accommodate about forty girls. A wing is to be added to the present building as soon as more room is needed. The present board will be Mrs. Newman Essick, R. Newberry, Mrs. Kevin, Mrs. Irvin R. Bancroft and D. R. Moote.

GROWTH OF ROCK

Great Masses Are to be Added to the Marsh Lands of Louisiana to Southern Alabama.

[Popular Science Monthly.] An entirely new method of formation or growth of rock has been discovered. Rock no longer occurs in thin extended sheets, layers or huge lumps, sometimes with vertical and horizontal ters approximately even the masses we wish to see the attention of the not have to go to see these marvels. They speak, right at home, encysted in the walls of the later geological formations our Gulf Coast, from Louisiana to Southern Alabama. all are immediately border, to be sure, but are but a few score of line. All have the conception of the lands of Southern Louisiana. Intricate system of set here and there with live oaks giving the old-time great apple meadow, when viewed vantage ground. There in these lands are great mounds 100 or more feet in height or more in diameter, from a great distance at once as being ordinary, surely from common method of cumdenudation.
